B.C. Premier Holds Key To Columbia

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The federal government is concerned that false hopes for a quick solution to problems in the way of Columbia River development may be building up in the public mind.

Spokesmen here view with some alarm the easy optimism expressed last week by B.C. Premier Bennett when he announced he would be meeting with Prime Minister Pearson on June 3—next Monday—to talk about the Columbia project.

The Liberal administration feels that Mr. Bennett is the key to the achievement of success in clearing away roadblocks confronting the big development.

He can lend considerable weight to his own optimism, reliable informants say, but only if he agrees to the federal government's prescription for a cure of Columbia ills.

This means he, or a responsible officer of his government, must agree in writing to the Liberal plan for Columbia development—all the way from arrangements for sale of downstream benefits to details of their timing.

Unless the B.C. government does this, the Pearson government will consider its hands tied in any future negotiations with the U.S. for revision of the Canada-U.S. Columbia River development Treaty.

He will inform Mr. Bennett that Ottawa expects that, if and when negotiations between the two governments reach a successful conclusion, that a formal agreement will have to be signed by both parties.

It was through lack of such an agreement that the Columbia treaty between Canada and the U.S. foundered—the Diefenbaker government, without the official agreement of B.C., owner of the water resources, did not really have full jurisdiction to conclude the treaty.

Because of the division between Ottawa and B.C., the U.S. was placed in an advantageous bargaining position, tenuous bargaining position, changes in the treaty.

Mr. Pearson undoubtedly will counter by outlining his government's feelings about the downstream benefit question, and on the need for specific changes in the treaty.

TORIES 'CLOSE TO BANKRUPTCY,' SAYS PAPER

Diefenbaker in Disfavor?

MONTREAL (CP)—The Gazette says the Progressive Conservative party soon may seek a new national leader to succeed John Diefenbaker.

The newspaper says in a story from Ottawa that it has learned plans have been made to hold the party's annual meeting in January and delegates "will participate in decisions bearing on the future of the party."

"Should the annual meeting endorse the project, this would be followed with a minimum of delay by a full leadership convention."

The story says the big question mark is the intention of Mr. Diefenbaker.

"Influential backers of the plan, convinced that a change in leadership is essential, are mildly hopeful that Mr. Diefenbaker will retire gracefully to the sidelines to make room for a successor."

"Indeed, it is an open secret that many Conservative MPs elected to this Parliament had expected that he would announce his retirement shortly after the close of a valiant campaign which postponed the disintegration of the party and contributed handsomely to the election of 96 Conservatives."

The newspaper says the party is "close to bankruptcy" and "given the present state of confidence in the party's leadership by businessmen large and small there is little chance that the party's war chest can be filled to a respectable level in the foreseeable future."

It adds that supporters of a leadership change have not settled on a successor.

It says Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba is "an obvious possibility" but also mentions former finance minister Donald Fleming; David Fulton, former justice minister who now leads the Conservatives in British Columbia; former transport minister Leon Balcer; Premier John Roberts of Ontario and Egan Chambers, national president of the party.

Swiftsure Not So Sure To Be Swift

By MONTE ROBERTS

Huddled together in the Inner Harbor tonight, 71 sailboats will present a brilliant picture to the thousands of spectators expected at the traditional Swiftsure Eve ceremonies which preface the ocean yacht racing classic, scheduled for a 9:30 a.m. start Saturday.

And it is highly likely all 71 skippers will huddle together, too, chanting in unison: "Say it ain't so, Bill Mackie."

Not even the skippers of the smallest Swiftsure contenders like the weekend forecast which official weatherman Mackie reluctantly produced today, as part of his special Swiftsure service.

Today's early winds are expected to die tonight, he says. Winds at starting time Saturday will be in the 10-15-mile-per-hour range, from the south-east (not too bad), increasing in the afternoon to 25-mile westerlies (good, good!), then falling off Saturday night and most of Sunday to very light (ugh).

"If only once," sighed Mr. Mackie in editorial comment, "we could have a straightforward, easy forecast Swiftsure weekend, with lots and lots of winds."

So say all, but, barring a dead calm, 63 AA, A, BB, and B class yachts will be off and (hopefully) running at the 9:30 starting gun, after warnings guns, 9:20 and 9:25.

They'll be followed at 9:45 by eight little C Class boats, ranging in size from 25 to 30 feet, who will conduct their own, shorter race, to Clallam Bay and return—still a test of open ocean racing and a challenge to sailing skill.

All classes will cross a starting line drawn between Brothie Ledge, off the Ogden Point breakwater, and the official starting vessel, to the southeast.

The bigger boats will race 68 miles outward to round the frigate HMCS Beacon Hill, anchored above Swiftsure shoals, then sail 68.2 miles to the finish line, between the CNR docks at Ogden Point and McLaughlin Point.

Time limit is 50 hours. If no boat finishes within that time, first boat to reach the Beacon Hill will be adjudged winner in each class.

Trophies are: Overall winner of Swiftsure on time allowance basis, Swiftsure; first boat home, City of Victoria; Class A, B.C. Cement Co.; Class A, lower rating, T. Eaton Co.; Class BB, Seattle Yacht Club; Class B, Royal Vancouver Yacht Club; Class C, San Juan Trophy.

Ray Corbett, district admissions supervisor, told Chan that the permit, granting a 12-month extension on a visitor's visa, would be sent him when it arrives from Ottawa.

It was Chan's first encounter with immigration men since hiding 3½ years ago to escape a deportation order. The meeting took only a minute.

India Wants Planes
LONDON (Reuters)—India is seeking bombers from the United States and Britain as part of requested arms aid for defence against Communist China, a top Indian defence official said today.

Mister Bennett jumped into th' Peace by himself, but he wants Mister Pearson in th' Columbia with him.

Pope Suffers Relapse, Near Death

Pontiff Receives Extreme Unction

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican officials said tonight at 1:10 PDT that the death of Pope John XXIII is imminent.

By BENNETT M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A sudden relapse put Pope John XXIII near death today.

Roman Catholic prelates administered the communion viaticum and extreme unction, the sacraments for persons in danger of dying.

Vatican sources said the Pope was suffering pain and was having difficulty with his speech.

A press office announcement at 6:45 p.m. (10:45 a.m., PDT) said there had been a further deterioration in the Pope's condition from that of earlier in the day.

As his condition worsened, a Vatican source said, the Pope prayed to himself.

One of the Pope's doctors, Piero Mazzoni of Rome, was quoted as saying: "It can be a matter of hours—or of days."

That pronouncement was relayed to reporters by Raimondo Manzini, director of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, after an afternoon visit to the sickroom. Manzini was in tears.

"The pope is grave, very grave," the Vatican radio announced. "The new crisis is most grave."

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of the world's 500,000,000 Roman Catholics, who had appeared to be making a strong comeback from a near-fatal crisis Tuesday, was reported failing rapidly.

It was a situation that he has regarded serenely.

"Don't worry too much about me," he told his chief physician Professor Antonio Gasbarrini, on Gasbarrini's departure Thursday for his home in Bologna. "The bags are packed and I am ready, in fact very ready, to go."

Gasbarrini was recalled from Bologna to assist physicians already on the scene when the emergency developed today.

There was an unconfirmed report that an oxygen tent had been set up for the Pope.

Some rumors circulated in Rome that the Pope had died shortly after noon. These were denied at the Vatican press office. It said he was alive, but "very bad."

Afterwards, Manzini revealed, the Pope's secretary of state, Amleto Cardinal Ciccognani, entered the bedroom.

Belgian-born Bishop Pierre van Lierde, the Pope's sacristan and vicar-general for Vatican City, then administered extreme unction.

The Vatican press office earlier disclosed that the Pope had actually asked for extreme unction two days ago, saying: "Let us not hide the gravity of the facts."

But he was rallying then and it was not given.

Manzini said the Pope followed the rite today, and then asked Msgr. Cavagna to remain with him.

The editor added that the Pope repeated to Msgr. Cavagna his statement of last Tuesday in which he offered his life for his ecumenical council, the church and peace.

Referring specifically to the council, Manzini said, the Pope spoke of the council fathers and said he was sure the council work would be concluded.

At 9 a.m., with the Pope still feeling pain, his Rome surgeon Pietro Valdoni, was summoned to the Vatican.

Valdoni had been called in during every papal crisis, personally supervising transfusions of blood rushed from the Rome blood bank at the city's Polyclinic Hospital.

Manzini said Valdoni "ascertained an increased gravity in the Pope's condition."

The newspaper director said the Pope was informed and asked to receive extreme unction. This indicated the Pope was conscious.

Manzini said Msgr. Giuseppe Cavagna, a member of the papal household, then administered the viaticum, communion given to one in danger of death. Viaticum means "preparation for a journey."

All unions except the white collar workers have agreed to support the strike, which threatened to slow public transportation to a crawl.

Unions promised to keep skeleton crews manning utilities, hospitals, long distance telephones, airport control towers and other essential installations.

The strike began at midnight after a day of violence in which federal police used tear gas and high pressure water on about 12,000 marching workers. Half-a-dozen demonstrators were reported slightly injured.

Mr. Douglas said he suspects Canada eventually will be asked to station offensive missiles in this country, on the theory that the anti-bomber Bomarc is useless and the continent can be defended only by ICBMs capable of knocking out missile bases in Russia.

Mr. Douglas and other opposition spokesmen were full of questions they said they will want answered in the committee. In fact, the questions flowed so freely that the resolution still had not been passed when the day's debate ended at the 10 p.m. EDT adjournment.

PHILADELPHIA SETTLES PART OF RACE ROW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Agreement has been reached settling the racial dispute over alleged job discrimination on public school projects. It was learned today.

As the negotiators worked in a downtown hotel, however, police and pickets clashed in the area of a $6,000,000 school construction project. At least 20 persons, including eight policemen, were reported injured.

The fighting started when police escorted some 80 to 100 workers into the school construction project.

MIKE ON SUGAR

Provinces Must Take Action

OTTAWA (CP)—Peacetime price control is a provincial matter before the powers of the federal Parliament, Prime Minister Pearson said today under Commons questioning about sugar-price increases.

Mr. Pearson said that persons desiring controls on sugar prices should get in touch with their provincial governments.

Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp said he believes the current international sugar agreement—which he helped establish—lacks protection for the consumer against price fluctuations.

The Canadian government is prepared to attempt to rectify this, he said.

The government was bombarded with a series of questions about sugar prices as the Commons sitting opened.

QUESTIONED BY DOUGLAS

Leader T. C. Douglas of the New Democrats asked the prime minister what steps had been taken to "prevent profiteering at the expense of the consumers."

Mr. Pearson repeated the Thursday statement by Mr. Sharp that Canadian sugar supplies are normal and are expected to remain so.

No evidence has arisen, he said, of any price increase due to a sugar combine or a monopoly. The cause for increases was the high world price.

There was a general world shortage of sugar.

Argentina Violence Followed by Strike

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—After riotous demonstrations, Peronist labor unions launched a 24-hour general strike today to press for government action to ease unemployment.

The strike, aimed at paralyzing the troubled country, was called by the 2,500,000-member General Confederation of Labor to climax a week of protest.

The confederation is dominated by followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now in exile in Spain.

ICBMs TO FOLLOW BOMARC WARHEADS?

Tommy Knew His Gun Was Loaded

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—Will nuclear warheads on the Bomarc be simply the wedge for later establishment of American ICBM bases on Canadian soil?

New Democratic Party

Leader T. C. Douglas posed this politically-loaded question in the Commons Thursday night as the House debated Prime Minister Pearson's motion to set up an all-party defence committee.

He quoted the former army chief of staff, Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, as saying that the real reason for Bomarc nuclear warheads is to establish the principle of U.S. nuclear bases in Canada.

Mr. Douglas said he suspects Canada eventually will be asked to station offensive missiles in this country, on the theory that the anti-bomber Bomarc is useless and the continent can be defended only by ICBMs capable of knocking out missile bases in Russia.

Mr. Douglas and other opposition spokesmen were full of questions they said they will want answered in the committee. In fact, the questions flowed so freely that the resolution still had not been passed when the day's debate ended at the 10 p.m. EDT adjournment.

BOSTON—The hitchhiking sailor could hardly believe his eyes when a big blue Cadillac stopped to pick him up.

He was even more startled when he hopped into the car and recognized the woman sitting alone in the back seat. She was Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the President.

Mrs. Kennedy was en route to Fort Banks for a Memorial Day ceremony during which a street was to be named for her son, Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., who was killed in action in 1944. She told her chauffeur to offer the sailor a ride when she saw him hitchhiking in east Boston.

"He told me he was on leave from his ship and wanted to see some relatives," she said.

When they arrived in Winthrop the sailor waved, grinned and left. Mrs. Kennedy refused to disclose his name since hitchhiking is against navy regulations.

CHATHAM, Ont.—Rather than impose a fine which he doubted could be paid, Magistrate I. B. Craig sentenced 70-year-old Charles Alderton to wreck what's left of his car.

Alderton had been charged with driving an unsafe vehicle. His car had no brakes, no tail light, three smooth tires and a fourth worn to the cords, wheels that were short one bolt each, a hood wired in place, loose steering, a cracked windshield, defective doors and a dead battery.

"Just so no one gets to use it again," the magistrate said.

And unless Tinker Bell, a 10-week-old leopard, learns to sleep in a cage, Miss Spades' marriage to Frank Michelberger is off.

Tinker Bell only likes to sleep with her master.

"I like the little stinker," Patricia said, "but I'm darned if it's going to sleep in our bed." Michelberger didn't enlighten reporters as to his next move.

LONDON—Princess Alexandra and her husband, Angus Ogilvy, got a hot reception on their return home Thursday from their honeymoon in Spain.

A fire in a refrigerator brought firemen and police on the run to the Ogilvy residence. Authorities said there was little damage.

WEST LOS ANGELES—Two additional bouquets were placed on the crypt of Marilyn Monroe today beside the red roses kept there at all times by her ex-husband Joe DiMaggio.

Both were in remembrance of the star's birthday which will be Saturday.

One bouquet was from DiMaggio, who has had roses placed at the crypt three times a week since the actress' death last August.

The second bouquet was placed there at the request of Kay Carr, 12, of Deerfield, Ill., who never saw Miss Monroe except on the screen. The young girl sent $2 to the Memorial Park for the bouquet. A secretary, Mrs. Patricia Madden, added some money of her own and bought the flowers.

'TEDIOUS AND DATED'

Sparse Audience Sees Floradora at Festival

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

VANCOUVER—The trouble with tying a festival to a national theme is that it imposes arbitrary limitations on top of those which already exist for a number of other reasons.

Such limitations can spell trouble and may well do so for the Vancouver International Festival.

Second-night of the festival saw a second premiere; the revived and supposedly freshened version of that confection of England's gay nineties, "Floradora."

Presumably it was felt that a musical comedy was necessary to the festival program and the musical comedy had to be British.

But the British theatre has produced little of note in that media in the twentieth century and it was obvious, Thursday night, that the 1899 musical should have been left to repose in the lavender-scented memory of another generation. A sparse audience attended in the Queen Elizabeth Theatre.

Early publicity blurbs had announced the production as a genre piece in a lavish new mounting.

But despite some bright scenery and pretty good costumes, light and lively musical direction by Met assistant conductor Richard Wollach and appealing choreography by Nellie Fisher, most of the show was tedious and just plain dated.

WORKMANLIKE DIRECTION

Mayor Moore's direction was workmanlike and had one or two flashes of genuine invention but it presented nothing particularly memorable. Most likely, to be fair, he found little to inspire him in the insipid and jingly material.

QUEBEC DELEGATES UNLOAD BOMBSHELL

Mayors 'Swing' on Legal Sweeps

TORONTO (CP)—A lively debate over legal lotteries and sweepstakes shaped up for today's session of the annual conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

The conference resolution committee is on record opposing a national or provincial lottery but a majority of the 30 Quebec delegates indicated Thursday they favor the idea. Support for their stand was offered by delegates from Ontario and Prince Edward Island.

Reeve Albert Campbell of Scarborough, Ont., said the issue will be thrown open to the general membership. "This could be quite a free-swinging affair," Quebec delegates decided to support a motion by Arvida, Que., asking that Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier take steps to amend the Criminal Code to permit either national lotteries or allow individual provinces to have them.

Mayor Dudley Kerr of Mount Royal, Que., said he strongly supports a national lottery. "Our money is now being poured into the Irish sweepstakes and it should be kept in this country," he said.

Alan Scott, president of the Ontario division of the Urban Development Institute, warned delegates that provincial and municipal governments are increasing public housing costs by forcing private enterprise out of low-income housing.

Speaking in a panel discussion, he said it is high time that "instead of giving lip service to the principles of home ownership for all, provincial legislatures and municipal governments created the right atmosphere for private enterprise to provide housing for low-income groups."

D. B. Menzies, commissioner of the city of Edmonton, said Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation should exert stricter control on the ratio between serviced land costs and the prices of houses built on it. High land costs had resulted in builders erecting houses meeting bare minimum CMHC standards.

In a business session, delegates agreed that employable welfare recipients should be put to work in return for allowances.

The decision was in accord with the view of Canada's 10 premiers who last August endorsed the principle that able persons should work for welfare payments.

In another resolution, the federation described federal grants for hospital construction of $2,000 a bed as inadequate and urged increases.

achieving treaty conditions it otherwise could not have won, had Canada spoken with one voice.

Granting that B.C. and Ottawa may now, at last, reach agreement and find common ground on the downstream benefit question which caused a federal-B.C. split, there still is no smooth sailing ahead.

For then Canada will have to go back to the U.S. and negotiate for substantial changes in the treaty. When Mr. Pearson met at Hyannis Port with President Kennedy early in May, their communiqué made only vague references to changes in the Columbia scheme.

Well-informed sources here, however, say that despite the lack of significance indicated by the Hyannis Port communiqué reference to the Columbia, Canada still will seek some major changes.

The Pearson government hopes these changes can be brought about merely through an exchange of protocols or through some means short of a new reference of the treaty to the U.S. Senate, which already has ratified the treaty.

According to these sources the hope may not be realized. Exact details as to just what changes Canada is seeking are not available yet, but it is understood they will be major and possibly will require Senate approval.

It has been learned, for instance, that the new thinking in Ottawa is for changing the sequence of dam construction, putting the Mica Creek project ahead of the High Arrow dam; for providing more time for the construction of dams involved; payment, in some way, of a higher price for the flood control benefits created for the U.S. by Canadian storage of the floodwaters; and possible delay in the U.S. option to build the controversial Libby Dam in Montana.

'May Prove Biggest Problem'

Given success in dealing with B.C. and the U.S. government, the government then has another big hurdle—submission of the treaty and its agenda or revisions to the Canadian parliament for scrutiny, and ratification.

"This may prove to be our biggest problem," a government official said, "even before we get to parliament. For we are bound to get a treaty that is demonstrably in Canada's interests, and one that parliament will approve."

Said another spokesman: "We have to be careful we don't bring about a treaty under which we get only the enjoyment of building a bunch of dams for U.S. happiness."

How long will all of these involved and difficult steps take? No one can say for sure, but Premier Bennett's own estimate that a start will be made on the project by next March 31, appears excessively optimistic.

Army Hogs Awards At Service College

An army officer cadet was presented with four out of 12 major awards at the Canadian Services College graduation ceremonies at Royal Roads today.

He is Cadet Roman P. Jakubow, of Holden, Alberta.

The awards were presented by Lt.-Gen. Geoffrey Walsh, chief of the general staff of the Canadian Army.

Officer Cadet Jakubow won the following awards: the Governor-General's Silver Medal, to the cadet obtaining highest academic marks in his second year; the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec's Medal, to the English-speaking officer cadet who has made most marked progress in French during his two years at Royal Roads; the Royal Military College Club of Canada Award, presented to the officer cadet of the graduating class with the highest standard in all phases of his military training; the Canadian Army Award, presented by the Canadian Army to the best second-year army officer cadet.

Other major award winners are:

Army Officer Cadet Anthony B. Wyand, of 5 Ralph Devlin Drive, Halifax, winner of the Governor-General's Bronze Medal.

Navy Officer Cadet Mart Leest, of Porter Street, Ottawa, winner of the H. E. Seller's telescope. Officer Cadet Leest also won the Navy League of Canada award for the best second-year RCN officer cadet.

Army Officer Cadet Peter Needra, of 585 Ontario Street, Sudbury, Ont., winner of the United Services Institution of Vancouver Island binoculars.

RCAP Officer Cadet John R. Leitold, of 343 Roseberry Street, St. James, Man., winner of the Royal Canadian Air Force Association award.

Army Officer Cadet James G. W. Carswell, of 3 Martin Avenue, Saragway, Que., winner of the commandant's cup.

Army Officer Cadet Douglas B. Summers, of RCSME, Camp Chilliwack, Vedder Crossing, winner of the director of studies cup.

Mad Stabber Hunted In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Police reinforcements have been ordered into a search for a man who stabbed two men in the back this week for no apparent reason.

Staff Inspector Walter Segee, who led the west-end search for the attacker, said: "The stabbers were completely senseless. They could easily have been two murders. The man must be mad."

Leon McQuarrie, 42, was stabbed between the shoulder blades while walking home. He was taken to hospital where officials described his condition as "fairly good."

Five minutes after the first attack Jacob Fugai, 38, was knifed in front of his home. After hospital treatment he was released.

Inspector Segee said the two victims did not know each other and said they had no enemies.

VEILED THREAT BY FORMER DEFENCE BOSS

OTTAWA (CP)—Former defence minister Gordon Churchill said today he may have to cancel a promise he made to the chiefs of staff that he would not involve them in election or House of Commons debates.

He served this warning after citing a statement made by Paul Hellyer, Liberal defence minister, in the Commons Thursday.

Mr. Hellyer said Mr. Churchill spoke "absolute rubbish" late last year in claiming that nuclear warheads could be supplied in a few hours if necessary for Canadian carriers. He said Mr. Churchill made that statement "notwithstanding the fact that he was well advised by his advisers of that day that it was not so."

Mr. Churchill tried to ask Mr. Hellyer—who was absent—whether he intended to bring his advisers, the chiefs of staff, into debates. Mr. Churchill said he had told the advisers of his defence-post days that he would not. "But I may now have to withdraw that assurance."

Doukhobors Reclaim Most of Land

NELSON (CP)—Nearly 90 per cent of Doukhobor land held by the provincial government in the British Columbia Kootenay has either been applied for or sold, Magistrate William Evans said Thursday.

The magistrate, B.C.'s one-man Doukhobor land settlement board, said he felt the so-called land problem will be solved by the end of the summer.

The land in question was taken over by the provincial government prior to the Second World War when the Doukhobor community fell behind in mortgage payments.

Since then many Orthodox Doukhobors in the Kootenay-Boundary area have bought land back, but not so the radical Sons of Freedom who believe in communal ownership. Most of the Freedomites now are in Vancouver after trekking to the coast last fall.

Mr. Evans said that as soon as the government establishes acreage prices on lands at Ootishenia and Pass Creek, Sons of Freedom communities, a six-month time limit will be given the Doukhobors to buy. After that the unsold portions, excluding the Freedomite stronghold of Krestova, will be thrown open to the public and sold to the highest bidder.

Immigrant Paid His Way Before Death

LARCHMONT, N.Y. (AP)—James Picker, 80, a Russian-born immigrant who showed his gratitude to the United States by returning millions of dollars to the government from the sale of mobile X-ray units to the army, died at his home Wednesday.

Picker in 1914 founded the Picker X-Ray Corporation, now the world's largest distributor of nuclear and radiation equipment. At the time he was the proprietor of a drug store in New York City.

Soon after the outbreak of the Second World War, the army needed a mobile X-ray unit that could be set up close to the front lines. The Picker firm developed the only machine which met the army's requirements.

Early in 1942, the treasurer of the United States received a cheque for $1,000,000 and with it a letter from Picker which read in part:

"In 1942 our normal output of equipment will probably be more than tripled by army business... and we believe that the resulting margin of profit is going to be greater than we care to retain."

"We consider it a patriotic duty to make these funds immediately available to the government to accelerate the war program."

A year later there was another cheque, this one for $1,237,716, and a price reduction to eliminate any profit.

WEST GERMAN UPPER HOUSE CLEARS FRENCH PACT

Old Enemies Ready for Co-operation

BONN (AP)—The Bundesrat (upper house) unanimously passed today the French-West German treaty providing for close co-operation between the two continental powers who long were enemies.

This was the final step in West German parliamentary ratification of the treaty, signed in Paris Jan. 22 by Chancellor Adenauer and President de Gaulle.

Opposition to the treaty disappeared after the addition of a preamble stating that it does not conflict with West Germany's other alliances, specifically NATO and the European Common Market. The Bundestag (lower house) gave its approval by an overwhelming majority May 16.

The treaty provides for the two governments to consult before taking decisions on important questions with the aim of reaching similar positions.

To this end the chiefs of state are to meet—at least twice a year. The first such meeting will be held July 4-5 when de Gaulle comes to Bonn. Foreign, defence and cultural ministers are to meet at least four times a year.

Bi-monthly conferences between the French and West German chiefs of staff are to be held to discuss joint manoeuvres, exchange of officers and training facilities, and joint research and armament production. In this respect nuclear weapons are expected, since West Germany is forbidden by international agreements from engaging in their production.

President Heinrich Lübke is expected to sign the treaty in the early part of June, bringing to an end the West German ratification procedure.

The French Parliament will begin consideration of the treaty next week. Its action is not required by the French constitution but de Gaulle wants a symbolic act to show mass support for French-German reconciliation.

On the Escalator

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT's expenditures, as if they rode on an automatic escalator, will increase by at least 5 per cent in the next year. Mr. Gordon, using the estimates of the former government for the most part, calculates that he will spend $6,545 millions, plus $755 millions for old-age pensions, plus several other large items as yet undisclosed. Even if the government manages to effect some economies as it goes along it will spend more than ever.

In the main the increases are uncontrollable (unless, of course, the law is changed) because the government must provide for a larger group of pensioners, monthly allowances for more children, the growing costs for hospital insurance and interest on a rising debt.

A higher Canadian population naturally brings higher costs but it also brings larger revenues. The immediate question raised by Mr. Gordon's estimates is what revenue he expects to collect from current tax rates and whether he intends to raise them.

That question will be answered in the June budget. Meanwhile the nation does not know the size of the former government's deficit, estimated a year ago at $745 million but perhaps somewhat whittled down by a brief spasm of so-called "austerity".

It is quite clear, however, that on the basis of his expenditures and his present tax rates Mr. Gordon would budget for another large deficit, though he has promised to move toward a balance as soon as possible. If he is to begin moving this year he may well feel compelled to increase taxes in some directions, especially since he evidently intends to reduce them, marginally, in others as a stimulant to new industry.

Or, alternatively, he may prefer to maintain existing taxes for the time being and introduce a new budget in the autumn after a summer of financial study. In any case, the nation is facing, in June or later, a far-reaching overhaul of its revenue system.

Mr. Gordon says that the treasury board is working hard to reduce some of the estimates laid before Parliament this week and will take full account of the Glasco Commission's report. But any economies thus achieved will probably be outweighed by the government's new spending plans.

To be sure, the growth of the economy, although it is unlikely to reach last year's rate, will raise the yield of present taxes but certainly not enough to cover extra spending as well as the deficit inherited from the former government.

All things considered, the fiscal problem must be daunting to the government. It may be daunting, before long, to the taxpayers also.

'Co-operation Year'

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF the United Nations, "deeply convinced that wider and more intensive international co-operation would provide one of the most effective means of dispersing international tensions," last year urged that 1963, the 20th anniversary of the UN's founding, be declared International Co-operation Year.

The proposal led to the establishment of a 12-nation preparatory committee to determine means by which the year could be suitably observed. Canada is a member of that committee.

Against that background, men and women of good will meeting last week in Victoria formed a local committee to study and to invite suggestions for the observance of the occasion.

At this stage of its organization the committee's plans are nebulous. It can hope for little more than to create an atmosphere favorable to the idea of an International Co-operation Year. In that atmosphere, once it is established, may be nourished specific plans to mark the occasion—plans which could be submitted with recommendations to Canada's delegates on the UN committee.

The idea has merit. The committee members can at least draw to public attention a large area of co-operation among nations in fields of human welfare. These already exist, but because they seldom provoke controversy they are not as widely publicized as those activities of the United Nations in which conflict arises.

Nations of different philosophies joined for the International Geophysical Year, and demonstrated through various conferences and activities the ability to work together. It is conceivable that other programs can be devised to remind the inhabitants of this earth that they belong to the single human family and that a recognized community of interest can lead to better understanding and co-operation among peoples.

Caddy Writhes Again

THE COLLAPSE OF THE LATEST Caddy manifestation should not be permitted to dishearten us. For Caddy is much more real than the clumsy attempts made from time to time to give him synthetic bones and flesh of one kind or another.

Caddy will long outlast his would-be creators, as he will outlast his detractors. He will be sighted innumerable times, but never quite long enough, or quite clearly enough, or quite opportunely enough for a photograph to be taken. No cynical construction of wood or rubber will ever successfully impersonate him, nor will the exposure of such efforts as fraud imperil his reality.

Even the scientific doubters—the proponents of the floating-logs, three-porpoises-in-a-row, kelp-bed or breaking-wave schools—will fail to weaken the cult of Caddy. For he relies for his permanence not on eye-witnesses or photographs, not even on the reasoned logic or scientific lore of the experts. Indeed, Caddy's most devoted believers are those who have never even caught a glimpse of him and probably never will. There is a Caddy because there ought to be one—and that is proof enough for anyone.

Happy Boomerang

ONE OF THE CHEERFUL stories soaring above the color bars in some southern states comes from Georgia's Mercer University, a Baptist institution.

Out from Mercer went graduate Harris Mobley for missionary work in Africa. So successful in his efforts was he that one of his converts, Sam Jerry Oni of Ghana, decided to come to the United States to study at the university which had educated Mobley. Mr. Oni presented a problem. Mercer had, up to that time, been an all-white institution.

But the alumni magazine of the university put forward a simple claim. "Mercer," it said, "is a Christian institution. A Christian ethic is here involved."

The point was made. Sam Jerry Oni's application for admission was accepted. And to round out the principle, the university dropped its barriers against American Negro applicants.

A little conversion went a long way—both ways.

Gaining on the Sea Lamprey

FROM DETROIT COMES WORD that the Great Lakes fishing industry, declining for nearly two decades, now looks forward to a resurgence.

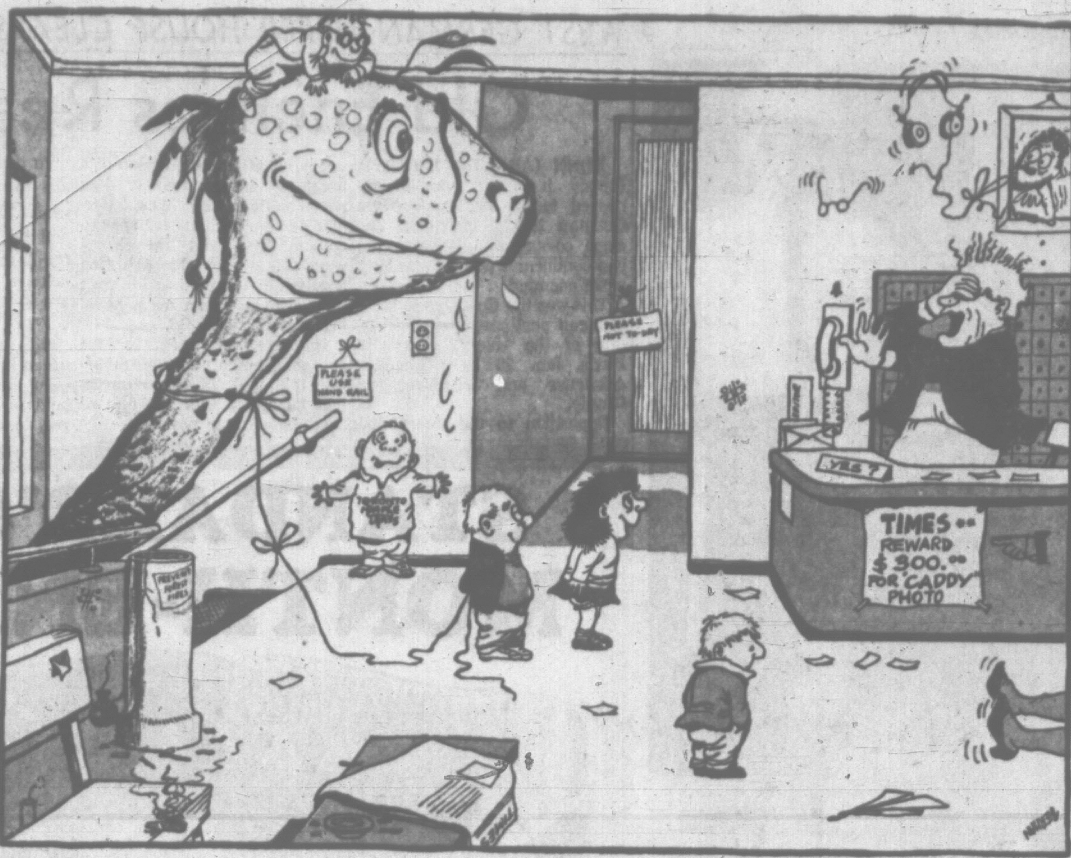

A large part of that hope is based on reportedly successful efforts to cut down the activity—and the population—of sea lampreys. These invaders, who attach themselves to quality fish in the area and destroy them, have been checked in substantial measure by chemical treatment of their spawning beds.

The 1961 population of sea lampreys in this fishery was reduced to 14 per cent in 1961, according to one count, and will be cut still further this year, biologists report.

Now, it is believed, the stock of lake trout, whitefish, walleye, blue pike and yellow perch will go up in Superior, Huron and Michigan. The persistence of pollution still keeps down the once valuable fisheries of Lake Erie.

Presumably if the attack-on-the-sea lamprey benefits American fishermen, it will have a like result for Canadians and a commercial food source of high value will be restored.

"Monte Roberts, please . . . !"

Bierman, Victoria Daily Times.

FROM OTTAWA

He Read a Forgery Into Hansard

THE affair of Mr. Gordon Churchill and the forged letter is politically incomprehensible. While the letter, purportedly addressed by Mr. Butterworth, the United States ambassador, to Mr. Pearson, was no doubt intended as a bombshell, it turned out to be the dampest squib tossed into the House of Commons in a very long time. Mr. Churchill was in fact on the defensive before he had even succeeded in identifying the alleged document.

The former minister of defence heatedly denied that he had given currency to a letter which he knew to be a forgery. One can only assume that Mr. Churchill, who has a reputation for political sagacity, suffered some sort of temporary blackout. He is, after all, a veteran parliamentarian who has held three offices under the crown and has played no small role as a Conservative strategist.

In appraising the so-called letter, which praised Mr. Pearson's nuclear policy and promised "our support," there are several facts to be borne in mind. The first is that it has enjoyed a sort of underground life since the closing weeks of the election campaign. It is common knowledge in the press gallery that photos were sent to four or five newspapers, perhaps more. Every recipient considered it highly suspect on the basis of internal evidence. Some checked it out and found that their suspicions were well based. Not one, even in the midst of a furious election campaign, was prepared to publish it.

The letter is extraordinarily clumsy yet is supposed to be the work of a career diplomat with long experience in the foreign service of the United States. Moreover, Mr. Butterworth has a reputation for discretion. As American correspondents point out, he held a sensitive post in the state department at the time when the late Senator Joseph McCarthy was casting his net far and wide. Mr. McCarthy was not fastidious about his "evidence" but at no point was able to touch Mr. Butterworth.

The third fact is that Mr. Pearson, the supposed recipient of the letter, let it be known in the course of the campaign that he had received no such communication. Mr. Butterworth did the same thing but went further. As he stated on Monday: "The forgery was brought to my attention during the recent election campaign. I notified the then government that such a forgery was being circulated, and denied to enquirers who asked me about it at the time that I had ever written any such letter."

No Answer

Mr. Churchill did not answer when he was asked by Mr. Pikeragill to say "where he got that letter and from whom, and what effort he has made to find out whether or not it was ever written by the purported author." In the light of the Butterworth statement, it is evident that he could have made no proper check even among his own colleagues.

This is all the more extraordinary because the Conservatives have made much of their determination to act as a responsible opposition. Mr. Churchill presumably shares his party's view that the former Liberal opposition was irresponsible and bent on "down-grading Canada" for political ends. But the publication in Hansard of such a document as this, unless it was promptly exposed, could only poison relations between Canada and the United States.

Opposite Effect

It cannot even be said that Mr. Churchill was carried away in the heat of debate. This would be at least understandable because the arms question has aroused a good deal of bitterness. But the pattern of his speech shows that the former minister set out to build a case documenting alleged American interference in Canadian affairs with the so-called letter as the climax. As the Liberals had been forewarned by the inquiries of the election period, they were ready and Mr. Churchill's exhibit had an effect quite opposite to that which was presumably intended.

It is a good thing for Canadian-American relations that reputation has been so prompt and crushing. There can be no assurance, however, that some harm has not been done. While the incident will no doubt be ignored by the Kennedy administration with the good feeling now prevailing, there is always a danger that a charge made in this country, even though denied, may seep into politics at a lower level in the United States and be remembered long after the chapter has been forgotten here.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Sympathy for Rock Heights

Re: The protest made by Rock Heights residents to the construction of apartment buildings.

Although I do not reside in the latter area, I must say I sympathize with the residents of Rock Heights and hope that their plea will be justified.

The building of an apartment block in a residential area is out of kilter and a hindrance to peaceful suburban living.

Two Jobs

The thousands of B.C. unemployed will be happy to hear of two recent vacancies in a job with a great future and almost boundless financial opportunity. Driving ability is necessary. Any failure to really make the big time will be compensated by a lengthy visit as guest of the state.

A much less risky method of solving the problems of not just a few but those of the great mass of humanity is to establish democracy where the needs of all mankind are satisfied and that will be the motive for all social activity.

Wants More Monte

I regret very much that, apparently, Monte Roberts' column is no longer to be used in your paper.

Always I have found Roberts' column bright and interesting. He has a facility of dealing with many serious subjects in a light vein, and does much good for civic causes.

We should remember the old saying "a little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men."

I hope Roberts' column will appear again.

Preserve This History

I have just finished reading a copy of your May 3 edition and in particular I found the article by Pat Dufour on Craigflower Manor most interesting.

Just one year ago, in May, 1962, I had the pleasure of being in Victoria once again on a short visit. My sightseeing included a visit to Craigflower Manor and I was intrigued with all that I found there.

Mrs. Thompson graciously showed us through the Manor and she proved to be a most competent, charming and well-informed guide and custodian. The Province is fortunate in having such an interested family caring for this historic site.

I would very much like to know, however, just what steps the Province is taking to ensure the preservation and exhibition of these historic and often beautiful sites—it seems to me that such action is vitally needed. That's the history of the Province, of Canada, standing before us and it would be an irreparable loss to let it slowly fall into further decay.

Just who, for instance, is responsible for the zoning around Craigflower Manor? When I was there last May I was so disappointed to find that a service station was being erected in immediate proximity to this lovely old bit of early Canadiana. How many service stations are already in the area? Why build another one, already in sight of two others, and encroach further on the already crowded original grounds of Craigflower Manor? Those lovely fields, between the highway and Portage Inlet would have been an ideal setting for a small park to place Craigflower Manor in a proper setting. But a garage—ugh!

The original Craigflower School is just across the bridge from the Manor. It was one of the first schools in British Columbia and it is now an interesting museum as well. It has a delightful situation, but what is needed is a little government concern, interest, and money to properly restore the buildings where needed and set off the grounds to better advantage.

R. D. KILSHAW,
St. Avold, Moselle, France.

No Call 'For Shame'

In reply to the letter "For Shame" in Tuesday night's Times I must say I feel sorry for Mrs. Mitchell's little dogs to be in such bad shape that they cannot stand heat even when they are under shade.

As owner and trainer of the Heather-belle Troupe I would like to mention a few points which apparently your correspondent is unaware of. These little dogs are NOT lap dogs but working Terriers. They are "a dog of low height, which creeping into subterranean burrows, routs out foxes, badgers, martens and wild cats from their lurking places in dens" as described in the "History of Scotland" by Bishop Ross.

They hunt in packs all day in their native Scotland and when "plucked of their winter coat (of which mine were) they are able to withstand any heat."

"The Scottish Terrier" by Ewing. These little dogs have been specially bred for their vitality, and they were trained daily in road work like a track runner. They also received special high protein diet and vitamin pills. On the parade route they received a special titbit and a drink every few blocks. Also I made them rest in the shade every so often.

In the station wagon four spares were eagerly waiting for their turn. I took one older dog out to give her a rest and she became so upset I had to put her back.

At the end of the parade when I was trying to rest them, every time an admirer came with a camera or a band passed they wanted to be on their way.

If any dog in either team had decided not to pull, there is no one who could make them. They do it for the love and the appreciation of their public.

I think that Mrs. Mitchell must have been blinded with some kind of cruelty obsession when she says that my dogs "were clothed and harnessed to small wagons." No dogs who were harnessed to the wagons wore any clothes. She should have looked at the wonderful picture of the two teams in your May 21st Times and she could see this.

Only the two riders and the loose "Little Mountie," who travelled at least twice as far as the others greeting the public, wore costumes. She was a free dog and I am sure she would not have done this all on her own if she had not felt like it.

Further, her statement that hot tar squeezed up between the pads of the dogs' feet and collected gravel is nonsense. Their feet were all examined at the end of the parade. They were all in excellent shape and had no trace of tar or gravel on the parade route, and blacktop is much softer for dogs than walking around town with their owners on cement pavements.

WASHINGTON

No Longer Local

By WALTER LIPPMANN

SUDDENLY, as it were, the struggle of the Negroes toward equality of status in American society has taken a sharp turn. The demonstrations in Birmingham have proved to be something more than the work of outsiders playing upon the imaginary grievances of otherwise docile and contented masses. Nobody can now doubt that the grievances are genuine and deep under the rule of such men as Bull Connor and Governor Wallace. And nobody can have any doubt either that the new generation of American Negroes is shedding the mentality of slaves and that they will not accept quietly an imposed inferiority in education, in jobs, in housing and in the public facilities.

For a hundred years since Lincoln freed the slaves, this country has relied upon the education of the Negroes and the persuasion of the whites to bring about that equality of status to which it is committed. We are now realizing that the present rate of change will not be fast enough.

The redress of the grievances of the Negroes is for the new generation too slow in coming. History teaches us that when this point is reached in the struggle for what men regard as their just rights, a revolutionary condition exists.

Then the supreme questions are posed. Will the ruling and privileged classes take command of the coming changes? Or will they cling to their privileges and become the immovable object in collision with an irresistible force?

The white people of this country, not only the white people of Alabama and Mississippi, are now at that crucial point where they must answer those questions. They must choose, on the one hand, between leading the movement toward equality of status and, on the other hand, standing aside and letting matters be decided by collisions between the Negro agitators and the Bull Connors.

The Negro rebellion is now led by men like Martin Luther King who preach and practise the Gandhian doctrine of non-violence. It is a difficult doctrine in any country, and this is a rather violent country. The doctrine worked effectively in British India. But there, the ruling power was under the restraint of the long British habit of constitutionalism.

Brutal Resistance

We cannot count upon non-violence persisting in the face of brutal and illiterate resistance. The outstanding danger is not that there may be rioting and brawling, for these can be suppressed. The outstanding danger is a loss of confidence by the Negro people in the good faith of the white people. This is where the turning point lies at the present time.

If confidence is lost and there is a legitimate remedy for genuine grievances, there will be lost at the same time confidence in the doctrine of non-violence. What will come after that is unpleasant to contemplate.

But those among us who are capable of learning from history will do well to remember what happened in Ireland and what happened to Palestine before the grievances of the Irish and of the Jews were redressed.

The time has come when there must be a change in the American policy as it was laid down under Eisenhower and continued under Kennedy. This is the policy of leaving desegregation, which is a national commitment, to the conflict between private lawsuits and local authorities.

The cause of desegregation must cease to be a Negro movement, blessed by white politicians from the northern states. It must become a national movement to enforce national laws, led and directed by the national government.

I think this is the direction in which the President and his brother, the attorney-general, are now moving. They should move directly and boldly and take command of a cause which cannot now be left to irresponsible people.

If it is still possible, and I think it is, to hold and even to recover the confidence of the Negroes in the good faith of the whites, then this is the basic principle by which to do it. It is to make plain by word and deed that the Negroes are no longer a weak and isolated minority trying to push the nation into doing what the national law and American principles require it to do.

Then, because the national power is behind the movement toward equality of status, that national power, which will be more than sufficient, can be exercised without violence, with wisdom and with restraint. For it is the very weak rebels who feel that they must resort to the extreme measures.

With the Soul of a Crumpet

A LADY on the bus the other day passed me a clipping from an old Christian Science Monitor painting a charming word picture of Victoria for prospective tourists.

The piece was well written. The accompanying and familiar view of the Parliament Buildings seen between the boles of trees on Government Street was clear and impressive. The tone of the article was friendly and warm in its praise of our city.

A man whose love affair with Victoria now runs over half a century should have been pleased to read it. I wasn't.

My joy at this tribute to my enduring mistress was alloyed by a realization that the writer was dealing less with my town than with its carefully created image.

The image was honest enough as far as it went: lovely gardens, the incoming vista from the harbor, the hanging baskets on the five-globed light standards, the "shoppers" (never "shops" let alone "stores") selling English tweeds, china, Irish linen and Old World silver, Indian crafts and curios from the Orient and—don't guess, let me tell you—tea and crumpets at a local hotel at 4 o'clock, which the writer says is "the essence of Victoria... distilled."

It's a long time since I took tea in the hotel. When I was a more frequent client there, tea included sandwiches of moist bread as wide across as two fingers, and small slices of a sort of Madeira cake which I always thought they kept in log-lengths in the cool of the basement.

Now, of course, you get crumpets—just as you might have been served chop-suey had someone believed the attraction of a Chinese dish originating in the United States would lend the atmosphere desired for that particular hotel's sumptuous lounge.

Since tea is the thing, the Maitre d' with the Italian name will see to it—with the able assistance of a waitress who may have come recently from continental Europe, and a bus boy whose tongue shows little trace of the native Germany he left a few years ago—that the whole affair is "veddy, veddy English."

My favorite waitress in times long past was Swiss.

In the morning, said the writer, "under the strict eye of Queen Victoria's monument, very correct civil servants with furled umbrellas are entering the provincial legislative buildings." That'll be something of a surprise to the civil servants, most of whom probably don't own umbrellas.

What the author of the piece may have seen was Jimmie Nesbitt, hurrying up the centre path to the Press Gallery during that period when he "wore" an umbrella—or perhaps John Wade looking at the house Mr. Rattenbury built.

Maybe we have to have an image. It seems a requisite nowadays when people have something tangible or intangible to sell. But we always run the risk, in creating one, of building a Potemkin village. The facade doesn't always represent the interior or the back.

Tourist literature doesn't, of course, picture little children playing on hot summer days in unkempt front yards where they grow to look more like the mud pies they make than the mud pies themselves. It doesn't draw attention to the cinders in a street from some industrial activity. It overlooks the semi-slums. But we have them.

More frequently such writing picks up some of the desirable traits evident in a community and develops them into the town's character—which is reasonable enough. But generalizations are dangerous. They often fit like hand-me-down clothes, only where they touch.

I've never been there, but it's quite possible that Venice is something more than canals, the romantic songs of the gondoliers, the past grandeur of the doges and Harry's Bar. It's only the returning tourists who talk about the considerably less than elegant effluvia rising from the waterways of that historic city.

It is ungracious to feel disappointed by someone who liked Victoria enough to write favorably about it after a short stay and to expect of such a person an affection for all the city, not just the image. And the writer deserves thanks for skipping some of the clichés, including Kipling's "Bay of Naples," etc., etc., etc.

But the soul of Victoria is not a crumpet, twice toasted though it may be and served with rich strawberry jam and tea of the master's steeping. It may help to establish an image, but it ain't my idea of my town's ethos. Nosir.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

How to Behead Your Favorites

The rhododendrons and azaleas are probably among the top shrubs in any gardeners' list for color in this part of the country.

Their flowering season extends from Christmas in mild winters until well into the summer if one takes into account the many types and varieties which may be successfully grown here.

When it comes to pruning these lovely things, the general rules applicable to other flowering shrubs do not work out well.

Rhododendrons and azaleas make new growths immediately behind, or at the base of, this year's flower head. These growths will carry next year's flowers.

Pruning consists of removing the faded flower heads complete with the tiny seed vessels so that light, air and nourishment may be concentrated on the new growths.

This attention is a great aid to growth while the shrubs are still of a size where every flower head can be removed, but when heights reach more than six feet with about equal spread, the job is no longer possible.

However, by that time the rhododendrons will have attained a vigor which will enable them to make new flower heads without help, providing the feeding and watering program is maintained.

When flower heads are removed now, the last of the three spring feedings may be given, but the watering program must be kept up during summer.

Occasionally a rhododendron or an azalea makes an awkwardly placed branch which spoils the otherwise naturally shapely bush.

Spring is a good time to remove such a growth. Make a clean cut with the secateurs well down where the shortened branch will not show, if possible near a low shoot or two which will quickly grow into a more desirable position.

'Buy American' Drive Concern to Canada

WASHINGTON (CP) — Defence Production Minister C. M. (Bud) Drury of Canada plans to confer with Defence Secretary Robert McNamara at the Pentagon June 6 amid reports that the White House plans to intensify its buy-American drive to plug a drain on U.S. gold.

Canadian informants said it will be Drury's intention to drive home to McNamara that Canada has a chronic deficit in international trade with the U.S. and therefore should be excluded from any new U.S. government efforts to curb federal buying in foreign markets.

Under current production-sharing arrangements, Canada obtains more orders from the U.S. than the U.S. does from Canada, giving Canada a favorable balance in this specific

START FIRING, WORK HARDER, REEVE WARNS

TORONTO (CP) — North York Reeve Norman Goodhead said Thursday Canada's municipal politicians should fire 15 per cent of their civic servants and work harder themselves.

Speaking to the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities meeting here, he said: "Overall efficiency would be improved, not impaired. I would venture that 15 per cent of today's municipal servants are expendable."

One North York department which reduced its staff by 20 per cent is saving $400,000 annually, he said.

Aussie Wheat Sale to Reds

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Australian Wheat board has made another big wheat sale to Communist China, the well informed Melbourne herald reports.

Board Chairman J. V. Moroney, who returned to Melbourne this week after talks with Peking representatives in Hong Kong, however, would not discuss the sale nor confirm it had taken place.

The Herald says the latest sales takes the total wheat sold to China since December, 1960, past $150,000,000 Australian ($300,000,000).

Terms of the latest sale are favorable to Australia, The Herald says.

The reported sale also comes at an opportune time for Australia since Canada, which is the main wheat-selling rival in China trade, is sending a mission to Hong Kong next month in an attempt to arrange further sales to Peking.

The Canadian move followed the United States wheat growers rejection of price supports and production controls for 1964.

Australian growers feared this would cause price-cutting on a worldwide scale.

Tender Rule Broken?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Awarding of the first major sub-contract for the giant Peace River hydro dam project to an Alberta firm rather than a B.C. firm "will be looked into," Dr. Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority said this week.

The consortium of Kiewit, Dawson-Johnson which will build the $73,000,000 dam for the authority has awarded Alberta Trailers Company (1961) of Calgary the contract to build a trailer camp and cater for 1,000 construction workers at the Portage Mountain dam-site in the B.C. interior.

Tendering specifications for the giant dam contract were that B.C. contractors were to get preference in sub-contracts. Graham Dawson, head of Dawson Construction and one of the partners in the main contract, said he could see no violation of any agreement to give preferential treatment to B.C. companies. He said B.C. plywood and aluminum will undoubtedly be used in the manufacture of the camps.

'Thresher' Wreckage Identified

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—Searchers have photographed wreckage lying on the ocean floor 8,400 feet below the surface and have identified it as the hull, diving plane and sail area of the nuclear submarine Thresher.

The Thresher sank April 10 during a deep-sea test dive with 229 men aboard. The photographs, taken by the research vessel Conrad, will be flown to the navy court of inquiry at Portsmouth, N.H. The court is investigating the sea disaster, which occurred 220 miles east of Boston.

The bathyscaphe Trieste is standing by in Boston, the navy said, and will proceed to the scene if the court of inquiry decides more photographs are needed.

Dr. J. Lamar Worzel, assistant director of the Lamont Geological Observatory whose researchers photographed the wreckage Thursday, said the pictures definitely were of the sunken submarine.

Vice-Admiral Elton W. Grenfell, commander of the U.S. Atlantic fleet submarine force in Norfolk, Va., said the photographs "appeared to be definitely correlated with the missing submarine."

CAN STAND PRESSURE
The Trieste is constructed so that it can descend far deeper than 8,000 feet with men and cameras aboard and withstand the pressure. She was chosen to survey the scene from close range, if needed.

The Conrad and other search vessels have obtained their photographs with underwater camera systems lowered by cable nearly 1½ miles below the water's surface.

Since April 10, navy and civilian vessels have circled the area trying to locate what became an underwater grave for 16 officers, 96 men and 17 civilian technicians.

The Thresher left Portsmouth April 9 after a complete overhaul. The next morning she sank.

BUSINESS VIEWS

Consumer Credit Great Stimulus for Trade

Times Business Editor

Arguments continually rage among economists, sociologists and politicians about the extent to which consumer credit can, or should, be used as a stimulus to business.

But there can be no doubt as to the potency of consumer credit to the present time in boosting the general living standards of Gordon Bell countries of the world.

A recently-issued United Nations study shows, in fact, that a list of the 10 countries with the highest living standard is identical in content and order with a list of those making the greatest per capita use of consumer credit.

The study illustrates the fact that a high material standard of living can only be accomplished through mass production techniques which in turn depend on mass consumption fostered by a mass market to which credit is readily available.

Another rather enigmatic utterance by Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp in the Commons this week was calculated to send a bit of a shiver through the western Canadian oil industry.

The U.S. government, Mr. Sharp said, has expressed "concern" about the volume of Canadian oil entering the U.S. This concern was evident during his recent visit to Washington when Mr. Sharp had talks with a number of members of the Kennedy cabinet.

Shortly after his appointment Mr. Sharp noted that the national oil policy introduced by the previous government would soon be given consideration by the Liberal government and there was an unmistakable inference that some changes would be coming.

Meanwhile, from Washington comes a report that exempt oil imports from Canada dropped to 267,388 barrels during March after having run 281,084 barrels daily in February and a peak of 295,768 barrels in January.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, seeking to reassure impatient U.S. oil producers recently said that Canadian imports would be more stable during 1963.

It's predictable that unless Canada and the U.S. can come to terms soon on a workable continental oil policy which allows reasonable expansion of flow of Canadian oil into the U.S., the independent Canadian producers will renew their clamor for a Canadian crude pipeline to the Montreal market.

Despite the extremely low discovery rate for western Canadian oil in the past few years, the independents are very conscious of the huge reserves of the Athabasca oil sands whose development, and entrance into the domestic market, cannot be much longer delayed.

The Montreal pipeline would be a tragic waste of capital investment, according to most industrial economists, when the natural market for western oil is to the U.S. middle west and the Pacific regions.

The 52-year-old B.C. and Yukon Chamber of Mines has organized a special $50,000 fund-raising campaign to prepay the mortgage on its headquarters on Hastings Street in Vancouver.

Veteran B.C. mining man H. H. (Spud) Huestis has been named by the chamber executive to head the campaign which would enable the organization to save about $39,000 in interest charges which would have to be paid over the next 16 years.

Unfortunately, at a time when demands on the chamber are heavier than ever because of the boom in B.C. mining, it is faced with a serious decrease in revenue.

The city of Vancouver, which formerly supported it with an annual grant of $5,000 is systematically reducing the grant each year until it is eliminated, on the grounds that the organization should be supported by the mining industry and those allied with it. Small grants are also received from the federal and provincial government.

Pearkes Misses Chance To Scorch Old Tormentor

By DAVE McINTOSH
OTTAWA (CP) — Maj.-Gen. George Pearkes, VC, lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, probably would like to be an MP again for this session of Parliament.

The Commons is setting up a 24-member defence committee

... always in middle

Mrs. Youlden Elected PTA Group President

Newly-elected president for the Tillikum-Hampton Parent-Teacher Association is Mrs. John S. Youlden. Other officers are:

Vice-president, G. E. Harris; secretary, Mrs. Robert Oakman; treasurer, Mrs. Douglas Howell; membership, Mrs. William Bisson; hospitality, Mrs. William Collier and Mrs. William Drane; literature, Mrs. Edward Owens; publicity, Mr. Richard Marcus; program, Mrs. Samuel Cook and Mrs. Nicholas Renard; social, Mrs. A. D. McLachlan, Mrs. E. V. Shephard, Mrs. Herbert J. Moorhouse and Mrs. W. J. Workman; historians, Mrs. Cliff Kirchin for Tillikum school and Mrs. George Worral for Hampton school; health and safety, Mrs. E. W. Parham and council delegates, Mrs. B. M. Page and A. M. Gildemeester.

and this would have presented a golden opportunity for the former Conservative defence minister to get back at his one-time Liberal tormentor, Hon. Paul Hellyer, who now holds the defence portfolio.

Mr. Pearkes could, for instance, have pointed to this June 30, 1960, statement by Mr. Hellyer before the Commons defence committee of that year:

"The Bomarc is useless even with the nuclear warhead."

Mr. Pearkes, caught in the middle of his government's dilemma on nuclear weapons, was harassed throughout nearly every one of the 1960 committee's 26 meetings.

Only once was he able to scorch Mr. Hellyer in return. This occurred when an abstract of an impending speech by Mr. Hellyer was inadvertently published in the point-by-point reply to Mr. Hellyer before the latter spoke.

DEAL WITH POLICY

The new committee proposed by Prime Minister Pearson will deal with defence policy as the external affairs committee deals with foreign policy.

Ostensibly, the 1960 committee established by the Conservatives was to deal only with defence expenditures.

But it dealt, inevitably, with policy because Mr. Pearkes was the chief witness at nearly every committee meeting.

The committee ended up making policy recommendations. These included one that never again should Canada embark on a weapons program as expensive as the Arrow jet interceptor. Another was that the defence department should study the imbalance costs for the armed forces and the comparatively few funds allotted for new equipment.

It is a subject of speculation here whether the Conservatives will name former defence minister Douglas Harkness to the committee. Mr. Harkness resigned from the cabinet Feb. 3 after splitting with his colleagues on nuclear policy.

It is also a matter of speculation how worried the Conservatives may be about the use to which the Liberals might put the committee. Many questions are almost bound to deal with the nuclear policy of the former government.

$250,000 Fails to Ease Victim's Bitterness

VANCOUVER (CP) — William G. Borneman, 33, is $250,000 richer but bitterness drips from every word he speaks.

The half-paralyzed and half-blind traffic victim was awarded the money—the largest damage award in the United States Pacific northwest history—by a Superior Court jury in Seattle.

Oak Bay PTA Names Officers

Oak Bay Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association recently elected a new slate of officers. Executive members are: Honorary president, R. T. Kipling; past president, W. W. Sinclair; president, Mrs. A. E. Johnston; first vice-president, C. S. Goode; secretary, Mrs. N. Le Poidevin; treasurer, A. B. Coburn; membership, Mrs. George Cockburn; publications, Mrs. M. D. Cole; publicity, Mrs. C. S. Goode; hospitality, Mrs. R. E. Pryde-Jones; social, Mrs. E. Hodasek; and program, Mrs. C. W. Lundy.

Next executive meeting will be held on June 6 at the home of past president, W. W. Sinclair, 3300 Exeter.

ARE DOCTORS "BAD SAMARITANS"

The accident victim moaned for help. A doctor passed, afraid to help! Why? In June Reader's Digest see how a simple act of first aid may bring any doctor financial and professional ruin—and why new laws are needed to let the doctor help you!

Thursday he returned to the half-finished shack he calls home in neighboring Richmond to be greeted by three men on his doorstep.

"They are outside my door right now trying to get me to invest money in their schemes," he said in an interview.

"They called themselves my friends and they couldn't wait to get at me," he added bitterly.

Borneman suffered paralysis of the right side, a punctured lung, a blinded left eye, three breaks in his skull and broken arms, legs and other bones in a traffic accident on U.S. Highway 10 about 30 miles east of Seattle three years ago.

He was on his way home from a boilermaker's job in Kimberley, B.C., with Walter Nielsen, 57, of Burnaby, B.C. Nielsen, driver of the car, pulled to the side of the road because of a blowout. The car was hit by a Safeway Stores, Inc., truck and Borneman successfully sued the company. A $25,000 suit by Nielsen was thrown out.

Borneman, who lives in a wheelchair, finds no happiness in the prospect of having more money than many men earn in a lifetime.

"What can I do with it? I'm paralyzed. I can't walk, I can't drive."

"Did I have hardship, you ask?"

"You'd try to live on welfare."

Take your car... Leave your cares... Go CN

way!

Another first from Canadian National. Now you can take your car with you. Yet avoid the drudgery and hazards of long-distance driving. Who drives? CN! Who's sitting pretty? Both you and your car. In the safe, sure comfort of a CN train.

CN's Car-Go-Rail plan takes your car from Vancouver to Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal. Effective June 15th to Sept. 30th inclusive.

Your auto, loaded with vacation gear, travels in an enclosed auto transporter by fast freight — while you and friends or family relax in luxury aboard a CN passenger train. You're travelling fast, too. Fast enough to add days to the fun of being there. Those 'long-driving-miles' become 'lovely-Canadian-scenery-miles' when you travel Car-Go-Rail. If you like, let CN drive one way and you drive the other. Either way you're ahead in time, comfort and money!

This new CN travel plan is available for Coach, Tourist or First Class. One price includes — rail fare, sleeping accommodation, meals, tips... and your car.

Let CN take you and your car on a real holiday. For full details, literature and reservations, call your local travel agent or CN sales office.

Here are sample all inclusive tourist fares based on 3 adults travelling together — for cars with wheelbase of 114' and under:

'OUTRAGEOUS' STATEMENT, SAYS RIVAL UNION

Court Action Against SIU Official

OTTAWA (CP) — William J. Way, Transport and General Workers (CLC), said today he is taking legal action against a west coast union official for accusing the brotherhood of attempted murder.

"The brotherhood has directed its lawyers to take legal action against Mr. Roderick Heinekey, vice-president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada," said Mr. Smith.

"The action arises from Mr. Heinekey's outrageous statement, appearing in the Vancouver Sun of May 30, that the brotherhood was responsible for the attempt upon his life."

Mr. Heinekey accused the brotherhood of trying to kill him after he was wounded Thursday by a shotgun blast fired by an unknown person who hid outside his home at Burnaby in suburban Vancouver.

"The brotherhood does not engage in violent, unlawful acts," said Mr. Smith in a prepared statement.

"It deprecates them. It deprecates the attack on Mr. Heinekey."

Mr. Smith, a vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress and a long-time opponent of the SIU, said the Seafarers' union has had a "pattern of violence" that was placed on the record of the federal investigation of labor strife in the Great Lakes marine industry conducted by Mr. Justice T. G. Norris.

He said dozens of witnesses told the Norris inquiry about violence within the SIU during the seven-month investigation. The judge is expected to deliver his report to the federal government within the next 10 days.

Alex B. Macdonald, a Vancouver lawyer and a New Democratic member of the British Columbia legislature, will handle the brotherhood's action against Mr. Heinekey.

'Priceless Art' Possessed By Local Gallery

Victoria Art Gallery is in possession of two water-color paintings that can't be obtained "for love or money," says a visiting U.S. art curator.

Gordon Walker, director of the National Gallery at Washington, D.C., was referring to two paintings by Samuel Palmer currently on display in an old masters exhibition at the gallery.

The paintings were given to the gallery two months ago by Arthur Wyllie of Victoria who inherited them from his wife when she died last year.

A former president of the gallery, the late Mrs. Wyllie was a granddaughter of George Richmond, a close friend of Mr. Palmer.

Goodwill Fund Assisted

Victoria Rotary Club donated $8,000 to Goodwill Enterprises building fund at its weekly luncheon Thursday.

Presentation was made to Goodwill president George Gray following his reading of the organization's annual report.

Rotarians were informed Goodwill employed 140 handicapped workers during 1962. Of these, 43 left Goodwill "and we know all benefited from their experiences," Mr. Gray said.

"Most significant of these figures are the 18 who left to take other jobs," he added.

Mr. Gray said Goodwill advertises for more help as soon as positions become vacant for unemployed, young, handicapped men and women. Goodwill has also approached the medical profession to refer such cases to them for registration.

Mr. Gray announced Goodwill had opened a Duncan branch which now employs four handicapped persons on a full-time and part-time basis.

Swedes Repay Kindness

A favor for Sweden has been repaid by the gift of a valuable collection of plants to the provincial museum.

The plants, a 19th century collection of orchids and heathers, arrived this week.

Provincial botanist Dr. Adam Szczawinski said it is one of the most valuable and complete collections of its type.

It includes 100 sheets of pressed specimens, dated from 1863. They are orchids and heathers from Scandinavia.

"It is very important for us to have this material to compare with our flora," said Dr. Szczawinski.

The gift was in return for a favor last year to the Botanical Museum and Herbarium of Lund.

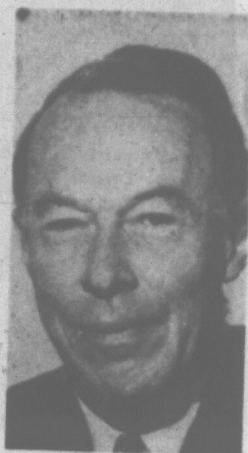

It was sent by the "keeper," Dr. Sven Snogerup. Last year a volunteer helper at B.C.'s museum, Miss M. C. Melburn, secretary of the Thetis Park nature sanctuary, collected some native plants and seeds for the Swedish museum.

"Our assistance can't be compared with your generosity," Dr. Szczawinski said. "Their efforts are certainly appreciated by other institutions."

"If only we could repay the keen interest and help of our many volunteer assistants," Dr. Szczawinski said. "Their efforts are certainly appreciated by other institutions."

He said that the orchids and heathers were collected by several world-famous botanists of the 19th century.

"The remarkable thing about this collection is that despite its age it is extremely well preserved," he added.

U.K. Grants Freedom

LONDON (Reuters)—Joseph Doyle, the last Irish Republic Army prisoner in a British jail, will be released from Wakefield Prison July 2, it was announced in Parliament Thursday. Doyle, 37, was sentenced to life in prison for his part in an I.R.A. raid on Aborfield barracks in Berkshire County in 1955.

Warden at Oakalla Demands More Staff

VANCOUVER (CP)—Oakalla Prison needs more guards and equipment to maintain proper security, warden Warren Mulligan said Thursday.

He told an interviewer the prison does not have enough guards to man wooden watch towers strung around the prison perimeter.

"Guards in charge of work parties frequently do not have contact with the main prison because we can't afford walkie-talkie radio sets for all of them," he said.

At an escape earlier this week the guard had no radio and couldn't contact the prison to call for help.

He was forced to fire his rifle to attract attention of housewives living along the prison's eight-foot perimeter fence. They informed police and the prisoner was recaptured two hours later.

ONE OF BEST

Warden Mulligan was appointed May 1 to succeed warden Hugh Christie.

Commenting on the situation, Attorney-General Robert Bonner denied the prison was understaffed and said the guard-to-prisoner ratio was one of the best in Canada.

"Prison towers aren't manned because security conditions do not warrant it," he said. "The safety of near-by residents will continue to be assured by RCMP and prison guards."

Mr. Bonner said most of Oakalla's facilities would be decentralized from the area within 10 years, but he didn't say where the prison might be located.

Spy Goes to Jail

KARLSRUHE, West Germany (Reuters)—Convicted spy Carl Weber, a 52-year-old journalist and author, was sentenced by the federal high court Thursday to 2½ years in prison. He was found guilty of having maintained "unconstitutional and treasonable relations" with the East German intelligence service.

NHA Changes Aid For Older Houses

OTTAWA (CP)—Amendments to the National Housing Act making it easier for Canadians to buy older houses are expected to be introduced in Parliament next autumn.

An informed source said Thursday the amendments also will provide for loans on more generous terms for building houses for rent, and will encourage urban renewal and development.

These are the principal proposals in the Liberal government's housing program. They are not being brought forward in the initial stage of the current parliamentary session because other boosts to the Canadian economy are considered more urgent now.

NHA amendments to provide government-guaranteed mortgages for the purchase of existing houses and for construction of houses for rent were promised by the Conservatives in the 1963 election.

Former works minister Fulton, now British Columbia Conservative leader, was working on a sweeping revision of the National Housing Act when the former government was defeated in the Commons.

It is not known whether the Liberal government's NHA amendments will parallel those which Mr. Fulton intended to put before Parliament—or even if Mr. Fulton left any of his working papers behind.

Accidental Death Verdict of Jury

CAMPBELL RIVER—A verdict of accidental death, with no blame attached to anyone, was returned at an inquest into the death of Joseph Joyal, 27, killed under a falling crane Tuesday.

The jury found that death was "instant from shock caused by severe crushing injuries to the chest."

Fellow workers testified that Joyal was standing under the 20-foot-long boom section of a crane when the accident occurred.

He had been working on a $35,000,000 extension of the Elk Falls mill of Crown Zellerbach Ltd., near here, since Monday.

Dockyard Apprentice Wins Island Contest

A 24-year-old Dockyard apprentice has won the first round of a competition that could lead to a $1,000 prize at Purdue University, Indiana.

He is David Whitworth, 1123 D'Arcy, indentured to Local 324 United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of the United States and Canada.

In his fifth and final year of apprenticeship, Mr. Whitworth topped other Victoria and Vancouver Island final-year union apprentices to win a place in Vancouver competition that will decide a provincial winner this weekend.

He leaves today to compete against apprentice pipefitters from five other B.C. districts who will write exams to decide the best among them.

This winner then goes to Lafayette for the final round of international examinations at Purdue.

If Mr. Whitworth wins in Vancouver he gets a $200 prize from the Victoria local, which produced one provincial winner since the competition was started 10 years ago. He was Bill Wickett, a Yarrow's Ltd. steamfitter apprentice when he won in 1955.

Apprenticeship program is a joint effort of the union, Master Plumbers Contractors and B.C. labor department.

Federal Funds Proposed For Bastion

Ald. A. W. Toone Thursday proposed use of the promised federal low-interest municipal loan fund for redevelopment of Bastion Square this year.

"It's most unfortunate that the city has not already got an over-all plan so that one quick look would enable council to decide what major projects should be carried out," he said.

A master plan has been authorized but it will take a year to compile.

But the city's planning staff now is in the process of drawing up a separate plan for Bastion Square rehabilitation and this opportunity to use federal help should be seized quickly, Ald. Toone contended.

Crawford is Confident, Carefree and Healthy

(Special to the Times)

VANCOUVER—Lyle Crawford, who will jump at the opportunity to meet anyone, anytime, anywhere, has been warned that Victoria amateur Bill Wakeham plays his best golf on his home grounds. "They keep telling me I will be at a disadvantage before we step to the first tee," says the 30-year-old Vancouver Langara public links pro. "Well, Wakeham will have to prove it to me." Crawford really isn't the loud and cocksure type, though his nonchalance and witty remarks to the galleries during golf matches may leave you with that impression. He is always brash and confident and carefree, and that's the way you'll see him Sunday afternoon when he meets Wakeham at Uplands for the B.C. match play "crown."

No matter who he is about to play, Crawford's mental approach appears to be that he has won the match before its even started. It's a fearless approach that almost ruined his health and possibly could have taken his life. It was just before Christmas, 1961, when Crawford first contracted hepatitis, a debilitating liver disorder.

Hepatitis is an ailment that drains one's strength, an ailment that Crawford, characteristically, took too lightly. After two months of treatment and of extreme exhaustion, Lyle arose from his bed in early March of 1962 and headed for the practice fairway. He was confident he was ready for the Vancouver match play open qualifying round. Crawford qualified through perseverance alone, for he was a gaunt shadow of the old Lyle Crawford; weak and thin. His strength was sapped by the second round and he was eliminated. He then realized the seriousness of hepatitis and gradually has nursed himself back to health. He says he is completely cured. Today he is back to 160 pounds, his face is full and rosy and there is zip in his staccato swing.

But Crawford, whose abbreviated half-swing is a carbon copy of touring pro Doug Sanders', relied on a precise pitch-and-putt game to capture his third Vancouver match play title this year. While his driving lacked consistent accuracy, his short game repeatedly bailed him out of trouble during the tournament. And facing a bold youngster like the 22-year-old Wakeham doesn't bother Crawford. On his way to the Vancouver title, he defeated amateur Gordie Robinson, 20, and pros Al Kennedy, 22; Joe Jeroski, 25, and Bryan Copp, 25. Tickets for Sunday's match, which starts at 2 p.m., are on sale at Bud Bell's, Milton's, Eaton's and all pro shops. Proceeds will be shared by the YM-YWCA building fund and junior golf development.

SPORTS DIARY

By SHIRLEY POVICH
(The Washington Post)

WASHINGTON — The American League is culturally richer this season for the deal that fetched pitcher Jim Brosnan from the Cincinnati Reds to the Chicago White Sox. Brosnan has among his credits a winning record in the majors, a pretty good fast ball and two best-sellers. It was this literary bent that was unappreciated by Bill Dewitt, president of the Reds.

Dewitt sold Brosnan to the White Sox for cash, in the wake of their intra-mural dispute over the pitcher's proclivity for writing books, and things, in mid-season. His man of letters must confine himself to pitching baseballs, Dewitt had ruled and Brosnan screamed "Censorship!" "Go read the fine print in your contract," Dewitt commanded, and Brosnan did, to his dismay. There it was spelled out, indeed, that the club owner shall judge what off-field activities of the athlete are in the best interests of the team, and Brosnan was left to stew in his literary hand-cuffs.

This could be a loss to the world of letters because there is a demand for more by Brosnan, whose "The Long Season" was the finest baseball book in years, even if a bit irrelevant toward the game. A ball player who can write good books is a switch to begin with and Brosnan was promising another one, this time a novel.

Writing Doesn't Impress Batters

In "The Long Season," author Brosnan deglamorized baseball somewhat and Dewitt was not enchanted by this. Also, as a fundamental baseball man, he was hoping to make room on his roster for a less literary but more effective pitcher. Despite his good record in the majors, Brosnan was a fading hero with the Reds. In his 1961 World Series relief chore he was clobbered so hard by the Yankees that it was suggested his next book should be titled "The Long Innings."

With the White Sox, Brosnan has announced that he will have more freedom as an author because they do not take the narrow view of Mr. Dewitt. Whether he will be effective in the American League as a pitcher is not certain, however, because all ball players with a bat in their hand hold a narrow view about the man pitching. They are unimpressed by the way he can write.

This matter of respect is a two-way street, however. Pitchers are impressed with only one thing about hitters, how they can hit. There was the case of Moe Berg, the Washington catcher of the 1930s, who was justly famed as the greatest linguist in the history of baseball, and whose thesis on Sanskrit is still a reference work in the congressional library. As a hitter, he was unfamous and burdened with a .243 lifetime batting average.

In Any Language, It's Hard to Hit

Berg's roommate with the Senators was Sheriff Dave Harris, whose formal schooling ended in mid-eighth grade and who was not quite a superb linguist. Another difference between the sheriff and Berg was their batting averages. Harris was a .327 hitter in the same season that Berg was hitting .236.

It was in batting practice one day when the sheriff was taking more than his share of licks and the impatient Berg, waiting for his turn, said: "Get out of there, Dave, and give somebody else a chance to hit." "Okay," said Harris, "but let me tell you one thing, Moe: When you get up there with a bat in your hand, none of them seven languages you know ain't gonna do you no good."

There have been baseball authors before but none of them as distinguished as Brosnan, and there is another difference. He writes his own stuff. Most of the articles under ball players' names are ghosted by workaday sports writers eager to cage an extra buck and this has been going on a long time. Ford Frick, the baseball commissioner, used to be a ghost writer for the athletes and so did Westbrook Pegler.

Babe Didn't Forget About Cheque

The communication between ball player and ghost is not always close, either. In the Washington-Pittsburgh World Series, Judge Landis called Goose Goslin on the carpet for second-guessing the umpires in an article that appeared under his name after the game. "If it happens again, you're out of the Series," Landis told Goslin. "It didn't happen the first time, Judge; I never saw what I wrote," Goslin said.

It was the bane of Pegler back in the 1920s to be the ghost for Babe Ruth. A syndicate had contracted to distribute Ruth's batting experiences daily with special attention to the home runs he hit, but the Babe was forgetful about talking by telephone to his writer after the game.

Pegler, finally wrathfully, called Ruth to warn him that they would both be fired unless the Babe gave some heed to their responsibilities. Ruth agreed to be more co-operative, also to describe in detail any home runs he hit. The next day he sent the following wire to Pegler in New York, from Detroit: "Poled two out of park today. High, fast pitches. Send cheque immediately."

Mounties Pay Debts, Burst With Optimism

VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors of the hibernating Vancouver Mounties say the club will definitely be back in the Pacific Coast Baseball League next year.

The only question, they say, is which major-league club will move in and take over. Mounties left the PCL before the beginning of the current season, plagued by falling attendance and $70,000 in debts. To keep interest alive here, they have scheduled several exhibition games, and they were drumming up interest for a local all-star vs. Seattle Rainiers game when they made their optimistic comments at a luncheon Thursday.

"There's a chance we might be back before the end of this year," director Reg Atherton went so far as to say. "The extended travel is bound to hurt the league, and if somebody cracks, we may be invited to take over for one of the clubs."

President George Norgan called this "wishful thinking," but said debts are being paid off busily to have a clean slate for 1964. Rainiers play here Monday night and Portland Beavers later make two appearances for regular PCL games, against San Diego Aug. 17 and Seattle Aug. 20.

Arrangements are almost complete for exhibition games between Dallas-Fort Worth—the old Vancouver franchise—and Spokane July 15; and Spokane and Seattle Aug. 12.

THERE WERE TWO SIDES . . . TO '500'

Tilt of head graphically separates victor from the vanquished in the Indianapolis 500. For Lloyd Ruby, left, defeat was etched in his slow walk, the hand held to the head. A perennial 500 entrant, Ruby washed out on 128th lap Thursday when his car hit an oil slick and spun out of control. No such problems bothered winner Parnelli Jones, right, his face wreathed in smiles after taking 47th running of speed event in record time of 143.137 and winning $25,050 in lap money. (AP Wirephoto.)

'Don't Slough Us Off' Warns Twins' Sam Mele

Associated Press

"Some people are sloughing us off in their pennant predictions. It turns me up and I hope it has the same effect on the players." The words belong to Minnesota Twins manager Sam Mele. So does the hottest team in the majors.

Continuing to climb in the standings in the tightening American League pennant scramble, the torrid Twins maintained their sizzling pace Thursday with a 3-2 victory over Washington Senators that accounted for their 10th consecutive victory.

The triumph gave Twins the longest winning streak in the majors this season. It also left them only one-half game out of the first division after floundering around at the tail-end of the standings for the first month of the season before starting a slow burn.

"I know a lot of people are saying we have to prove ourselves," says Mele, who brought Twins home second last year. "But we have too much going for us to be counted out."

PASCUAL WINS THREE

One of the things Mele has going for him is right-hander Camilo Pascual, who has won three of the 10 games in the streak. Against Senators, he scattered eight singles and, finding himself short on runs, drove in the winner with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

Kansas City Athletics made it two straight over league-leading Baltimore, beating Orioles 7-2 and trimming their edge to two games over the runner-up New York Yankees, 6-5 winner in 10 innings over Boston Red Sox.

The third-place Chicago White Sox closed to within three games of the top with a double-header sweep over Cleveland Indians, 8-4 and 4-2, while Detroit Tigers whipped Los Angeles Angels 3-0 behind Hank Aquire's four-hit pitching in a second division struggle.

O'DELL ON PLUS SIDE

After years of struggling to reach the break-even point, Billy O'Dell has pitched his way to the plus side of the ledger. And as an added asset, the 30-year-old left-hander currently owns the most profitable record in big time baseball—a perfect 8-0.

O'Dell won his eighth in row Thursday night as San Francisco Giants topped Cincinnati Reds 5-4—with the help of homers by rookie Cap Peterson and Felipe Alou, the relief work of Bob Bolin, and his own infield single. (Scores on Page 13.)

Jack Joins Whitey In Exclusive Club

NEW WESTMINSTER—Membership in the Inter-City Lacrosse League's "1,000-Point Club" has doubled in size.

Veteran Jack Bionda of New Westminster ran his career point total to 1,003 Thursday as the second-place Royal City squad clipped Nanaimo 16-11 in a free-wheeling affair.

Whitey Severson of Victoria Shamrocks is the only other player to have hit the 1,000 mark. The veteran playmaker has 1,108 points from 501 league games.

TIES FERGUSON

Bionda's big spurge Thursday boosted him into a third-place tie with Nanaimo's John Ferguson in the individual scoring race. Both have 24 points, four fewer than Vancouver's Gordie Gimple.

Westminster's Cliff Sepka, who figured in five goals, is the scoring leader with 33 points.

Jack Barclay scored four goals while Billy Jobb and Doug Wallsmith each pumped in a pair. Terry Davis paced Nanaimo with three goals.

Gillian retained her title Thursday by defeating Marg Maysmith 6-2, 6-3. Allard, steadier throughout, set down Rod Harvey 6-4, 6-3. The high school competition attracted 135 entries.

Uplands Winners

Mrs. W. V. Hicks and Mrs. A. Caddell won the women's green-some competition at Uplands Golf Club Thursday.

Miss A. Milburn and Mrs. C. S. Humber were runners-up.

HARNESS JUDGE NAMED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veteran eastern racing official Claude Brissette, 39, has been named the presiding judge for the 29-day harness meet at suburban Paterson Park.

'You're the Greatest' Owner Tells Parnelli

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Parnelli Jones, 29, of Torrance, Calif., moved like a man in a dream after his record victory Thursday in the Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day classic. He appeared stunned by the grinding ordeal in his Agajanian Willard Special.

"I just can't get it into my head," Jones said softly into the confusion of the victory celebration around him. "You won the race, Rufus," ear owner J. C. Agajanian shouted to the man who was born Rufus Parnelli Jones. "You're the greatest."

Jones, who had won the pole position for the second straight year, was favored in the race, but had to drive his heart out to beat Scotsman Jimmy Clark in a rear-engine Lotus-Ford. Clark No. 2 in the world road racing standings last year, and Dan Gurney, another Grand Prix racer from Costa Mesa, Calif., ran 23 behind Jones through the late stages of the race.

Clark's cigar-shaped Lotus-Ford made only one pit stop to Jones' three. Gurney also had three stops, the last because a wheel wasn't tightened enough on the second tire change.

He finished seventh. CROSSES LINE FIRST After charging his hardest for 3½ hours, Jones crossed the finish line a tick under 34 seconds ahead of Clark.

Jones won't know how much he won until the Indianapolis Motor Speedway cuts a purse of possibly $500,000 at tonight's victory dinner. He knows he won $25,050 in lap prize money for leading 167 of the race's 200 laps. The front runner gets $150 a lap in addition to the main prizes.

He had to break the track record by almost three miles per hour to win. He averaged 143.137 m.p.h. in spite of wrecks that forced the field to run under the yellow "hold-your-position" light for almost 50 minutes. Clark averaged 142.732 m.p.h.

The first five finishers broke the old record. Nobody was hurt seriously in a series of crashes. Veteran Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, suffered a twisted foot and a back injury when he crashed into the wall on the northeast turn.

OTHERS HIT WALL

Others who banged into the wall included Eddie Sachs, Detroit; rookie Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M.; Allen Crowe, Springfield, Ill.; Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex.; and Bud Tingelstad, Dayton, Ohio.

Jim Hurtubise, Torrance, Calif., former qualification record holder, led the first lap in a super-charged Novi but Jones went ahead by the time they came around again. Jones lost the lead when he made his first

Shortstop Larry Sharp on Mound

Have Builders been playing Larry Montgomery in the wrong position?

Cellar-dwellers in the Senior Amateur Baseball League, Builders were bopped 10-3 by IAA Athletics Thursday night, but most of their woes came in the first two innings.

Trailing by a big margin, they called Montgomery in from his shortstop position to the mound in the second frame. Larry promptly tossed a loop over the Athletics' bats, allowing only two hits in his eight-inning effort and yielding a single run, in the ninth.

ERRORS HURT

Three bases on balls, two errors, three singles and Bud Price's double produced six runs for Athletics in the first inning, and a two-run triple coupled with a sacrifice fly brought in three more in the second.

Then shortstop Montgomery took over. Builders scored two runs in the eighth, but by this time, it was too little, too late.

Cedar Hill Takes Lead

Cedar Hill is providing the big noise in the Inter-Club Junior League golf matches. Cedar Hill grabbed the lead from Gorge Vale Thursday evening, by taking eight of the nine points from Royal Colwood.

Highlight of Cedar Hill's victory was John Worthington's singles victory over Times Island Open finalist Gary Smith. Gorge Vale defeated Oak Bay 5½ to 3½.

Oak Bay trails Gorge Vale by two points in the standings while Uplands has yet to start.

Marg Picture Of Perfection In Ladies' Golf

An abrupt recurrence of an old back injury in the midst of the 18-hole final jarred Marg Todd's hopes for her 11th City Women's golf championship last year.

Playing Shirley Naysmith in last year's final, Mrs. Todd was forced to default when her back gave out.

The back appears to be behaving and Mrs. Todd loomed as a heavy favorite to win the city crown when she stepped off the first tee in her 18-hole playoff against Edna Hay at Colwood this morning.

Even healthier is Mrs. Todd's game. Off the tee, down the middle and so on around the greens, Mrs. Todd has been the picture of near-perfection all week. She won medal honors by seven strokes and has yet to see the 17th green in match play.

TAKEN TO 16TH
The Victoria Club ace again was at the peak of her game Thursday. And it is to Joan Lawson's credit that Mrs. Todd was extended to the 16th green. Mrs. Lawson, city champion in 1958 who only recently returned to the fairways after a lengthy illness, bowed 3 and 2 in Thursday's semifinal.

Mrs. Hay, Colwood's champion, stepped into today's final with a similar margin of victory over Upland's Lil Thirlwell.

Nothing could detract from Mrs. Todd's fine round, however. The captain of Canada's Commonwealth team was one under women's par when the match with Mrs. Lawson ended on the 16th.

Mrs. Todd carded a one-under-par 36 on the front nine to make the turn with a two-up advantage.

Mrs. Hay, winning three of the first four holes, was never behind in her match with Mrs. Thirlwell.

Latin Style Prevails In Kennedy Cup Final

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mexico's all-star soccer club, led by brilliant forward Carlos Gonzalez and an unbeatable defence, defeated Vancouver Canadians 3-0 Thursday and won back the President John F. Kennedy Cup, emblematic of the Pacific coast international championship.

A crowd of 6,100 saw the game at East Los Angeles College stadium.

It was the second time Mexico has won the cup, along with first-prize booty of $1,500, in the three years of the tourney.

Last year, the neighboring republic was upset 2-1 by Vancouver Firefighters.

That was the half-time score, 2-0, as Vancouver desperately tried without success to break through Mexico's four-man fullback system, led by world cup star and team captain Raul Gardenas.

In the second half, the Mexicans went on defence with seven men giving the Canadians little hope for a break through.

As it was, it was Mexico who finally scored, centre forward Ernesto Cisneros breaking away for the third goal at the 83rd minute.

Medal Golf Test
Victoria Golf Club will host a women's "15 and Under" medal competition Tuesday.

Starting times:
10 a.m.—Lawson, Mearns, Liddell.
10:07—Todd, Ribberson, Saunders.
10:14—Hicks, Leach, Green.

Red Squad Collects Title at Esquimalt

A spread of only eight points separated Red, Blue, and White Houses at Esquimalt Junior High School's annual track and field meet.

Red House collected the team crown with 172 points. Blue House was second with 165 and White House finished a close third with 164.

Heather Seymour and Shaun Brown won the senior aggregate crowns, and Sharon Graham and Doug Price were named junior aggregate winners.

Dave Vyner took the intermediate boys' title.

Negroes Will Rule

LONDON (Reuters) — The British protectorate of Swaziland will probably get an African majority legislature soon. British Colonial Secretary Duncan Sandys announced Thursday a new constitution for Swaziland, a 6,704-square-mile territory almost entirely surrounded by South Africa.

Fun, medals and assistance to youngsters are among the rewards waiting for city swingers when National Golf Week starts Saturday.

The pleasure comes from playing against the Canadian champions—Stan Leonard and Gayle Hitchens—on a handicap basis. The medals will be awarded by the Royal Canadian Golf Association to the divoters who manage to beat scores registered by the champs.

Leonard, several-times Canadian professional king, will play his round in the east. Miss Hitchens, the UBC student who Wednesday won the Vancouver women's crown, plays out of North Vancouver's Capilano course.

Special National Golf Week competitions have been carded by all Victoria clubs this year. Each player pays an entry fee of $1 and may make as many attempts as he or she wishes during the week by paying $1 for each additional round. In addition to the medals, clubs are also offering prizes for the best rounds.

And all swingers trying to beat the champs will also be assisting junior golfers. Monies collected from the competitions will go toward junior development, with 25 per cent of fees paid at each club being used for that club's junior program.

"We are asking every golfer in the district to support National Golf Week," Harry Young, chairman of the Victoria District Golf Committee, said Thursday.

Why do we taper the shape?

Because you have a tapered body. Most shirts are made straight up and down from the arm holes to the hips. But most people are narrower at the waist than at the shoulders. That's why Arrow tapers the body of the shirt, tailors it to follow the natural lines of your body.

As a result there is no excess fabric to "blouse" at your waist. You get a slimmer, trimmer look. Very neat. We call it the Trim Fit. Trim Fit tailoring comes in all fabrics and collar styles in both dress and casual shirts. Illustrated is the new Paddock Club sport shirt.

Water Supplied to Beach Camp

The drought at Long Beach will soon be over, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood promised today.

He said work has started on a well at the provincial campsite on the west coast of the Island.

There has been no fresh water for the 90 camp units since they were opened last year.

Campers had to drive to the nearby airport for water.

Mr. Westwood said B.C. has been trying to negotiate with the federal government for a joint waterworks project to serve both the park and the airport.

Although this idea hasn't been abandoned, the well will be in operation this summer as a temporary measure, he said.

Mr. Westwood also said the parks branch is trying to work out some way to stop people racing cars along the beach, cause of a number of complaints from campers and other visitors.

The department may post warning signs, but policing may have to be left to local forces in Tofino and Ucluelet.

Young Goat Breeders Competing in Show

There will be variety galore when the Vancouver Island Goat Breeders' Association holds its annual kid and yearling show at Saanichton fair grounds on Sunday, June 9.

Lower mainland breeders and 4-H club members from the Surrey area will be entered in the competitions with Vancouver Island "fanciers" and an entry of at least 50 animals is expected.

They will cover four different breeds: Saanens, Alpines, Toggenburgs and Nubians.

Convener of the show is Mrs. Chas. Maule of Saanichton.

VANCOUVER FIRM WINS

Loss of Chip Contract Serious Blow to Duncan

DUNCAN — Awarding of a five-year chip-hauling contract to Arrow Transfer of Vancouver is a big loss to Duncan subcontractor Harsey Transport Ltd., Lloyd Harsey said here Thursday.

The Duncan firm has been subcontracting since 1951 for contractor Bert Gray and this haul in question is between two operations of B.C. Forest Products Ltd. at Youbou and Crofton.

It is understood that some 50 bids were received for the haul, which involves a gross sum of $1,000,000. So far the bids have not been made public.

Unconfirmed reports say the bids are based on units ranging from $2.50 to $3 per unit and a chipper truck can haul about 13 units.

Contractor Gray said the old contract will end on July 31 with the new one beginning Aug. 1. He said six Harsey units are affected by the contract change and a total of 12 drivers will be out of work unless they are absorbed by the new hauling firm.

Sub-contractor Lloyd Harsey said the six chipper trucks represent a total value of $300,000.

Mr. Gray said, although B.C. Forest Products have the legal right to award the contract to any bidder, it is questionable whether it is morally right to take the job away from the Duncan firm.

"It would be unfair of the Public Utilities Commission to give a permit to the Vancouver firm, as it is not possible for Vancouver Island truckers to get a working permit for Vancouver.

"That in itself is an injustice," Mr. Gray said. "It would have been only fair of B.C. Forest Products to make a condition in their contract that whoever got it would have to purchase the rolling equipment of the former trucking firm."

The proposal was put forward by Port Alberni council at the annual one-day conference of the Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities in the Esquimalt Sports Centre.

Approximately 30 delegates attending the conference also elected North Cowichan Reeve D. C. Morton as the 1963 president, succeeding Nanaimo Ald. J. K. Cook.

They also nominated Reeve Morton and Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele as candidates for Island directors on the Union of B.C. Municipalities executive when the senior group meets in the fall.

DUNCAN — A total of 46 girls and 59 boys will participate in the valedictory ceremonies of grade 12 students at Cowichan Senior Secondary School, tonight in the CHS auditorium, commencing at 7:30 p.m.

Valedictorian for the 105 graduates is Michael Lawrance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Lawrance, of Cowichan Station.

DUNCAN — The "Best Cadet" trophy was recently presented to Cpl. John R. Hull, of the Duncan 2422 Cadet Corps, by Maj. Eric Henderson of Victoria, founder of "A" Company Canadian Scottish.

Other awards were made to the following: Cpl. John Aiken, Chemainus, "Best Cadet NCO"; Cpl. Brian Crabbe, Chemainus, F. H. Textor Trophy, "Most Improved Cadet"; RSM Gerd Mast, Chemainus, A. Skean Dhu (dagger), best shot in the cadet corps; Cadet S. Carreck, Duncan, A. Skean Dhu, "Most Improved Piper" in corps band; Cadet John Waters, Duncan, A. Skean Dhu, "Most Improved Junior First-Aider."

Second Lieutenant Norman Carreck, Duncan, best cadet; Pte. Peter Dabb, Ladysmith, now in signal corps, most improved NCO, and Sgt. Doug Carreck, Duncan, most improved cadet, all received replicas of the awards which they won last year.

Harry Wood, drummer instructor, and Jimmy Taylor, first aid instructor, were presented with copies of the Canadian Scottish regimental history, "Ready for the Fray."

The June 15th ceremony coincides with the arrival of HMCS Cowichan in Maple Bay Branch, 53 Legion members will host officers and ratings from the ship following a presentation by the municipality for which the ship is named.

NANAIMO — RCMP have laid a total of 15 charges against three youths alleged to have been responsible for a recent outbreak of thefts and break-ins in this area. Police said additional charges will probably be laid before their investigation is completed.

PORT ALBERNI — An eight-week-old baby is believed to have suffocated in her crib here Wednesday. The inhalator squad was called but attempts to revive her failed. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Delange. A coroner's inquiry will be held.

100,000 HOMELESS IN EAST PAKISTAN

Cyclone Death Toll 5,000

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (Reuters)—Estimates of the death toll in the cyclone-torn Chittagong area of East Pakistan rose as high as 5,000 today. Army rescue teams launched mass inoculation programs among hundreds of thousands of homeless peasants. Chittagong and its population of nearly 500,000 were without water and power, three days after the area was devastated by 150 mile-an-hour winds and floods. The Associated Press of Pakistan said unofficial estimates placed dead at "at least 5,000" on the 80-mile stretch of the Bay of Bengal coastline swept by the storm. The news agency said preliminary reports from the seaside resort of Cox's Bazaar indicated 100,000 persons were homeless and 1,000 dead.

The New Delhi newspaper Statesman said in a dispatch from Dacca, capital of East Pakistan, that the final death toll may be more than 5,000. The governor of East Pakistan, Abdul Monem Khan, said that 85 per cent of the "kutchas" huts that house East Pakistan's poor were destroyed in the cyclone area. He said the seaside resort of Cox's Bazaar, 80 miles south of Chittagong, and many offshore islands still were cut off the damage in the areas was unknown. Monem, after a three-hour air tour of the Bay of Bengal area where the cyclone struck, said damage probably would exceed that of the 1961 tidal wave and cyclone that destroyed or damaged more than 900,000 homes and killed more than 14,000. The Statesman said more than 842 victims of Wednesday's cyclone have been buried in three districts alone, many more bodies were awaiting burial and 600 persons are missing. The worst-hit districts are still to be heard from, the Statesman added, and the final death toll, it is feared, may be more than 5,000. The deputy commissioner of Chittagong toured the disaster area where 150-mile-an-hour winds tore through the mud-and-bamboo hut communities surrounding Chittagong, bringing with them floods that buried the port under five feet of water. The deputy commissioner said 74 bodies were recovered by army troops, but "several hundred" dead were found in villages in one district alone. President Mohammed Ayub Khan announced a relief grant of 1,000,000 rupees ($210,000) Thursday and American Ambassador Walter McConaughy said the United States government would contribute an immediate $10,000 to aid the stricken area.

Race Issue Probed

OTTAWA (CP)—An RCMP investigation is in progress into the barring of 20 U.S. Negro servicemen from a Stephenville, Nfld., club operated by an American citizen. State Secretary J. W. Pickersgill said Wednesday in the Commons. He added in a reply for T. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, that the case is under provincial jurisdiction.

Arthur Mayse

In Gordon Head the pioneer spirit lingers, and when a family's in trouble, the farflung neighbors rally round.

The other night a hard-working housewife and mother fetched one of these crises to our doorstep after she and her husband had tussled with it for an hour.

"It's this homework of Nancy's," she told us. "The teacher gave her the word, 'breathe,' and she has to find three other words ending in an 'h' and an 'e'. We got 'the' and 'she' but 't' can find a third."

"Coelanthie," I suggested, and drew a pitying look. "Nancy is in grade two," our caller reminded me, "and it has to be a grade two-level word."

After some grumbling about the complexities of modern education, we put our heads together, on the grade two level.

Best we could come up with was 'bathe,' a word grade two youngsters hear frequently, although they don't care for it.

There are shorter examples, I'm sure. It's just that what with tent caterpillars, watering restrictions and other adult-level problems, we're too preoccupied to track it down.

In Oak Bay Municipality, of course, they'd crack the problem quicker than you can say "rat."

They're superior-type people in Oak Bay, as police reporter Desmond Bill learned when he checked with the municipal cops . . . sorry . . . constabulary . . . for weekend crime, if any.

"No trouble whatever," a cheery voice assured him. "Not even with those who slipped in from across the borders."

And speaking of Des Bill, who slipped in from Ireland several years ago, he came away from an interview with Joyce pagant Princess Pam Crawford more than ever convinced that the world's a small place.

Both, they discovered, had not only lived in Belfast as children, but on the same street.

From H. H. Little, 931 Bank Street, praise for Mrs. Ada Barner's fine job as matron of B.C. Protestant Orphanage, and a pat on the back for others "who work in this town for the unfortunate."

Mr. Little mentions particularly our city and provincial welfare departments. "They get no recognition," he writes, "and the general public looks on their offices only as pay offices."

"Their outlook is, 'We help others to help themselves,' and with that idea for all cases, it entails much more than just paying out money."

"They have to see that the money so paid is being used with the best effect. They get requests from all types—broken families, destitute families arriving in the city, unmarried mothers, transients, people with upset minds, old-age pensioners. They work all day, and sometimes into the night."

True words; and I sometimes wonder how Bill Hooson, city social welfare administrator, manages to wedge in an hour or two of fishing.

But angle he does, most skillfully, with files magicked from any number of exotic materials. Speaking of which, this might be as good a time as any to confess that I didn't make out so well with the South American mouse-deer hide Bill gave me.

"Too nice to cut up," my daughter decided.

The tiny pet vanished into her room, and I'm forbidden to snip even so much as a trout fly's worth off it.

Bonner Blesses 'Blasted Radar'

By FRANK RUTTER

Attorney-General Robert Bonner today disagreed with Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi's condemnation of "blasted radar."

"Radar is an established aid to traffic law enforcement," Mr. Bonner said.

He should know—he was caught up in the radar trap set last week by Delta police on the highway to Tsawwassen ferry terminal.

He was a passenger in a car driven by his deputy trade minister, Thomas L. Sturgess.

However, he took speedy action to stop the radar checkpoint and his departmental lawyers are now investigating the possibility of refunding fines.

Mr. Gagliardi Thursday declared he was against "this blasted radar" because it was "sneaky."

"It is now used generally," said Mr. Bonner.

"When the first sets arrived police put up warning signs which everybody considered very sporting."

"But now people consider the absence of signs unsporting."

Mr. Gagliardi said police should come out of the bushes and do their duty on the highways.

"As far as the RCMP is concerned the rule is that their car is parked on the highway," Mr. Bonner said.

Motor vehicle superintendent George Lindsay agreed with Mr. Gagliardi that police should not hide. But most police forces now use mobile equipment which is in cars, he added.

Mr. Sturgess was caught last Friday, doing between 45 and 48 mph, and ticketed for violating a slow-to-35 sign, Mr. Bonner said.

"I simply sat quiet until the police procedure was over. Then I invited the officer to describe the basis of the patrol and the justification for the roadblock," said the attorney-general.

Mr. Bonner said this particular trap, on a 60 mph highway, was "a justifiable source of public complaint."

Asked why he did not own up to his personal experience when reporters first called about the trap earlier this week, Mr. Bonner replied:

"I should not be the one to describe somebody else's complaints."

However, he said he felt he was doing his job if he found law enforcement was improper and should be corrected.

Heroic Dog Finds Child In Bushland

By LESLIE MILLIN

A tracking dog found a little girl about two miles from her Ladysmith home this morning after she had been missing overnight for more than 14 hours.

Cindy Wagar, 6, was discovered asleep, unharmed and apparently happy at 8 a.m. after a frenzied search by more than 400 volunteers.

Entire Ladysmith area was combed twice Thursday night by searchers under the leadership of Fire Chief James Lunden and civil defence co-ordinator Bill Dabb.

Search was called off until daylight when no signs of the missing girl were reported by early this morning.

Regular RCMP tracking dog was not available for the search, but a German shepherd owned by Ivan Beggs was brought in from Chemainus, about 15 miles distant, at first light.

The dog found Cindy a mile and a half from Ladysmith High School, asleep in dense bush near the Stocking Lake dam. Cindy was carried piggyback to hospital, and then returned home after a checkup.

Her mother, Mrs. George Wagar, 336 Datare, told the Times that Cindy was tired and hungry, but apparently none the worse for her night of wandering.

VISITING
Cindy was visiting the home of a friend in the late afternoon, and decided to go home about 6 p.m., Mrs. Wagar said.

She started to return home, and took a shortcut through dense bush near Malone Road. Confused by a tangle of trails, she returned to her friend's house and requested help to find her way home.

While her friend was getting a bicycle, Cindy wandered off again—the wrong way, away from home and away from the area that was later searched.

Searchers linked hands at one point to stumble through darkness and dense bush around Holland Creek, five blocks from Cindy's home.

Sound trucks roamed the streets of Ladysmith during the night as searchers kept in touch by means of walkie-talkie radios.

The whole city seemed lighted up Thursday night as volunteer searchers from as far away as Chemainus joined Ladysmith residents in the hunt.

CINDY WAGAR . . . tired, hungry

Some of the searchers slept in the fire hall in between hunts. Women volunteers served coffee there.

"It really made me feel good that so many people turned out," said Mrs. Wagar. "It was quite a strain, but two ladies came and stayed with me, answering the phone so I could get some rest."

"Mr. Beggs' dog from Chemainus found Cindy. It sure is wonderful what these dogs can do."

Mrs. Wagar's husband, George Wagar, was not at home while Cindy was lost. He is working in Fort St. John. "Cindy seems tired, but quite happy," said Mrs. Wagar. "She's hungry, too."

Mrs. Wagar said this morning that the entire Wagar family planned to spend the day in bed.

"It was quite a strain," she repeated.

Renovated Princess Draws Large Crowd

About 2,000 shipping fans walked through the "new" Princess Patricia Thursday as the luxury cruise liner held open house at the CPR's Belleville Street docks.

She has just been given a $1,000,000 outfitting by Yarrows Ltd., and enters the Alaska cruise service to replace Princess Louise, with the first sailing from Vancouver Saturday.

Topics of the Day

The Royal Ambassadors Quartet from the Canadian Nazarene College, Winnipeg, will present a musical program in Esquimalt Church of the Nazarene, Craigflower Road, tonight at 7:45.

Prospect Lake and District Community Association has called for immediate steps to provide a good source of drinking water and to improve any faulty septic tanks around the lake.

The association endorsed committee recommendations that a study be made on the possibility of drilling a deep well or using springs for water.

The committee further suggested the possibility of homes having separate chlorinating systems.

New Westminster water skier Jim Sincow plans to attempt a round-trip crossing from Kitsilano Beach to Oak Bay June 9 to mark the Maritime Festival sponsored by the Captain Vancouver Club. It was announced today.

He expects to water-ski across the strait and back in about four hours.

An ice cream delivery man was committed for trial Thursday in city police court after a preliminary hearing on a charge of indecent assault.

Driver Fred Schumann, 1539 Burton, is charged with assaulting a nine-year-old girl. Police testified they saw Schumann lure the girl into his truck with an ice cream bar, and assault her.

Oak Bay Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold a car wash Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Shelbourne shopping plaza.

The annual meeting of the PPCLI Association will be held in the Sergeants' Mess, Work Point Barracks, at 8 tonight.

An 11-year-old Nanaimo boy has entered his 20th day of unconsciousness at St. Joseph's Hospital after a bicycle accident at Nanaimo.

Gordon Rasmussen suffered head injuries when he crashed into a concrete block at a carport.

He is only in fair condition.

"A" group of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Monterey parking lot for a field trip to McKenzie Creek, Thetis Lake Road.

The Nature House at Francis Park will be open on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nature walks will be conducted during the afternoon.

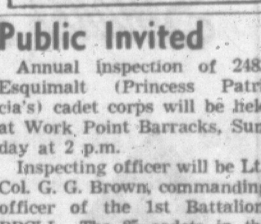

The Young Peoples Group of Garden City United Church will hold a 99 cent car wash at Burnside Safeway Store, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Seghers CYO will meet in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall tonight at 9.

Nigel Young of London, England, will speak on "Great Britain—Satellite or Leader?" at a meeting of the British Israel Association, Monday at 7 p.m. in Newstead Hall, 731 Fort Street.

Victoria Section, Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers will tour an RCN destroyer escort Tuesday to inspect marine electrical and electronic installations.

Members will meet at the main gate, HMC Dockyard at 7 p.m.

SUGAR BATTLE SWEETENS DAY FOR SHOPPERS

A sugar price war in the Victoria area this week has kicked prices down better than 40 cents on 10-pound bags.

The price-cutting started three days ago in several parts of the city and by today had spread to the supermarket chains and a large number of independent stores where sugar was selling at $1.49 for 10 pounds.

Several grocers predicted, however, that the price war would not likely last beyond this weekend since the $1.49 price is 35 cents below the wholesale price to dealers.

The local wholesale price of sugar in Victoria is now "right on the market" after weeks of lagging behind increases set by refiners at Vancouver and in eastern Canada.

Despite this week's local price war in sugar, predictions of higher prices for candy, confections and other high sugar content foods still hold good, according to wholesalers.

Nun Leads Teacher Classes

Highest marks in Victoria College's faculty of education were won this year by a nun, Sister Linda Marie, of the Sisters of St. Ann, whose final average mark was 86 per cent.

Sister Linda was leader of the second year class.

Mrs. Sheila J. Smith led the graduate one-year program with an 84 per cent average.

Leader of the third year class was Anne Kemp, whose average was 83.3 per cent.

First year top student was Linda Parfitt, whose average was 80 per cent.

Leader of the graduating class, Mrs. C. J. Breese, was not awarded an average, since she was completing only one course for her degree.

A complete list of first class marks follows:

First year: Linda Parfitt, 80 per cent.

Second year: Sister Linda Marie, 86 per cent; Sister Andrea Marie, 82 per cent; Sylvia Mobey, 81.3 per cent; Donna Smyth, 80.7 per cent; Barbara Barton, 80 per cent.

Third year: Anne Kemp, 83.3 per cent; Glenda Keys, 82.2 per cent; Jane Gilliland, 80.3 per cent; Catherine Hatch, 80 per cent.

Fourth year (graduating class): Mrs. C. J. Breese; Joyce Butler; Mrs. N. I. Mickelson. (No average awarded.)

Public Invited

Annual inspection of 2483 Esquimalt (Princess Patricia's) cadet corps will be held at Work Point Barracks, Sunday at 2 p.m.

Inspecting officer will be Lt. Col. G. G. Brown, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, PPCLI. The 85 cadets in the corps will march past in review order, and put on a demonstration drill.

There will be 300 seats available to the public.

Ask The Times

Q. Why is it impossible to procure through local chartered banks, Canadian silver dollars? If they are not for circulation, why are they minted? K. E. T.

A. It is not impossible to do this. Bank tellers often have silver dollars in their tills. Local chartered banks can order silver dollars from the Bank of Canada but this is usually done in shipments of 50 to 100.

Today, silver dollars are still in circulation but are not used too much because of their weight.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve complicated or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to the Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Next Move on Gas Up to Independents

Next move in the Victoria gasoline price war seems to be up to the independent private brand retailers.

Imperial Oil, which shuffled prices twice this week—up two cents a gallon Monday and down one cent Thursday—was sitting tight at 39.9 cents a gallon for regular gas. The other major companies, which followed the Imperial lead, were all selling at the same price.

The independents—two Pay-N-Save and two Mohawk stations—continued this morning to sell at 38.9 cents a gallon after moving up one cent when Imperial made its two-cent upward swing.

Net result of this week's manoeuvring is that the major companies have achieved a one-cent increase in margin while still holding the independents to a one-cent differential.

Traditionally in gasoline retailing the independents sell at two cents a gallon less than the majors. They claim they need this differential to attract enough volume to make a profit on the lower margin.

However, in Victoria, Imperial has more or less served notice that it will not accept the two-cent difference in prices. Most observers believe that if the independents cut prices another cent, Imperial will also cut by the same amount—putting the price situation right back where it was before last Monday.

Princess Wants Her Island Developed 'for the People'

By NORMAN CHIBBENS

Princess Margaret is anxious that the B.C. island named after her should be used "in the best interests of the province," Viscount Amory of Tiverton, British high commissioner to Canada, said here today.

Formerly Portland Island—a mile off Swartz Bay—the property was presented to Princess Margaret by Premier Bennett as a centennial symbol in July, 1958.

"I understand the princess is in touch with your government concerning the future of the island, tall, quiet-spoken Lord Amory told a Times reporter.

"She is anxious that it be used in the best interests of the people of British Columbia. At one time she considered living on the island, but now she is married and has a family, this no longer seems practicable."

Viscount Amory said the matter is one of "some delicacy" between Princess Margaret and the B.C. government. He rejected any suggestion that she regarded the island as "a hollow gift."

"I know she feels it was a most gracious gesture on the part of your government."

Crossing to Swartz Bay in the B.C. government ferry this morning, Viscount Amory met

Premier Bennett and had breakfast with him in a private cabin.

"We had a most interesting talk," he said. "He was most enthusiastic about the Peace River power development and other provincial projects and spoke optimistically of B.C.'s future trade relations with Britain."

Viscount Amory revealed that Britain's unemployment has now fallen to 2.4 per cent of the population—a considerable improvement over the last two months.

"One good sign is that many firms are now advertising for skilled workers of 60 and over. This does not mean they cannot get younger men, but that they have the good sense to appreciate the value and experience of men over 60."

"I know because I am over 60 myself."

Nearing the close of a two-year term as high commissioner to Canada, Viscount Amory will return to Britain next October. His successor will be Sir Henry Lintott, an experienced diplomat.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Include Imported Cheese
In Your Weekend Menus

By PENNY SAVER

Connoisseurs of French cheese will be co-la-lah-ing all over the place this weekend when they learn about the new arrivals in a local shop—brie, Camembert and chevre cheeses.

In fact, the cheese has been so recently imported straight from France that shopkeeper hasn't yet had time to price it. But they are genuine and a taste treat you can't get too often. The uninitiated should try some and see.

Shop also carries a complete line of liquor syrups which can be used for cooking, summer cocktails or just as cool non-alcoholic drinks, with water added. Among flavors available are benedictine, apricot brandy, creme de menthe, kirsch (cherry) and anisette (which has a licorice taste that is "really delicious" according to shop's owner). These are all 69 cents a bottle.

Another line of the same kind of thing features a 17-ounce bottle of grenadine for $1.10. And if you look blank at the mention of grenadine, I can now tell you (after extensive research into the dictionary!) that it is a syrup made of pomegranates or red currants.

Other items which shop carries and which are designed for the gourmet diet or for those tired of every day food are canned artichoke hearts from Spain which sell for 50 cents a tin. Shopkeeper recommends that they be served with a cream sauce or a French dressing—but not hot like ordinary greens as this ruins them, she found to her dismay!

There are also canned baby carrots which come from Belgium and are "lovely." Tin is 45 cents.

Make your weekend menu different with any of these items by calling Penny at 382-3131 to ask where she shopped.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most Effective Healer of Stretch Marks Is—Time!

Q. "Because I believed that you have a real interest in people and their problems I am writing you. I am a 22-year-old housewife and since the birth of my daughter (now almost 3) I have been ashamed to wear a bathing suit though I love to swim."

Lowman

"I have stretch marks all over my abdomen and thighs. They are so bad that I can actually feel them when I touch them. Please tell me if there is anything which will help and which is not too expensive. Will future children make them worse? I have no family doctor. My husband is in the army and we do not get to know military doctors well."

A. Thank you for your confidence. I am sorry that I do not know anything but time which will help the stretch marks. They do fade out gradually to some extent. It is easier to avoid them than to get rid of them. With your next pregnancy do not become overweight. Many women who have been very fat for some time have these. Also lubricate your abdomen and thighs each night during pregnancy with a good oil or melted cocoa butter.

In the meantime do not let these marks affect your life. There is no reason to be ashamed of them. Many women have them. If you wish, use a waterproof liquid make-up on your thighs and legs when you swim. This will help.

Q. "I know lots of girls would appreciate a column about puffiness around the eye area. I understand that this does not stem from an illness it can be reduced and discouraged by daily care. Is there a cream or lotion which will reduce this condition?"

A. If you have this trouble, first see your doctor for a physical examination to rule out any illness or abnormality which might cause the puffiness. Next investigate your habits. Do you get enough sleep? Do you get outdoor exercise regularly? Are you well nourished? Do you eat a balanced diet? All of these factors affect our appearance.

If you discover nothing wrong with your habits, then think of allergies. Often eyes swell when you come in contact with something to which you are allergic. You might try using one of the cosmetics which is planned for those who are allergic to the usual kind. The following is a trick well known to actresses. To reduce eye swelling, dip two little tea bags in hot water and place them over your closed eyes or on the area which is swollen. When they begin to cool dip them into hot water again.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Plastic Potato Bags

Recently an alert housewife sent to Consumers Association of Canada a pink plastic bag in which potatoes were being sold in her retail store. This completely colored bag, she complained, made it impossible for buyers to judge the quality and condition of the potatoes.

The food and drug directorate has ruled that fruit and vegetable bags made entirely of tinted plastic are deceptive and contrary to the Food and Drug Act. When tinted plastic is used for bags for these products, one side of the bag must be of clear plastic to allow the contents to be clearly seen. Regulations state that packages must not mislead the buyer as to the true nature and contents of the package.

It is understood that the potatoes in the pink bags have been removed from the market, because they violated these regulations.

Polypropylene moved quietly on to hosiery counters this week.

Rummage sale, St. Louis College Mothers' Club, tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the college, 1002 Pandora Avenue. Next meeting will be Monday at 7 p.m. in the college.

On behalf of the Victoria Jewish women's B'Nai B'rith Chapter No. 6, the president, Miss Gertrude Cohen presented a cheque for $1,000 to George Masters, business administrator of Royal Jubilee Hospital, for a room in the new Royal Wing. Money was raised through a newspaper bingo last year. In the picture, from the left, are Mrs. Sonia Rose, Miss Cohen, Mr. Masters and Mrs. M. L. Greene. B'Nai B'rith is world wide. The local chapter does much to help youth groups and local charities.

Mrs. Charles Kernan of Maxwelltown, Scotland, and her brother, Adam Carnochan of Victoria, met for the first time in 54 years when Mrs. Kernan spent a short time in the city with Mr. and Mrs. Carnochan at their Head Street home. Mrs. Kernan left Friday by jet plane to return to Scotland.

DEAR ABBY...

'Carats' and Lettuce!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What should a person do when someone asks her how many carats her diamond ring is? I have recently become engaged and am wearing a very beautiful diamond ring. I have had people I hardly know ask me this question. Of course I KNOW how many carats my ring is but I don't think it's anybody else's business. How should I handle this?

HAVE A DIAMOND DEAR HAVE: Those who ask how many carats a diamond is are far more interested in how much lettuce is involved. The only good answer to a presumptuous question is an honest, "I'm not telling."

DEAR ABBY: My wife is my problem. We've been married 22 years and have one child, a daughter, 17. She's a normal, average girl and has never given us any trouble. My wife has been a personal maid for this child all her life. She's never allowed her to spend a night with a girl friend or go to summer camp. When the question of college came up, my wife said Doris (not her real name) went away to college—life wouldn't be worth living and she'd die of loneliness. Personally, I think Doris should go away to college. She wants to, but her mother won't even discuss it. What should be done?

ONLY THE FATHER DEAR ONLY: It appears that you already have one neurotic woman on your hands—do you want to try for two? Ask your clergyman, family doctor or someone outside your family, whose opinion your wife respects, to point out to your wife that her "attachment" to her daughter is not good. Now is the time to curtail it, or you will soon be looking for a psychiatrist with twin couches.

DEAR ABBY: We had a big discussion about which is more important in rearing children—heredity or environment. It is very discouraging for parents to be told that, in spite of their efforts, heredity plays a far more important part in the character of their children. I disagree completely. I'd like your views.

THINKER

DEAR THINKER: The frightening thing about heredity and environment is that we parents provide both!

Councillors

Included among 80 national councillors elected to the National Chapter of Canada, Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, before closing of the order's 63rd annual meeting in Victoria this week are the following from British Columbia: Mrs. K. H. Bancroft and Mrs. Frank Stead of Vancouver; Mrs. Peter Bell and Mrs. V. H. Sheppard, Victoria; Mrs. V. C. Best, Ganges, and Mrs. A. B. Hall, Nanaimo.

Bridal Showers

Gift Umbrella

An umbrella decorated in pink and white shades contained gifts when Mrs. M. Neufeld entertained in her Richmond Road home in honor of Miss Frances Gentry. A red rose corsage was presented to the honor guest and pink carnations to her mother, Mrs. Harold Gent. Other guests were Mrs. E. Willey, Mrs. M. Johnston, Mrs. V. Burr, Mrs. N. Higgs, Mrs. D. Bosson, Mrs. M. Casey, Mrs. M. Gent, Mrs. S. Gill, Mrs. D. Blevins, Mrs. F. Bosson, Mrs. D. Bennett, and the Misses Elaine Mat, Roberta Scott, Louise Mat, chuk, Patricia Evans, Sharon Gill, Lorraine Essery, Lois Bennett and Margaret Neufeld.

Mrs. L. Hogan, Mrs. L. Elliott, Mrs. A. Gale, Mrs. I. Fisher, Mrs. H. Cockburn, Mrs. I. Pederson, Mrs. S. Baines, Mrs. F. Blow, Mrs. D. Garvie, Mrs. I. Schultz, Mrs. R. Hines, Long Island, N.Y., and the Misses Sue Atkinson and Patricia O'Brien.

For Bride-Elect

Mrs. T. A. Lomas entertained at a recent shower in her Rithet Street home in honor of her niece, Miss Sue-Ann Lomas. Gifts were in a decorated container and presented by the bride-to-be's cousin, Shelley Lomas and her young friend, Jacqueline Landry. White carnations were presented to Miss Lomas and pink, to her mother, Mrs. A. V. Lomas. Also attending were Mrs. R. Collins, Mrs. W. T. Streeter, Mrs. M. Frampton, Mrs. B. Ward, Mrs. J. Tetzlaff and the Misses Lyn Lomas, Mary Alice Lassater and Donna Downard.

Co-Hostesses

Mrs. B. Palin and Mrs. L. Larsen were co-hostesses at a recent shower given in the latter's Central Avenue home in honor of bride-elect, Miss Linda Brandson. Guests included the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. J. E. Coates, Mesachie Lake; Mrs. B. Pollard, Mrs. J. B. Hedley, Mrs. D. Ingham, Mrs. S. G. Pettit, Mrs. J. Edwards, Mrs. J. W. Clark, Mrs. G. E. ## OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Luncheon

Miss Margaret E. MacLellan, president of Canadian Federation of University Women, who was in Victoria on her official visit to the local club, was honored at a luncheon party on Wednesday, given by the retiring executive of the club, the newly-elected officers and conveners of committees. Covers were laid for 20 at Victoria Golf Club.

Europe. They plan to return to their Mount Joy Avenue home in early September.

Vacation Here

Rev. John E. Bell, MA, Ed.D., and Mrs. Bell, who have been spending a short vacation in Victoria, staying at Cadboro Court, returned to their home in San Francisco on Thursday. Dr. Bell, a former assistant minister of First United Church has been program director at the National Institute of Mental Health, Region 9, in San Francisco since 1956. He will teach the first university course in family group treatment this summer at University of California.

In Vancouver

Miss Arlene Ellis who is to be married in June was honored at a luncheon in Vancouver at the Narvaez Drive home of Mrs. H. T. Peters. Covers were laid for 10. A shower was also given in Vancouver for Miss Ellis, the hostess being Mrs. George Paulin, 2016 W 14th Avenue. There were 20 guests.

Hear Vows

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mitchell came from Baie d'Urse, P.Q., to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Judith Webb, to Mr. Terence Lytle. Also from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. James Allen of Vancouver, and another aunt, Mrs. Blanche White, North Pender Island.

Overseas Trip

Prof. and Mrs. Wilfrid Johns left Thursday for a three-month tour of western Europe. They will make the trip in the S.S. Carmania, docking in Le Havre. Prof. Johns lectures in fine arts at Victoria College and he and his wife will visit the major art galleries of

Convention

Mrs. J. A. McLellan will be in Vancouver next week to attend the 17th annual British Columbia provincial convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, to be held Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. McLellan is convenor for legislation and civil defence. Also attending will be Mrs. J. R. Hogan, East Sooke, convenor of publicity and magazine.

Theme of convention is "Revitalization of the Catholic Way of Life."

PSYCHIATRIC NURSING

University Program Unveiled

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A new concept of psychiatric nursing training involving a university program has been unveiled by a University of B.C. nursing school instructor.

LONGER COURSE

Mrs. Margaret Neylan told 100 psychiatric nurses attending a seminar at nearby Essondale Mental Hospital this week that, if implemented, the plan would eliminate the present two years of technical training and replace it with a four to six-year university course.

Mrs. Neylan criticized the present training program and said fully-trained psychiatric nurses and teachers are lacking because of it.

"Today 30 per cent of our present nursing teachers have had no preparation for teaching any psychiatric nursing," she said. "Forty-four per cent have had one year of training and only 26 per cent have two years' training in the psychiatric field."

Only officer cadet from Vancouver Island to take part in today's graduation ceremonies at Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, was Officer Cadet R. J. Beardmore. His family came down from Port Alberni for the ceremonies. They are, left to right, his aunt, Mrs. E. Ortiz; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Beardmore; Trudy, eight, and his brother, Ricky.

Proudest parents at today's ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jakubow, extreme left, whose son, D/CWC Roman P. Jakubow captured the four top awards. Seen chatting with them are Prof. C. F. Dalsin, head of the college's mathematics department; Mrs. Dalsin and their small daughter, Wendy. The Jakubows' home is in Holden, Alberta.

Parents Watch Cadets Graduate

Brilliant sunshine, a glimpse of the sea and impressive backdrop of the castle set the scene for colorful ceremonies at the Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, this afternoon, which saw senior officer cadets taking part in graduation ceremonies prior to enrolling in the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., for a further two years' study.

Many of the graduates' parents were present at the ceremony. This evening they will join the young cadets and their partners at the graduation ball, to be held on the quarterdeck of the college.

They include Mr. and Mrs. R. Archer of Newmarket, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Armstrong of Willowdale, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arnold of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bailey of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Baxter of Regina; Mr. and Mrs. B. Bird of Vegreville, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Broomfield of Merritt, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. C. Brown of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. S. G. H. Haas of Calgary; Mrs. T. Hinton, Windsor, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Leitch of Brantford, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Reed of Ancaster, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rutherford of Woodbridge, Ont.; Sgt. and Mrs. B. M. Summers of Chilliwack, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Williams of North Surrey and Mr. and Mrs. P. Walker of Lethbridge, Alta.

Attending from Victoria were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Braden, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. O. Guelpa and Mrs. B. Spotswood.

Rev. and Mrs. R. N. Wright of Moose Jaw, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Bennett of Claresholm, Alta.; Mrs. E. F. Bevington, Richmond, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Chisholm of Port Credit, Ont.; Mr. H. H. Griffin, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs.

Farewell Party

Mrs. L. A. Young, who is leaving to live in West Vancouver, was guest of honor at an afternoon party arranged by Brig. E. Woods at Sunset Lodge. More than 40 guests and staff members attended. Mrs. Young was given a corsage of red roses. Brig Woods presented her with a gift from the staff and Mrs. E. Bird presented a "gift of love" from residents in the lodge.

White and Yellow Decor Chosen

Yellow iris, white snapdragons and stocks decorated St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church when Dr. J. L. W. McLean heard the vows that united Judith Ellen Webb, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Webb, 517 Ker Avenue, and Terence David Lytle, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. B. Lytle, 615 Ralph Street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white organza over satin that featured lily point sleeves and trim of sequined lace on the scalloped neckline.

Organza roses enhanced the lace V panel at back of gown. A sequin-studded coronet held the chapel-length veil. Red roses and white carnations were in her bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. George Webb chose a gown of turquoise chiffon over taffeta, matching flowered whimsie and white and turquoise carnation bouquet.

Similar ensembles in yellow were worn by bridesmaids, the Misses Valerie Lytle and Sheila Smale. Their bouquets were white and yellow carnations.

Jack Waters was best man and ushering guests were Charles South, Robert Hamilton and George Webb. Christopher Hind sang "The Twenty Third Psalm."

George South proposed the toast at a reception in Holyrood House. Red roses flanked the three-tier wedding cake which centred head table. Guests danced to piano music played by Andy Anderson.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Washington State the bride wore a two-piece suit in deep plum blue which she had made herself. Accessories were white. Newlyweds will make their home in Victoria.

Victoria Man Wed on Mainland

Lighted candles marked guests' pews in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Vancouver, when Sandra Eleanor Blusson exchanged vows with Graeme Claude Howard. Canon F. Nicholson officiated. Fred Parkinson sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald H. Blusson of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Howard of Victoria. Entering the church on her father's arm, the bride wore a floor-length gown of organza over taffeta and net. Scalloped edges of the finger-tip veil were bordered with seed pearls. Tallman roses in tangerine tone were in her bouquet.

Tangerine and gold flowers were patterned on the beige brocade gowns chosen by maid of honor, Miss Eileen Anderson, and bridesmaids, the Misses Pat Smith and Frances Blackenbach.

GAY COLORS

Complementing their ensembles were matching head bows, tangerine elbow-length gloves and shoes and bouquets of gold-shaded carnations.

Brian Howard was best man for his brother, and ushers were Fred Parkinson and Warren Elliot.

Art Goldfinch, Chilliwack, proposed the toast to the bride at a reception in the Graduate Student Centre, University of British Columbia.

For her going-away outfit the bride chose a beige suit and accessories, tangerine gloves and corsage of Talisman rosebuds. The newlyweds will make their home in Vancouver.

SOLUTION MONDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A funny thing happened... my mother and my wife crashed President Kennedy's private birthday party (for 600 people)... and got me in... and they weren't even trying to crash... so they insist.

Mother had come in from Fort Wayne by bus—she loves buses—a few hours before. She's 76, short and peppery, and has her daisies regularly—one every three months.

I took Mother and the B.W. to the Waldorf Bull and Bear for dinner so we could be on the edge of the birthday excitement. They twitted me about being such a big shot I couldn't get invited. "I don't care about seeing him," Mother said. "It's all right," she added, comfortingly.

Agitated, I excused myself to look around.

The security was tight! Ropes were up. JFK had left the Sert Room three times to go to the office of Mng. Director Tom Kane. A Secret Service man told me I just couldn't get in.

I went back to Peacock Alley to tell this sad news. Suddenly a chap said:

"Your wife and mother are in at the birthday party. You want to go?"

"How did they get in?" I asked.

"They just went in," this party shrugged.

And with that, he led me inside the rotunda area... where I saw everybody... from Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer to Leslie Uggams, Mitch Miller, Louis Armstrong, Jimmy Durante, Van Johnson, Henry Fonda, Carol Haney and Peter Lawford.

Down there in the second row were my two women—ogling President Kennedy, and Bobby, and Lyndon Johnson—sitting there just as entrenched-looking as though they'd paid for their seats.

It was a great lesson for me after all these years of reporting and gate-crashing.

To wit, for women it's easier to gate-crash. They don't ever admit they're doing it.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Somebody claiming to represent Liz Taylor phoned the Regency Hotel to ask for the Presidential suite for June 11.

Told that Eddie Fisher already had that suite reserved, the party said "Forget it."

Sugar Ray Robinson, who has claustrophobia, wouldn't take the elevator to the celebrities' room at the Waldorf—he walked the three flights... Van Johnson figures he has a fan at Cedars of Lebanon hospital, where he underwent surgery—someone stole his medical records from the files... Shelly Berman'll appear on B'way again in "Smallest Show on Earth," a satire on TV

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then see Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to select to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and at the second question a 10-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Carla Anconetani, age 11, of Seattle, Wash., for her question:

What is Platinum?

In Washington, D.C., there is a carefully-protected metal bar 39.37 inches long. It is one of the cherished possessions of the Bureau of Standards, for it is the standard length of the metre. You might mistake the metal for silver, but it is an alloy of platinum, much harder, much heavier and much more valuable than silver.

Platinum is not a plentiful metal, but until about 100 years ago it was quite cheap. Then our age of industry discovered that the silvery metal had certain excellent qualities. Jewelers admired the handsome metal and used it to set off the glittering beauty of diamonds. The price of platinum soared. In 1916, a cubic foot of platinum was worth $2.5 million. This amount of metal would just about fill an ordinary bread box.

Nowadays, the same amount of platinum is worth about $35,000. Its value varies from a little less to a little more than the price of gold. It weighs a little more than gold and twice as much as silver.

Our bread box of platinum would weigh eight times more than the same box filled with aluminum.

Platinum has many of the qualities of gold. It is easy to work and so ductile that it can be pulled into a wire 30 times finer than a human hair. These thin metal threads of platinum are used in delicate instruments. It is a durable metal and refuses to rust in the air. Most acids cannot corrode it. In order to dissolve a platinum ring we would have to soak it in aqua regia, a strong chemical mixture of nitric and hydrochloric acids.

A metal of such fine qualities has a wide assortment of uses in industry. It is equally valuable to the jeweler. Aside from its moonlit beauty, links of platinum are used to make chains which are far more durable than chains of silver.

Spaniards Named Platinum

Platinum is one of the chemical elements with a place on the Periodic Table. Its atomic number is 78, and its atomic weight is 195.2. It is often mixed with other metals, such as gold and silver, to make alloys. The Bureau of Standards uses an alloy of platinum with 10 per cent iridium to make the standard measures for the meter and other units.

In nature, platinum occurs in grains and flakes and nuggets—often in the same sands which yield fragments of gold. It was named by the Spanish explorers who found the Indians using the silvery-white metal. The Spaniards did not know its good qualities and gave it little value. They named it platinum, meaning little or less than silver.

Car Wash

Goldstream Chapter, Order of DeMolay will hold a car wash Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the Town and Country shopping plaza.

Bathroom Scale Makes Artificial Drowning Victim

MONTREAL (CP)—An ordinary bathroom scale may be used to teach a person how much pressure to apply in giving artificial respiration, says Dr. Guy Fortin.

He told a meeting here of surgeons from New York, Boston and Montreal knowing how much pressure you're applying is important because a husky person could easily break an injured person's ribs while trying to revive him.

An anesthetist at Montreal's Notre Dame Hospital, Dr. Fortin said the bathroom scales are used in training ambulance crews at the hospital.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Buddy Hackett leaves this note in dressing rooms, to remind other entertainers to do their best: "Tonight someone here is here who had to save up to come."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The man who has nothing to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like the potato—the only good belonging to him is underground." — Sir Thomas Overbury.

EARL'S PEARLS: Who said women can't keep a secret? A fellow told Robert Ryan his wife had opened six charge accounts before he found out.

SAM'S STRIP

NOTICE HOW COMIC CHARACTERS ALWAYS HAVE ACTION LINES WHEN THEY FALL!

WATCH THIS

REMEMBER! YOU SAW IT FIRST IN THIS COMIC STRIP!

APARTMENT 3-G

IN LOVE—IN LOVE—IN LOVE— WITH A WONDERFUL GUY!

WELL, IF YOU ARE I WISH YOU'D KEEP IT TO YOURSELF IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT, MARGE!

OH, TONNIE— HE'S WONDERFUL! WONDERFUL!

BUT NOW THAT YOU'VE AWAKENED ME, TELL ME THE WHOLE GRUESOME STORY!

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MY LIFE—I'M REALLY, TRULY, HELPLESSLY IN LOVE!

DO YOU THINK ONE HUMAN BEING HAS THE RIGHT TO TELL ANOTHER HUMAN BEING WHAT TO DO?

I DON'T SEE WHY NOT.

I'M KINDA GLAD TO HEAR YOU SAY THAT.

GET THAT STUPID THING OFF MY FOOT!

OH, IT'S ALL RIGHT, MR. SMITH. SOME TIME YOU CAN FLY US TO VENUS— OR HAWAII.

ABOUT RIGHT NOW IT'S SLING-SHOT MOUNTAIN VIRGINIA, MOANS CRUEL CERTIE.

MY BIRTHPLACE WAS RIGHT AT THE FOOT OF OLD SLINGSHOT MOUNTAIN. I CAN SEE IT NOW IN MY MIND'S EYE, SAYS B.G. PLUNTY.

ONLY ONE FELLER EVER MADE THE TOP OF OLD SLINGSHOT'S DOUBLE PEAKS AND HE BROKE HIS NECK GETTIN' DOWN AND DIED.

HEY! THAT ROCKET IS RUNNING WILD, PHINEAS! ARE YOU SURE YOU CHECKED OUT THE GUIDANCE SYSTEM?!

GUIDANCE SYSTEM?? OH, NO!

I'VE GOT IT IN MY POCKET!

CAPTAIN GATO, YOU'RE NOT SAILING FOR HAPLES AS SCHEDULED. I DEMAND YOU PUT ME AND MY SON ASHORE.

CERTAINLY, SENORA, JUST AS SOON AS WE REACH PORT.

I MEAN NOW, YOU'RE CARRYING EXPLOSIVES, THIS SHIP COULD BE BLOWN UP.

BEST ASSURED, MY DEAR SENORA, THAT WE WILL TAKE EVERY POSSIBLE PRECAUTION.

MEANWHILE, NAVY PLANES KEEP WATCH ON THE BRIM DEL MAR.

THEY'VE CHANGED COURSE. THEY'RE HEADING FOR COSTA GRANDE.

HERE— SEE IF YOU CAN BALANCE A PEA ON YOUR NOSE LIKE THIS

WHY YES... WE CAN ENLARGE YOUR PICTURE!

AND, THERE'S SOMETHING PECULIAR ABOUT THIS WHOLE SITUATION. I WONDER WHAT WENT ON WHEN ABOUT YOUNG LE DEY'S DEATH!

ARENAS GONS

AIN'T THIS OLD LADY LE DEY'S BOY? THE ONE THAT DIED IN A INSTITUTION?

BRING ME SOME KETCHUP! YOU HAVE KETCHUP ON EVERYTHING! YOUR SPNACK! YOUR HAM! YOUR COFFEE!

I LIKE KETCHUP! WHAT'S SO WRONG ABOUT THAT?

NOTHING, EXCEPT WHO'S GOING TO EAT THE REST OF YOUR FROZEN-KETCHUP DESSERT?!

MARCIA SAYS THAT WHEN SHE'S MARRIED SHE'LL GO TO WORK WITH HER HUSBAND, GO TO BUSINESS CONFERENCES WITH HIM, GO TO HIS LODGE MEETINGS WITH HIM, GO BOWLING WITH HIM, AND EVEN BE WITH HIM IN HIS BASEMENT WORKSHOP...

IS THAT TRUE, MARCIA?

YES, IT GUARANTEES ME THAT MY HUSBAND AND I WILL HAVE A LOT IN COMMON...

—ALSO, IT GUARANTEES THAT I'LL GET THE MOST OUT OF A DAYS NAGGING...

Navy Recruits Junior Officers
OTTAWA (CP) — The navy has relaxed its enlistment standards to get more junior officers for ships and aircraft.
Naval headquarters announced today that it now will accept applications for seven-year service commission from men between 17 and 24 with junior matriculation or its equivalent in general or technical courses.
The navy hopes to enlist 63 men for seven-year commissions. Recruits will be enrolled as officer cadets and in September will start a four-month training course at Esquimalt, B.C.

Kin Beating Big Drum For Tattoo

An eight-foot bass drum that four men took a week to build is the giant red and white symbol of Victoria Kinsmen Clubs' Junior Tattoo Saturday at Memorial Arena.
Tattoo chairman Bruce Auchinville, Ken Kightly, Roy Couch and Bob Chapman made the resounding brute out of plywood and four gallons of paint for the Victoria Day celebration and kept it to display in the arena foyer during the tattoo.
They claim it is the biggest drum in the five Kinsmen districts of B.C.
Mounted on its small trailer, it stands just twice the height of 4'6" Highland dancer Megan Hurn, nine, of 2808 Thompson, who has been appearing with the drum around the city.
More than 300 children and the Victoria Girls' Drill Team—plus featured performer baton-queen Pamela Carr, 22—will take part in the tattoo in two performances Saturday afternoon and evening.
There will be bands, dancers and marchers.

Murdered By Stripper

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 21-year-old night club stripper, Maxine Gross of Buffalo, N.Y., has been convicted of murdering a Filipino doctor. She was convicted Wednesday of first-degree murder in the slaying of Dr. Deogracias Castro Deleon, 29, whose nude, burned body was found in a shower stall in a Baltimore hotel last Nov. 25.

WINNER DATES MISS VICTORIA

Race to Benefit Y Fund

Stock cars will be making their usual circuit around the Western Speedway oval Saturday night but they'll all save a little gas for June 29.
That's Archie McKinnon's "Night."
Vancouver Island Track Racing Association president Bob Low and city businessman Derek Todd made public the plans Wednesday.
"We're hoping for a crowd of about 10,000 that night," said Low.
"The speedway may be some distance away from the YMCA," said Mr. Todd, "but that doesn't mean the racing people are distant."
Net proceeds from the evening will be turned over to the YW-YMCA building fund and the Archie McKinnon pool, named after the popular and long-time athletic director.
It shapes up as a big evening.
Car racing is only part of the program. Intermission entertainment will be supplied by Jerry Gosley's Smile Show and a host of door prizes will be awarded to fans.
One of the prizes will be a dinner date with Miss Victoria. Tickets will go on sale this

FLORIDA FLARES UP

Tear Gas Stalls
Negroes' March

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Authorities used tear gas to stall one mass march by Negroes and arrested 257 during the 10th straight day of anti-segregation demonstrations in Florida's capital city.

Most of those arrested Thursday night are students at Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University, a Negro school, and 220 of them were ordered before state Judge Ben Willis today to answer contempt of court charges.

The other 37 are to appear in city court Monday to face charges of unlawful assembly.

There was no violence during the marches, aimed at segregated movie theatres. A series of sit-in demonstrations some time ago resulted in the quiet desegregation of lunch counters in the business district.

Plans remained unchanged for another massive protest of segregation at two white theatres tonight.

The mass arrests in Tallahassee provided the major development on the racial front Thursday, but anti-segregation activity was popping in many points across the United States.

Integrationists made plans to increase the tempo of demonstrations against segregation in Jackson, Miss., and Mayor Allen Thompson contended that outside agitators are hoping to draw federal marshals or troops into the city.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN

A Negro spokesman said a massive, Birmingham-type campaign will be launched in Los Angeles with total elimination of discrimination as its goal.

Jagan, Wife
Stoned
At Funeral

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Police used tear gas to break up an anti-government riot outside a cemetery in Georgetown Thursday night during the funeral of the minister for home affairs, Claude Christian.

Premier Cheddi Jagan and his wife, who were attending the ceremony, were also stoned by hostile demonstrators.

A number of persons were reported injured—four badly.

Christian was a member of Jagan's Progressive People's party.

The trouble apparently arose because of rumors here that he died from injuries received during a stormy party meeting May 16.

The rumors have been officially denied. The doctors report is that he died from heart disease.

Cities experiencing racial demonstrations Thursday included Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Baton Rouge, La., Chattanooga, Tenn., and Cambridge, Md.

In Tallahassee, Judge Willis ordered Thursday that the protests be halted pending a hearing Monday on the issues. He authorized county officers to arrest demonstrators who refuse to disperse.

At 6 p.m., two hours after the judge's ruling, 220 Negroes assembled before the white theatre in a quiet demonstration.

Sheriff Bill Joyce ordered them to disperse. When they refused, he ordered the group arrested for contempt of court.

Police at Jackson, Miss., arrested 27 demonstrators Thursday including an integrated group of 14 who knelt on the post office steps to pray for racial peace and progress.

WILL HIRE NEGROES

The Philadelphia school board and building contractors involved in a racial dispute offered to put five qualified Negroes to work on a school construction job if the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will halt picketing of the project.

Picketing has been staged since last Friday in support of demands for more jobs for Negroes. In several clashes 14 policemen and five Negroes have been injured.

City officials in Memphis, Tenn., announced that all public recreational facilities except swimming and wading pools will be desegregated immediately. The pools will remain closed for the time being, they said. The action came three days after the U.S. Supreme Court knocked out the city's 10-year desegregation plan.

A Negro leader, Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, said at Los Angeles that the California city will be the target of a major drive against discrimination.

Dawkins, former head of the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP, said in an interview that Negroes there are not asking for "a small adjustment," but are seeking "total community integration."

More than 1,500 Negroes staged an orderly demonstration at a Chicago cemetery, where 6,000 Confederate soldiers from the Civil War are buried, protesting the cemetery's alleged refusal to cremate the body of a Negro woman.

ARRANGES MEETING

Officials at the cemetery, where U.S. Memorial Day ceremonies were under way at the same time as the Negro demonstrations, called the matter a misunderstanding and said a meeting has been arranged with Negro leaders to try to resolve it.

POPE

This was a clear plea to a successor to continue the council, which would be suspended on the Pope's death. His successor need not reconvene it.

The council now is in recess. Manzini said the Pope conferred Thursday night with Cardinal Coggiani and Gustavo Cardinal Testa, an Italian member of the curia.

In these talks, Manzini said, the Pope "demonstrated a great serenity and clearness of mind."

Reporters were told today the noon bulletin would be brief and optimistic. Instead they received the news of the worst crisis yet.

The news spread rapidly through Rome. A crowd started to gather in St. Peter's Square.

Many priests and nuns knelt on the cobblestones, praying. Eyes turned upward to the papal apartment overlooking the square.

The bronze door at the main entrance to the apostolic place was wide open at 3 p.m. It is closed when a Pope dies.

When he is in the final throes of death, it is partially closed. Physicians knew the Pope's stomach growth, gastric heteroplasia, was a continuing threat and had cautioned him to take things easy.

But he had been gaining strength. One sign of the relaxation of the crisis atmosphere had been the departure of the Pope's nephew, Msgr. Giovanbattista Roncalli, to Sotto il Monte, where the pontiff was born.

He was stricken a year ago, but continued his work between crises.

He had maintained that his duties as supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church demanded that he make every sacrifice, even if continued work meant his life.

The Archbishop of Canterbury today told the Pope in a telegram that Anglicans throughout the world were praying for his recovery.

Vatican radio said the Pope today sent a telegram to President Kennedy expressing his "deepest gratitude" for the president's message of concern about his health.

The Soviet news agency Tass reported Premier Khrushchev sent a telegram to the Pope with best wishes for recovery and for further successful continuation of "the fruitful activity for the benefit of the consolidation of peace and peaceful co-operation between peoples."

wished. But the resolution itself refers only to "matters relating to defence."

Gordon Churchill, former Conservative defence minister, later complained that the resolution didn't specify policy.

Mr. Pearson—who contended earlier that the former Conservative government wouldn't let any committee touch on policy—invited Mr. Churchill to amend the resolution to include policy. Mr. Churchill said he would consider it.

Defence Minister Paul Hellyer said he was glad to welcome the defence committee concept of dispensing information. Canadians in the last three to four years were "starved of real information."

He had found no reliable information available in opposition. There were no hard facts on defence background, forcing him to go outside the country for information.

He said Mr. Churchill, the last of three Conservative defence ministers, is the "most illuminating example" of the need for information.

Social Credit Leader Thompson suggested, among other things, that the defence committee examine "the many, vociferous peace movements that advocate nuclear disarmament."

He added: "I am concerned whether or not some of these movements are legitimate in light of the nation's security."

He did not name any one group.

The NDP leader, Mr. Douglas, said Canada never has had a clear-cut defence policy—only what he described as "a functional approach," because of a semi-colonial status that tied Canadian defence policy to that of Britain.

The NDP believed Canada's role had to be built around three centres—the United Nations, NATO and NORAD. But the committee should establish the priorities.

Fund Drive Bolstered

More than half of the money needed to complete the new Union Centre was made up Thursday evening as a trade unionists' meeting pledged $13,100 towards the $72,000 building.

Structure is now under construction on the site at Quadra and Market Streets.

A meeting of the Victoria Building Co-operative Union was told $10,900 remains to be found for construction costs.

Members of the co-operative approved $10,000 in additional expenditure, made up of unexpected construction costs and a decision to make the auditorium larger than originally planned.

Members also approved the name Union Centre for the new building.

CHANGES MADE IN RESTLESS YEARS

Queen Gains in Stature Over 10 Years on Throne

Queen Elizabeth II marks the 10th anniversary of her coronation Sunday, June 2. In the following story, a Canadian Press Staff writer reviews the first decade of her rule.

By JOSEPH MACSWEN
LONDON (CP)—Just 10 years ago Queen Elizabeth was raised to the apex of the Commonwealth in a coronation of magnificence and heart-swelling promise.

When she accepted what Sir Winston Churchill has called the "mystic circle" of the Crown, the slim young woman also shouldered monumental burdens at a time of rushing change.

How has she fared in the last decade? What changes has she wrought on the monarchy? How goes the vision of the glittering new Elizabethan Age so buoyantly heralded when the Queen, then only 27, was crowned?

It is just about unanimous that as monarch, wife and mother there are few, if any, persons anywhere who enjoy the universal respect accorded Queen Elizabeth.

In a restless age, the Queen and Prince Philip—despite their rigorous public schedules—have given to the world an example of home life and devotion toward their children: Prince Charles, 14, Princess Anne, 12, and Prince Andrew, 3.

IMAGE FAVORABLE
And this family image has been projected. For the first time the Queen and her husband have been shown in informal photographs as an ordinary couple, romping with their children. This is one change in the monarchy.

Prince Philip has been credited with gifts in this direction. Persons who have been received by the royal couple report, for instance, that after an initial greeting by the Queen, Philip often takes over with good-humored repartee.

Some say this is comparable to how Queen Mother Elizabeth—in a different sense—assisted the late King George VI in his meetings with the public. With immense grace and skill she made the contact between the kindly but reserved king and his subjects. Somehow she managed this even before crowds.

The young Queen recently saw Princess Anne, wearing her hair in a new grown-up style, perform her first public duties at the wedding of Princess Alexandra.

SAW THE DERBY
The Queen's brilliant smile was much in evidence when she attended the Derby at Epsom Downs last Wednesday. It's no secret that she feels more at home in the atmosphere of the turf than, perhaps, at a ballet.

She probably prefers a good musical to a symphony or a popular west-end play to a visit to an art gallery. The left-wing New Statesman has written that her horizons are bounded by Newmarket (racing) and Drury Lane (theatre) but the mass of her people would not regard that as much of a criticism.

The blue-eyed, brown-haired Elizabeth was 25 when her father died Feb. 6, 1952. The coronation took place June 2, 1953. Initial shyness seemed to new duties.

She applied modern techniques to the creaky customs of Buckingham Palace and to the great royal estates, which for the first time now are said to be paying their way.

TOLERATES TV
During her 1957 tour of Canada, she appeared for the first time on television and also allowed TV in on her coronation and a state opening of Parliament, despite some criticism.

She was the first British sovereign to recognize the importance of the press—holding press receptions during her many visits to Commonwealth and other countries.

She began holding informal luncheons at Buckingham Palace, inviting a wide cross-section of society, not necessarily all of it out of the absolute top drawer. They included trade unionists, newspaper men, scientists, engineers, feminists, sportsmen and clergymen.

Two years ago she entertained Russian astronaut Yuri Gagarin and music-hall comedian Bud Flanagan at the same table.

On the other hand she abandoned the annual royal presentation parties for debutantes, usually daughters of the rich and talented. Instead she holds royal garden parties four or five times a year, each attended by more than 5,000 people.

She has travelled hundreds of thousands of miles, receiving a warm welcome in republican India and Ghana as well as in the "old" Commonwealth countries like Canada. There are reports that a new form of visit—inviting limited residence—is being considered as a result of lessons learned in this year's marathon tour of Australia and New Zealand.

Canada Asks U.S. For Power Study

OTTAWA (CP)—A joint Canadian-United States approach to development of North American energy resources has been suggested to Washington, Trade Minister Sharp informed the Commons Thursday.

"I believe the outcome will be mutually satisfactory," he said in a statement reporting on his Monday meetings in Washington with American officials. "I hope the preliminary discussions will begin in the near future."

Apparent objective of the joint studies is to head off friction which in the past has touched the Columbia River development project, dwindling American uranium purchases and protests against Canadian crude oil exports.

The studies would also serve to tie up joint projects such as hydro-electric exchange. This is practised in a small way to some extent now at points in Ontario and British Columbia.

NEW AREA
Advances in long-distance transmission of massive voltages of electricity have opened up new vistas. These include export of Canadian hydro power from Labrador's Hamilton Falls, the Peace River of Northern B.C., where already work is launched, and tapping powerful rivers like the Yukon or the Taku in B.C.

American planning contemplates a long-haul transmission line from Alaska to the Pacific Northwest and power-hungry California.

These are some of the prospects involved in talks which Mr. Sharp said covered all forms of energy from oil to natural gas, uranium, electricity and nuclear power.

However, the Columbia River itself was not mentioned.

Senate Help Sought On Problems of Aged

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate is being asked to make a study in depth of problems of the aged.

Behind the move is white-haired, vigorous Senator David Croll, a former Ontario welfare and labor minister with a long-time interest in welfare problems.

The 63-year-old Liberal senator has introduced a motion in the upper chamber aimed at setting a 20-member committee to work on a national survey of problems ranging from health, employment and housing to facilities for leisure activities.

"Many of the aged feel that they are unwanted, that they are useless to others," said Senator Croll in an interview Thursday.

"This is a very wide field which generally has been dealt with in a limited way, within a province, for example."

Senator Croll expects that it would take two years or more to do justice to such an inquiry.

Canada Rated 'Empty Land' By Asian

QUEBEC (CP)—Canada is an empty country by Asian population standards, geographer Bogdan Zaborski says.

He told a reporter that in the 21st century, as over-population becomes a greater problem in other parts of the world, Canada may face the threat of invasion because of its comparative wide-open spaces.

Instead of waiting for invasion, why not invite the people of Asia, Africa and Europe to settle in Canada now, he suggested in an interview Thursday during the Canadian Association of Geographers Conference.

The Polish-born director of the University of Ottawa's Geography Institute, is among 4,000 scholars here for the two-week Conference of Learned Societies.

Besides a more courageous immigration policy, Canada should also encourage large families, he said.

PROBLEMS AHEAD

B.C. Premier Holds Key To Columbia

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The federal government is concerned that false hopes for a quick solution to problems in the way of Columbia River development may be building up in the public mind.

Spokesmen here view with some alarm the easy optimism expressed last week by B.C. Premier Bennett when he announced he would be meeting with Prime Minister Pearson on June 3—next Monday—to talk about the Columbia project.

The Liberal administration feels that Mr. Bennett is the key to the achievement of success in clearing away roadblocks confronting the big development.

He can lend considerable weight to his own optimism, reliable informants say, but only if he agrees to the federal government's prescription for a cure of Columbia ills.

This means he, or a responsible officer of his government, must agree in writing to the Liberal plan for Columbia development—all the way from arrangements for sale of downstream benefits to details of their timing.

Unless the B.C. government does this, the Pearson government will consider its hands tied in any future negotiations with the U.S. for revision of the Canada-U.S. Columbia River development Treaty.

Preliminary to Later Talks

Monday's Pearson-Bennett meeting is not expected to really solve anything. It will be a preliminary to later and more detailed discussions between engineering and financial experts of the two governments.

Mr. Bennett will tell Mr. Pearson his views on the question of downstream power benefit sales in the U.S., the price he can get for them and their economic relationship to the overall Columbia development scheme.

Mr. Pearson undoubtedly will counter by outlining his government's feelings about the downstream benefit question, and on the need for specific changes in the treaty.

He will inform Mr. Bennett that Ottawa expects, it and when negotiations between the two governments reach a successful conclusion, that a formal agreement will have to be signed by both parties.

It was through lack of such an agreement that the Columbia treaty between Canada and the U.S. foundered—the Diefenbaker government, without the official agreement of B.C., owner of the water resources, did not really have full jurisdiction to conclude the treaty.

Because of the division between Ottawa and B.C., the U.S. was placed in an advantageous bargaining position.

WIRE BRIEFS

$200,000 Grab

LYON, France (AP)—Two gunmen escaped today with a truck assembly plant payroll which a plant spokesman estimated at 1,000,000 francs ($200,000). They shot and wounded a bank messenger who was delivering the money to the Berliet Truck Co.

Toronto Strike

TORONTO (CP)—About 250 tile workers went on strike today in the first of a proposed series of walkouts that could slow down much of Toronto's construction industry.

Police, Students Clash

TOKYO (Reuters)—Police tonight clashed with more than 1,000 Japanese students marching through Tokyo to the United States Embassy.

India Wants Planes

LONDON (Reuters)—India is seeking bombers from the United States and Britain as part of requested arms aid for defence against Communist China, a top Indian defence official said today.

Swiftsure Not So Sure To Be Swift

By MONTE ROBERTS

Huddled together in the Inner Harbor tonight, 71 sailboats will present a brilliant picture to the thousands of spectators expected at the traditional Swiftsure Eve ceremonies which preface the ocean yacht racing classic, scheduled for a 9:30 a.m. start Saturday.

And it is highly likely all 71 skippers will huddle together, too, chanting in unison: "Say it ain't so, Bill Mackie."

Not even the skippers of the smallest Swiftsure contenders like the weekend forecast which official weatherman Mackie reluctantly produced today, as part of his special Swiftsure service.

Today's early winds are expected to die tonight, he says. Winds at starting time Saturday will be in the 10-15-mile-per-hour range, from the south-east (not too bad), increasing in the afternoon to 25-mile westerlies (good, good), then falling off Saturday night and most of Sunday to very light tugs.

"If only once," sighed Mr. Mackie in editorial comment, "we could have a straight-forward, easy forecast Swiftsure weekend, with lots and lots of winds."

Off and Running at 9:30

So say all, but, barring a dead calm, 63 AA, AB, and AC class yachts will be off and (hopefully) running at the 9:30 starting gun, after warnings guns at 9:20 and 9:25.

They'll be followed at 9:45 by eight little C Class boats, ranging in size from 25 to 30 feet, who will conduct their own, shorter race, to Clallam Bay and return—still a test of open ocean racing and a challenge to sailing skill.

All classes will cross a starting line drawn between Brodie Ledge, off the Ogden Point breakwater, and the CNR docks at Ogden Point and McLoughlin Point.

The bigger boats will race 68 miles outward to round the frigate HMCS Beacon Hill, anchored above Swiftsure shoals, then sail 68.2 miles to the finish line, between the CNR docks at Ogden Point and McLoughlin Point.

Time limit is 50 hours. If no boat finishes within that time, first boat to reach the Beacon Hill will be adjudged winner in each class.

Trophies are: Overall winner of Swiftsure on time allowance basis, Swiftsure; first boat home, City of Victoria; Class A, B.C. Cement Co.; Class A, lower rating, T. Eaton Co.; Class BB, Seattle Yacht Club; Class B, Royal Vancouver Yacht Club; Class C, San Juan Trophy.

Chan, ordered to return to his native Hong Kong after expiration of a visitor's visa, was driven to his lawyer's office from his hiding place since last Monday—the attic of a rambling farmhouse in the nearby Fraser Valley.

Chan came out in the open after Immigration Minister Guy Favreau announced in the Commons at Ottawa that he would be permitted to stay in Canada at least another year under immigrant status, if he surrendered to authorities.

Jewels Recovered

TORONTO (CP)—Police said stolen jewels worth $250,000 were recovered when they raided homes and offices here Thursday.

Mister Bennett jumped into the Peace by himself, but he wants Mister Pearson in the Columbia with him.

It ought to be a party swift Swiftsure if this wind keeps up.

Summer kin be an unreliable friend—blows hot an' cold.

Pontiff Receives Extreme Unction

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII lapsed into unconsciousness tonight and a high prelate said the pontiff was "falling rapidly."

By BENNETT M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A sudden relapse put Pope John XXIII near death today.

Roman Catholic prelates administered the communion viaticum and extreme unction, the sacraments for persons in danger of dying.

Vatican sources said the Pope was suffering pain and was having difficulty with his speech.

A press office announcement at 6:45 p.m. (10:45 a.m. PDT) said there had been a further deterioration in the Pope's condition from that of earlier in the day.

As his condition worsened, a Vatican source said, the Pope prayed for himself.

One of the Pope's doctors, Piero Mazzoni of Rome, was quoted as saying: "It can be a matter of hours—or of days."

That pronouncement was relayed to reporters by Raimondo Manzini, director of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, after an afternoon visit to the sickroom. Manzini was in tears.

"The pope is grave, very grave," the Vatican radio announced. "The new crisis is most grave."

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of the world's 500,000,000 Roman Catholics, who had appeared to be making a strong comeback from a near-fatal crisis Tuesday, was reported failing rapidly.

It was a situation that he regarded serenely.

"Don't worry too much about me," he told his chief physician Professor Antonio Gasbarri, on Gasbarri's departure Thursday for his home in Bologna. "The bags are packed and I am ready, in fact very ready, to go."

Gasbarri was recalled from Bologna to assist physicians already on the scene when the emergency developed today.

There was an unconfirmed report that an oxygen tent had been set up for the Pope.

Some rumors circulated in Rome that the Pope had died shortly after noon. These were denied at the Vatican press office. It said he was alive, but "very bad."

Afterwards, Manzini revealed, the Pope's secretary of state, Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, entered the bedroom.

Belgian-born Bishop Pierre van Lierde, the Pope's sacristan and vicar-general for Vatican City, then administered extreme unction.

The Vatican press office earlier disclosed that the Pope had actually asked for extreme unction two days ago, saying: "Let us not hide the gravity of the facts."

But he was rallying then and it was not given.

Manzini said the Pope followed the rite today, and then asked Msgr. Cavagna to remain with him.

The editor added that the Pope repeated to Msgr. Cavagna his statement of last Tuesday in which he offered his life for his ecumenical council, the church and peace.

Referring specifically to the council, Manzini said, the Pope spoke of the council fathers and said he was sure the council work would be concluded.

PHILADELPHIA SETTLES PART OF RACE ROW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Agreement has been reached settling the racial dispute over alleged job discrimination on public school projects, it was learned today.

As the negotiators worked in a downtown hotel, however, police and pickets clashed in the area of a $6,000,000 school construction project. At least 20 persons, including eight policemen, were reported injured.

The fighting started when police escorted some 80 to 100 workers into the school construction project.

MIKE ON SUGAR

Provinces Must Take Action

OTTAWA (CP)—Peacetime price control is a provincial matter beyond the powers of the federal Parliament, Prime Minister Pearson said today under Commons questioning about sugar-price increases.

Mr. Pearson said that persons desiring controls on sugar prices should get in touch with their provincial governments.

Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp said he believes the current international sugar agreement—which he helped establish—lacks protection for the consumer against price fluctuations.

The Canadian government is prepared to attempt to rectify this, he said.

The government was bombarded with a series of questions about sugar prices as the Commons sitting opened.

QUESTIONED BY DOUGLAS
Leader T. C. Douglas of the New Democrats asked the prime minister what steps had been taken to "prevent profiteering at the expense of the consumers."

Mr. Pearson repeated the Thursday statement by Mr. Sharp that Canadian sugar supplies are normal and are expected to remain so.

No evidence has arisen, he said, of any price increase due to a sugar combine or a monopoly. The cause for increases was the high world price.

There was a general world shortage of sugar.

Argentina Violence Followed by Strike

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—After riotous demonstrations, Peronist labor unions launched a 24-hour general strike today to press for government action to ease unemployment.

The strike, aimed at paralyzing the troubled country, was called by the 2,500,000-member General Confederation of Labor to climax a week of protest.

The confederation is dominated by followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now in exile in Spain.

All unions except the white collar workers have agreed to support the strike, which threatened to slow public transportation to a crawl.

Unions promised to keep skeleton crews manning utilities, hospitals, long distance telephones, airport control towers and other essential installations.

The strike began at midnight after a day of violence in which federal police used tear gas and high pressure water on about 12,000 marching workers. Half-a-dozen demonstrators were reported slightly injured.

TORIES 'CLOSE TO BANKRUPTCY,' SAYS PAPER

Diefenbaker in Disfavor?

MONTREAL (CP)—The Gazette says the Progressive Conservative party soon may seek a new national leader to succeed John Diefenbaker.

The newspaper says in a story from Ottawa that it has learned plans have been made to hold the party's annual meeting in January and delegates "will participate in decisions bearing on the future of the party."

"Should the annual meeting endorse the project, this would be followed with a minimum of delay by a full leadership convention."

The story says the big question mark is the intention of Mr. Diefenbaker.

"Influential backers of the plan, convinced that a change in leadership is essential, are mildly hopeful that Mr. Diefenbaker will retire gracefully to the sidelines to make room for a successor."

"Indeed, it is an open secret that many Conservative MPs elected to this Parliament had expected that he would announce his retirement shortly after the close of a valiant campaign which postponed the disintegration of the party and contributed handsomely to the election of 96 Conservatives."

The newspaper says the party is "close to bankruptcy" and "given the present state of confidence in the party's leadership by businessmen large and small there is little chance that the party's war chest can be filled to a respectable level in the foreseeable future."

It adds that supporters of a leadership change have not settled on a successor.

Crawford is Confident, Carefree and Healthy

(Special to the Times)
VANCOUVER—Lyle Crawford, who will jump at the opportunity to meet anyone, anytime, anywhere, has been warned that Victoria amateur Bill Wakeham plays his best golf on his home grounds.

"They keep telling me I will be at a disadvantage before we step to the first tee," says the 30-year-old Vancouver Langara public links pro. "Well, Wakeham will have to prove it to me."

Crawford really isn't the loud and cocksure type, though his nonchalance and witty remarks to the galleries during golf matches may leave you with that impression.

He is always brash and confident and carefree, and that's the way you'll see him Sunday afternoon when he meets Wakeham at Uplands for the B.C. match play "crown."

No matter who he is about to play, Crawford's mental approach appears to be that he has won the match before it's even started.

It's a fearless approach that almost ruined his health and possibly could have taken his life.

It was just before Christmas, 1961, when Crawford first contracted hepatitis, a debilitating liver disorder.

Hepatitis is an ailment that drains one's strength, an ailment that Crawford, characteristically, took too lightly.

After two months of treatment and of extreme exhaustion, Lyle arose from his bed in early March of 1962 and headed for the practice fairway. He was confident he was ready for the Vancouver match play open qualifying round.

Crawford qualified through perseverance alone, for he was a gaunt shadow of the old Lyle Crawford; weak and thin. His strength was sapped by the second round and he was eliminated.

He then realized the seriousness of hepatitis and gradually has nursed himself back to health. He says he is completely cured.

Today he is back to 160 pounds, his face is full and rosy and there is zip in his staccato swing.

But Crawford, whose abbreviated half-swing is a carbon copy of touring pro Doug Sanders', relied on a precise pitch-and-putt game to capture his third Vancouver match play title this year.

While his driving lacked consistent accuracy, his short game repeatedly bailed him out of trouble during the tournament.

And facing a bold youngster like the 22-year-old Wakeham doesn't bother Crawford. On his way to the Vancouver title, he defeated amateur Gordie Robinson, 20, and pros Al Kennedy, 22; Joe Jeroski, 25, and Bryan Copp, 25.

Tickets for Sunday's match, which starts at 2 p.m., are on sale at Bud Bell's, Milton's, Eaton's and all pro shops.

Proceeds will be shared by the YM-YWCA building fund and junior golf development.

SPORTS DIARY

By SHIRLEY POVICH
(The Washington Post)

WASHINGTON — The American League is culturally richer this season for the deal that fetched pitcher Jim Brosnan from the Cincinnati Reds to the Chicago White Sox.

Brosnan has among his credits a winning record in the majors, a pretty good fast ball and two best-sellers. It was this literary bent that was unappreciated by Bill Dewitt, president of the Reds.

Dewitt sold Brosnan to the White Sox for cash in the wake of their intra-mural dispute over the pitcher's proclivity for writing books, and things, in mid-season. His man-of-letters must confine himself to pitching baseballs, Dewitt had ruled and Brosnan screamed "Censorship!"

"Go read the fine print in your contract," Dewitt commanded, and Brosnan did, to his dismay. There it was spelled out, indeed, that the club owner shall judge what off-field activities of the athlete are in the best interests of the team, and Brosnan was left to stew in his literary hand-cuffs.

This could be a loss to the world of letters because there is a demand for more by Brosnan, whose "The Long Season" was the finest baseball book in years, even if a bit irreverent toward the game. A ball player who can write good books is a switch to begin with and Brosnan was promising another one, this time a novel.

Writing Doesn't Impress Batters

In "The Long Season," author Brosnan deglamorized baseball somewhat and Dewitt was not enchanted by this. Also, as a fundamental baseball man, he was hoping to make room on his roster for a less literary but more effective pitcher. Despite his good record in the majors, Brosnan was a fading hero with the Reds. In his 1961 World Series relief chore he was clobbered so hard by the Yankees that it was suggested his next book should be titled "The Long Inning."

With the White Sox, Brosnan has announced that he will have more freedom as an author because they do not take the narrow view of Mr. Dewitt. Whether he will be effective in the American League as a pitcher is not certain, however, because all ball players with a bat in their hand hold a narrow view about the man pitching. They are unimpressed by the way he can write.

This matter of respect is a two-way street, however. Pitchers are impressed with only one thing about hitters, how they can hit. There was the case of Moe Berg, the Washington catcher of the 1930s who was justly famed as the greatest linguist in the history of baseball, and whose thesis on Sanskrit is still a reference work in the congressional library. As a hitter, he was unfamous and burdened with a 243 lifetime batting average.

In Any Language, It's Hard to Hit

Berg's roommate with the Senators was Sheriff Dave Harris, whose formal schooling ended in mid-eighth grade and who was not quite a superb linguist. Another difference between the sheriff and Berg were their batting averages. Harris was a .327 hitter in the same season that Berg was hitting .236.

It was in batting practice one day when the sheriff was taking more than his share of licks and the impatient Berg, waiting for his turn, said: "Get out of there, Dave, and give somebody else a chance to hit." "Okay," said Harris, "but let me tell you one thing, Moe: When you get up there with a bat in your hand, none of them seven languages you know ain't gonna do you no good."

There have been baseball authors before but none of them as distinguished as Brosnan, and there is another difference. He writes his own stuff. Most of the articles under ball players' names are ghosted by workaday sports writers eager to cadge an extra buck and this has been going on a long time. Ford Frick, the baseball commissioner, used to be a ghost writer for the athletes and so did Westbrook Pegler.

Babe Didn't Forget About Cheque

The communication between ball player and ghost is not always close, either. In the Washington-Pittsburgh World Series, Judge Landis called Goose Goslin on the carpet for second-guessing the umpires in an article that appeared under his name after the game. "If it happens again, you're out of the Series," Landis told Goslin. "It didn't happen the first time, Judge; I never saw what I wrote," Goslin said.

It was the babe of Pegler back in the 1920s to be the ghost for Babe Ruth. A syndicate had contracted to distribute Ruth's batting experiences daily with special attention to the home runs he hit, but the Babe was forgetful about talking by telephone to his writer after the game.

Pegler, finally wrathfully, called Ruth to warn him that they would both be fired unless the Babe gave some heed to their responsibilities. Ruth agreed to be more co-operative, also to describe in detail any home runs he hit. The next day he sent the following wire to Pegler in New York, from Detroit: "Poled two out of park today. High, fast pitches. Send cheque immediately."

Mounties Pay Debts, Burst With Optimism

VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors of the hibernating Vancouver Mounties say the club will definitely be back in the Pacific Coast Baseball League next year.

The only question, they say, is which major-league club will move in and take over.

Mounties left the PCL before the beginning of the current season, plagued by falling attendance and $70,000 in debts. To keep interest alive here, they have scheduled several exhibition games, and they were drumming up interest for a local all-star vs. Seattle Rainiers game when they made their optimistic comments at a luncheon Thursday.

"There's a chance we might be back before the end of this year," director Reg Atherton went so far as to say.

"The extended travel is bound to hurt the league, and if somebody cracks, we may be invited to take over for one of the clubs."

President George Norgan called this "wishful thinking," but said debts are being paid off busily to have a clean slate for 1964.

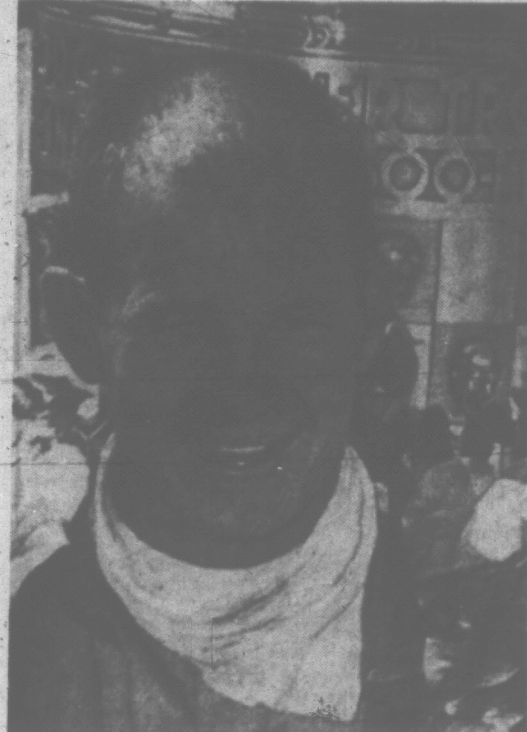

Rainiers play here Monday night and Portland Beavers later make two appearances for regular PCL games, against San Diego Aug. 17 and Seattle Aug. 24.

Arrangements are almost complete for exhibition games between Dallas-Fort Worth—the old Vancouver franchise—and Spokane July 15; and Spokane and Seattle Aug. 12.

Coronation Cup To French Horse

EPSOM, England (AP)—Baron Guy de Rothschild's Exbury galloped off with the 82nd running of the Coronation Cup Thursday in the second runaway victory for France in two days in English horse racing.

Exbury finished six lengths ahead of his nearest British rival, Hetherette, who won last year's St. Leger. Another French horse, Picfort, was third.

TWO SIDES TO THE '500'

Tilt of head graphically separates victor from the vanquished in the Indianapolis 500. For Lloyd Ruby, left, defeat was etched in his slow walk, the hand held to the head. A perennial 500 entrant, Ruby washed out on 128th lap Thursday when his car hit an oil slick and spun out of control. No such problems bothered winner Parnelli Jones, right, his face wreathed in smiles after taking 47th running of speed event in record time of 143.137 and winning $25,050 in lap money. (AP Wirephoto.)

'Don't Slough Us Off' Warns Twins' Sam Mele

Associated Press

"Some people are sloughing us off in their pennant predictions. It turns me up and I hope it has the same effect on the players."

The words belong to Minnesota Twins manager Sam Mele. So does the hottest team in the majors.

BOXLA BOX
Vancouver	10	8	3	108	73	25	10	8	3
New Westminster	8	5	3	55	66	26	8	5	3
VICTORIA	7	5	3	70	85	26	7	5	3
Nanaimo	9	3	7	76	105	4	9	3	7

Continuing to climb in the standings in the tightening American League pennant scramble, the torrid Twins maintained their sizzling pace Thursday with a 32 victory over Washington Senators that accounted for their 10th consecutive victory.

The triumph gave Twins the longest winning streak in the majors this season. It also left them only one-half game out of the first division after floundering around at the tail-end of the standings for the first month of the season before starting a slow burn.

"I know a lot of people are saying we have to prove ourselves," says Mele, who brought Twins home second last year. "But we have too much going for us to be counted out."

PASCUAL WINS THREE

One of the things Mele has going for him is right-hander Camilo Pascual, who has won three of the 10 games in the streak. Against Senators, he scattered eight singles and, finding himself short on runs, drove in the winner with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

Kansas City Athletics made it two straight over league-leading Baltimore, beating Orioles 7-2 and trimming their edge to two games over the runner-up New York Yankees, 6-5 winner in 10 innings over Boston Red Sox.

The third-place Chicago White Sox closed to within three games of the top with a double-header sweep over Cleveland-Indians, 8-4 and 4-2, while Detroit Tigers whipped Los Angeles Angels 3-0 behind Hank Aguirre's four-hit pitching in a second division struggle.

O'DELL ON PLUS SIDE

After years of struggling to reach the break-even point, Billy O'Dell has pitched his way to the plus side of the ledger.

And as an added asset, the 30-year-old left-hander currently owns the most profitable record in big time baseball—a perfect 8-0.

O'Dell won his eighth in row Thursday night as San Francisco Giants topped Cincinnati Reds 5-4 with the help of homers by rookie Cap Peterson and Felipe Alou, the relief work of Bob Bolin, and his own infield single.

Jack Joins Whitey In Exclusive Club

NEW WESTMINSTER—Membership in the Inter-City Lacrosse League's "1,000-Point Club" has doubled in size.

Veteran Jack Blonda of New Westminster ran his career point total to 1,003 Thursday as the second-place Royal City squad clipped Nanaimo 16-11 in a free-wheeling affair.

Blonda collected five goals and three assists, almost singlehandedly jolting Westminster out of slow start before 1,200 fans at Queen's Park Arena.

Whitey Severson of Victoria Shamrocks is the only other player to have hit the 1,000 mark. The veteran playmaker has 1,108 points from 501 league games.

LARRY JAY STOPS SOFTBALL LEADERS

Larry Jay pitched Sooke Merchants to an upset victory over Imperials in senior men's softball league play Thursday.

Sooke downed league-leading Imperials 6-4 at the Heywood Avenue diamond.

Barry Jackson was the losing pitcher.

G. Thomas, Ross Win Net Titles

Gillian Thomas and Allan Ross reign as queen and king of the tennis courts at Victoria High School today.

Gillian retained her title Thursday by defeating Marg Maysmith, 6-2, 6-3. Allan, steadier throughout, set down Rod Harvey 6-4, 6-3.

The high school competition attracted 135 entries.

Uplands Winners

Mrs. W. V. Hicks and Mrs. A. Caddell won the women's greensome competition at Uplands Golf Club Thursday.

Miss A. Milburn and Mrs. C. S. Hunter were runners-up.

HARNESS JUDGE NAMED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veteran eastern racing official Claude Brissette, 39, has been named the presiding judge for the 29-day harness meet at suburban Paterson Park.

'You're the Greatest' Owner Tells Parnelli

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Parnelli Jones, 29, of Torrance, Calif., moved like a man in a dream after his record victory Thursday in the Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day classic. He appeared stunned by the grinding ordeal in his Agajanian Willard Special.

"I just can't get it into my head," Jones said softly into the confusion of the victory celebration around him.

"You won the race, Rufus," car owner J. C. Agajanian shouted to the man who was born Rufus Parnelli Jones. "You're the greatest."

Jones, who had won the pole position for the second straight year, was favored in the race, but had to drive his heart out to beat Scotsman Jimmy Clark in a rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

Clark, No. 2 in the world road racing standings last year, and Dan Gurney, another Grand Prix racer from Costa Mesa, Calif., ran 2-3 behind Jones through the late stages of the race.

Clark's cigar-shaped Lotus-Ford made only one pit stop to Jones' three. Gurney also had three stops, the last because a wheel wasn't tightened enough on the second tire change.

He finished seventh.

CROSSES LINE FIRST

After charging his hardest for 3½ hours, Jones crossed the finish line a tick under 34 seconds ahead of Clark.

Jones won't know how much he won until the Indianapolis Motor Speedway cuts a purse of possibly $500,000 at tonight's victory dinner. He knows he won $25,050 in lap prize money for leading 167 of the race's 200 laps. The front runner gets $150 a lap in addition to the main prizes.

He had to break the track record by almost three miles per hour to win. He averaged 143.137 m.p.h. in spite of wrecks that forced the field to run under the yellow "hold-your-position" light for almost 50 minutes. Clark averaged 142.752 m.p.h.

The first five finishers broke the old record.

Nobody was hurt seriously in a series of crashes. Veteran Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, suffered a twisted foot and a back injury when he crashed into the wall on the northeast turn.

OTHERS HIT WALL

Others who banged into the wall included Eddie Sachs, Detroit; rookie Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M.; Allen Crowe, Springfield, Ill.; Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., and Bud Tingelstad, Dayton, Ohio.

Jim Hurtubise, Torrance, Calif., former qualification record holder, led the first lap in a super-charged Novi but Jones went ahead by the time they came around again. Jones lost the lead when he made his first pit stop. Roger McCluskey, Tucson, Ariz., set the pace for four laps and Clark for 28 before Jones went ahead to stay on the 96th circuit.

McCluskey spun in the northeast turn, just as Jones completed his next-to-last lap. The final lap was run under the caution flag but Clark couldn't have caught Parnelli anyway.

Hurtubise had to quit because of an oil leak. He had been the only one of three Novi starters left in the race after Unser crashed and Art Malone, another rookie from Tampa, Fla., was stopped by clutch failure.

FOYT FINISHES THIRD

A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., finished highest of four former winners in the race. He was third. Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, last year's winner, was fourth.

The lone Canadian entry, owned by Ed Kostenuk of Victoria, placed an unofficial 29th.

Driven by Johnny Rutherford of Fort Worth, Tex., the City of Victoria, as Kostenuk named his entry, was forced out after the 45th lap. The car developed an oil leak after a four-minute pit stop.

Shortstop Larry Sharp on Mound

Have Builders been playing Larry Montgomery in the wrong position?

Cellar-dwellers in the Senior Amateur Baseball League, Builders were bopped 10-3 by IAA Athletics Thursday night, but most of their woes came in the first two innings.

Trailing by a big margin, they called Montgomery in from his shortstop position to the mound in the second frame. Larry promptly tossed a loop over the Athletics' bats, allowing only two hits in his eight-inning effort and yielding a single run, in the ninth.

Bonner Blesses 'Blasted Radar'

By FRANK RUTTER

Attorney-General Robert Bonner today disagreed with Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi's condemnation of "blasted radar."

"Radar is an established aid to traffic law enforcement," Mr. Bonner said.

He should know—he was caught up in the radar trap set last week by Delta police on the highway to Tsawwassen ferry terminal.

He was a passenger in a car driven by his deputy trade minister, Thomas L. Sturgess.

However, he took speedy action to stop the radar checkpoint and his departmental lawyers are now investigating the possibility of refunding fines.

Mr. Gagliardi Thursday declared he was against "this blasted radar" because it was "sneaky."

"It is now used generally," said Mr. Bonner.

"When the first sets arrived police put up warning signs which everybody considered very sporting."

"But now people consider the absence of signs unsporting."

Mr. Gagliardi said police should come out of the bushes and do their duty on the highways.

"As far as the RCMP is concerned the rule is that their car is parked on the highway," Mr. Bonner said.

Motor vehicle superintendent George Lindsay agreed with Mr. Gagliardi that police should not hide. But most police forces now use mobile equipment which is in cars, he added.

Mr. Sturgess was caught last Friday, doing between 45 and 48 mph, and ticketed for violating a slow-to-35 sign, Mr. Bonner said.

"I simply sat quiet until the police procedure was over. Then I invited the officer to describe the basis of the patrol and the justification for the roadblock," said the attorney-general.

Mr. Bonner said this particular trap, on a 60 mph highway, was "a justifiable source of public complaint."

Asked why he did not own up to his personal experience when reporters first called about the trap earlier this week, Mr. Bonner replied:

"I should not be the one to describe somebody else's complaints."

However, he said he felt he was doing his job if he found law enforcement was improper and should be corrected.

Arthur Mayse

In Gordon Head the pioneer spirit lingers, and when a family's in trouble, the farflung neighbors rally round.

The other night a hard-working housewife and mother fetched one of these crises to our doorstep after she and her husband had tussled with it for an hour.

"It's this homework of Nancy's," she told us. "The teacher gave her the word, 'breathe,' and she has to find three other words ending in an 'h' and an 'e'. We got 'the' and 'she' but 'I' can find a third."

"Coelanthie," I suggested, and drew a pitying look.

"Nancy is in grade two," our caller reminded me, "and it has to be a grade two-level word."

After some grumbling about the complexities of modern education, we put our heads together, on the grade two level.

Best we could come up with was 'bathe,' a word grade two youngsters hear frequently, although they don't care for it.

There are shorter examples, I'm sure. It's just that what with tent caterpillars, watering restrictions and other adult-level problems, we're too preoccupied to track it down.

In Oak Bay Municipality, of course, they'd crack this problem quicker than you can say "rat."

They're superior-type people in Oak Bay, as police reporter Desmond Bill learned when he checked with the municipal cops ... sorry ... constabulary ... for weekend crime, if any.

"No trouble whatever," a cheery voice assured him. "Not even with those who slipped in from across the borders."

And speaking of Des Bill, who slipped in from Ireland several years ago, he came away from an interview with Jaycee pageant Princess Pam Crawford more than ever convinced that the world's a small place.

Both, they discovered, had not only lived in Belfast as children, but on the same street.

From H. H. Little, 931 Bank Street, praise for Mrs. Ada Barner's fine job as matron of B.C. Protestant Orphanage, and a pat on the back for others "who work in this town for the unfortunate."

Mr. Little mentions particularly our city and provincial welfare departments. "They get no recognition," he writes, "and the general public looks on their offices only as pay offices."

"Their outlook is, 'We help others to help themselves,' and with that idea for all cases, it entails much more than just paying out money."

"They have to see that the money so paid is being used with the best effect. They get requests from all types—broken families, destitute families arriving in the city, unmarried mothers, transients, people with upset minds, old-age pensioners. They work all day, and sometimes into the night."

True words; and I sometimes wonder how Bill Houston, city social welfare administrator, manages to wedge in an hour or two of fishing.

But angle he does, most skillfully, with flies magicked from any number of exotic materials. Speaking of which, this might be as good a time as any to confess that I didn't make out so well with the South American mouse-deer hide Bill gave me.

"Too nice to cut up," my daughter decided.

The tiny pet vanished into her room, and I'm forbidden to snip even so much as a trout fly's worth off it.

Heroic Dog Finds Child In Bushland

By LESLIE MILLIN

A tracking dog found a little girl about two miles from her Ladysmith home this morning after she had been missing overnight for more than 14 hours.

CINDY WAGAR
... tired, hungry

Entire Ladysmith area was combed twice Thursday night by searchers under the leadership of Fire Chief James Lunden and civil defence co-ordinator Bill Dalby.

Search was called off, until daylight when no signs of the missing girl were reported by early this morning.

Regular RCMP tracking dog was not available for the search, but a German shepherd owned by Ivan Beggs was brought in from Chemainus, about 15 miles distant, at first light.

The dog found Cindy a mile and a half from Ladysmith High School, asleep in dense bush near the Stocking Lake dam.

Cindy was carried piggyback to hospital, and then returned home after a checkup.

Her mother, Mrs. George Wagar, 336 Dafface, told the Times that Cindy was tired and hungry, but apparently none the worse for her night of wandering.

Visiting Cindy was visiting the home of a friend in the late afternoon, and decided to go home about 6 p.m., Mrs. Wagar said.

She started to return home, and took a shortcut through dense bush near Malone Road. Confused by a tangle of trails, she returned to her friend's house and requested help to find her way home.

While her friend was getting a bicycle, Cindy wandered off again—the wrong way, away from home and away from the area that was later searched.

Searchers linked hands at one point to stumble through darkness and dense bush around Holland Creek, five blocks from Cindy's home.

Sound trucks roamed the streets of Ladysmith during the night as searchers kept in touch by means of walkie-talkie radios.

The whole city seemed lighted up Thursday night as volunteer searchers from as far away as Chemainus joined Ladysmith residents in the hunt.

Some of the searchers slept in the fire hall in between hunts. Women volunteers served coffee there.

"It really made me feel good that so many people turned out," said Mrs. Wagar.

"It was quite a strain, but two ladies came and stayed with me, answering the phone so I could get some rest."

"Mr. Beggs' dog from Chemainus found Cindy. It sure is wonderful what these dogs can do."

Mrs. Wagar's husband, George Wagar, was not at home while Cindy was lost. He is working in Fort St. John.

"Cindy seems tired, but quite happy," said Mrs. Wagar. "She's hungry, too."

Mrs. Wagar said this morning that the entire Wagar family planned to spend the day in bed.

"It was quite a strain," she repeated.

Renovated Princess Draws Large Crowd

About 2,000 shipping fans walked through the "new" Princess Patricia Thursday as the luxury cruise liner held open house at the C.P.R.'s Belle Isle Street docks.

She has just been given a $1,000,000 outfitting by Yarrows Ltd., and enters the Alaska cruise service to replace Princess Louise, with the first sailing from Vancouver Saturday.

Topics of Day

The Royal Ambassadors Quartet from the Canadian Nazarene College, Winnipeg, will present a musical program in Esquimalt Church of the Nazarene, Craigflower Road, tonight at 7:45.

Prospect Lake and District Community Association has called for immediate steps to provide a good source of drinking water and to improve any faulty septic tanks around the lake.

The association endorsed committee recommendations that a study be made on the possibility of drilling a deep well or using springs for water.

The committee further suggested the possibility of homes having separate chlorinating systems.

New Westminster water skier Jim Sincow plans to attempt a round-trip crossing from Kitsilano Beach to Oak Bay June 9 to mark the Maritime Festival sponsored by the Captain Vancouver Club. It was announced today.

He expects to water-ski across the strait and back in about four hours.

An ice cream delivery man was committed for trial Thursday in city police court after a preliminary hearing on a charge of indecent assault.

Driver Fred Schumann, 1539 Burton, is charged with assaulting a nine-year-old girl.

Police testified they saw Schumann lure the girl into his truck with an ice cream bar, and assault her.

Oak Bay Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold a car wash Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Shelbourne shopping plaza.

The annual meeting of the PPCL Association will be held in the Sergeants' Mess, Work Point Barracks, at 8 tonight.

An 11-year-old Nanaimo boy has entered his 30th day of unconsciousness at St. Joseph's Hospital after a bicycle accident at Nanaimo.

Gordon Rasmussen suffered head injuries when he crashed into a concrete block at a car port.

He is only in fair condition.

"A" group of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Monterey parking lot for a field trip to McKenzie Creek, Thetis Lake Road.

The Nature House at Francis Park will be open on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nature walks will be conducted during the afternoon.

New Westminster water skier Jim Sincow plans to attempt a round-trip crossing from Kitsilano Beach to Oak Bay June 9 to mark the Maritime Festival sponsored by the Captain Vancouver Club. It was announced today.

He expects to water-ski across the strait and back in about four hours.

The Young Peoples Group of Garden City United Church will hold a 99 cent car wash at Burnside Safeway Store, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Seghers CYO will meet in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall to-night at 9.

Nigel Young of London, England, will speak on "Great Britain—Satellite or Leader?" at a meeting of the British Israel Association, Monday at 7 p.m. in Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street.

Victoria Section, Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers will tour an RCN destroyer escort Tuesday to inspect marine electrical and electronic installations.

Members will meet at the in the Sergeants' Mess, Work Point Barracks, at 8 tonight.

SUGAR BATTLE SWEETENS DAY FOR SHOPPERS

A sugar price war in the Victoria area this week has kicked prices down better than 40 cents on 10-pound bags.

The price-cutting started three days ago in several parts of the city and by today had spread to the supermarket chains and a large number of independent stores where sugar was selling at $1.49 for 10 pounds.

Several grocers predicted, however, that the price war would not likely last beyond this weekend since the $1.49 price is 35 cents below the wholesale price to dealers.

The local wholesale price of sugar in Victoria is now "right on the market" after weeks of lagging behind increases set by refiners at Vancouver and in eastern Canada.

Despite this week's local price war in sugar, predictions of higher prices for candy, confections and other high sugar content foods still hold good, according to wholesalers.

Nun Leads Teacher Classes

Public Invited

Annual inspection of 2483 Esquimalt (Princess Patricia's) cadet corps will be held at Work Point Barracks, Sunday at 2 p.m.

Inspecting officer will be Lt. Col. G. G. Brown, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, PPCL. The 85 cadets in the corps will march past in review order, and put on a demonstration drill.

There will be 300 seats available to the public.

Highest marks in Victoria College's faculty of education were won this year by a nun, Sister Linda Marie, of the Sisters of St. Ann, whose final average mark was 86 per cent.

Sister Linda was leader of the second year class.

Mrs. Sheila J. Smith led the graduate one-year program with an 84 per cent average.

Leader of the third year class was Anne Kemp, whose average was 83.3 per cent.

First year-top student was Linda Parfitt, whose average was 80 per cent.

Leader of the graduating class, Mrs. C. J. Breese, was not awarded an average, since she was completing only one course for the degree.

A complete list of first class marks follows.

First year: Linda Parfitt, 80 per cent.

Second year: Sister Linda Marie, 86 per cent; Sister Anne Marie, 82 per cent; Sylvia Mobey, 81.3 per cent; Donna Smyth, 80.7 per cent; Barbara Barton, 80 per cent.

Third year: Anne Kemp, 83.3 per cent; Glenda Keys, 82.2 per cent; Jane Gilliland, 80.3 per cent; Catherine Hatch, 80 per cent.

Fourth year (graduating class): Mrs. C. J. Breese, Joyce Butler; Mrs. N. L. Mickelson. (No average awarded.)

Graduates (one year program): Mrs. Sheila Smith, 84 per cent; Judith Worthington, 80 per cent.

MSI Proposal 'False Hope'

A new medical insurance plan introduced by Medical Service Incorporated was denounced today by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

Mr. Strachan rejected the MSI claim made Thursday, that it would cover anyone in B.C.

He said this was a "false hope."

And he argued, the plan is not new.

MSI President Dr. J. R. Flanagan of Victoria, said the new plan is a province-wide extension of trial offers made in the past two years on a limited basis.

It is aimed at providing two types of coverage to individuals rather than groups with no limit on age or qualification.

The cost, which Dr. Flanagan described as "realistic," is close to that of such existing plans as MSA, CU and C and the government employees medical service scheme, he said.

The so-called new medicare plan put forward by the doctor-sponsored MSI is not a comprehensive medicare plan, Mr. Strachan said.

"NOTHING NEW"

"There are no new principles in the latest proposal," Mr. Strachan said this is at least the third time MSI has held out the false hope of medicare to the people of B.C.

Open enrolment schemes have been announced by MSI as far back as 1960, he said. Dr. Flanagan said Mr. Strachan's statement was "true up to a point."

"We have never ever had a plan any individual off the street could buy," he said.

Open enrolment was offered from 1960 in "selected areas" such as Yale and Victoria for a two-week period of each year only, and "sometimes generally," Dr. Flanagan said.

However these were trials, and audited separately from the general MSI books.

There are two basic MSI plans available:

"Partial coverage" for accidents, surgery, and hospital treatment at a cost of $3.10 a month for an individual, $6.20 for married couple, and $7.70 for a family of three or more.

"Comprehensive coverage,"

Next Move in Gas Up to Independents

Next move in the Victoria gasoline price war seems to be up to the independent private brand retailers.

Imperial Oil, which shuffed prices twice this week—up two cents a gallon Monday and down one cent Thursday—was sitting tight at 39.9 cents a gallon for regular gas. The other major companies, which followed the Imperial lead, were all independent.

The independents—two Pay-N-Save and two Mohawk stations—continued this morning to sell at 38.9 cents a gallon after moving up one cent when Imperial made its two-cent upward swing.

Net result of this week's manoeuvring is that the major companies have achieved a one-cent increase in margin while still holding the independents to a one-cent differential.

Traditionally in gasoline retailing the independents sell at two cents a gallon less than the majors. They claim they need this differential to attract enough volume to make a profit on the lower margin.

However, in Victoria, Imperial has more or less served notice that it will not accept the two-cent difference in prices. Most observers believe that if the independents cut prices another cent, Imperial will also cut by the same amount—putting the price situation right back where it was before last Monday.

Ask The Times

Q. Why is it impossible to procure through local chartered banks, Canadian silver dollars? If they are not for circulation, why are they minted? K. E. T.

A. It is impossible to do this. Bank tellers often have silver dollars in their tills. Local chartered banks can order silver dollars from the Bank of Canada but this is usually done in shipments of 50 to 100.

Today, silver dollars are still in circulation but are not used too much because of their weight.

Princess Wants Her Island Developed 'for the People'

By NORMAN CRIEBENS

Princess Margaret is anxious that the B.C. island named after her should be used "in the best interests of the province," Viscount Amory of Tiverton, British high commissioner to Canada, said here today.

Formerly Portland Island—a mile off Swartz Bay—the property was presented to Princess Margaret by Premier Bennett as a centennial symbol in July, 1958.

"I understand the princess is in touch with your government concerning the future of the island, tall, quiet-spoken Lord Amory told a Times reporter.

"She is anxious that it be used in the best interests of the people of British Columbia. At one time she considered living on the island, but now she is married and has a family, this no longer seems practicable."

Viscount Amory said the matter is one of "some delicacy" between Princess Margaret and the B.C. government. He rejected any suggestion that she regarded the island as a "hollow gift."

"I know she feels it was a most gracious gesture on the part of your government."

Crossing to Swartz Bay in the B.C. government ferry this morning, Viscount Amory met

Premier Bennett and had breakfast with him in a private cabin.

"We had a most interesting talk," he said. "He was most enthusiastic about the Peace River power development and other provincial projects and spoke optimistically of B.C.'s future trade relations with Britain."

Viscount Amory revealed that Britain's unemployment has now fallen to 2.1 per cent of the population—a considerable improvement over the last two months.

"One good sign is that many firms are now advertising for skilled workers of 60 and over. This does not mean they cannot get younger men, but that they have the good sense to appreciate the value and experience of men over 60."

"I know because I am over 60 myself."

Nearing the close of a two-year term as high commissioner to Canada, Viscount Amory will return to Britain next October. His successor will be Sir Henry Lintott, an experienced diplomat.

Student Admits
Attacking Teacher

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Van Hugel, 17, a high school student, pleaded guilty in magistrate's court at nearby Cloverdale today to assault occasioning bodily harm. He was remanded to June 14.

The charge was laid following a classroom altercation Thursday in which teacher Manfred Pohn, 32, was stabbed in the back with a pair of sharp pointed metal dividers.

Pohn was treated in hospital and later released.

'500' Winner
In Fist Fight

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A controversy over Thursday's 500 mile Indianapolis Speedway race triggered a motel fist fight today between winner Parnelli Jones and Eddie Sachs, who claimed his car spun out because of oil spilled by Jones' car.

About 75 persons witnessed the brief fight.

Sugar Price Drops

WINNIPEG (CP)—City retailers today announced a six-cent drop in the price of sugar, cutting the cost of a 10-pound bag to $1.83.

It was the first drop in the consumer price since last October's start of a long series of increases which nearly doubled the retail price.

Van Pelt Quits

WINNIPEG (CP)—Jim Van Pelt, a former football star with the Western Conference Winnipeg Blue Bombers, said today his playing days are over.

He ended Bomber hopes of a comeback in a long-distance telephone interview with the Winnipeg Tribune from Washington, where he is stationed with the air force.

Ruling Upheld

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec Court of Appeal today upheld a lower court ruling compelling Hal C. Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.), to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for ignoring an injunction against picketing an Upper Lakes Shipping Limited vessel at Trois-Rivières, Que., last year.

MIKE ON SUGAR

Provinces Must Take Action

OTTAWA (CP)—Peacetime price control is a provincial matter beyond the powers of the federal Parliament, Prime Minister Pearson said today under Commons questioning about sugar-price increases.

Mr. Pearson said that persons desiring controls on sugar prices should get in touch with their provincial governments.

Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp said he believes the current international sugar agreement—which he helped establish—lacks protection for the consumer against price fluctuations.

The Canadian government is prepared to attempt to rectify this, he said.

QUESTIONED BY DOUGLAS

Leader T. C. Douglas of the New Democrats asked the prime minister what steps had been taken to "prevent profiteering at the expense of the consumers."

Mr. Pearson repeated the Thursday statement by Mr. Sharp that Canadian sugar supplies are normal and are expected to remain so.

No evidence has arisen, he said, of any price increase due to a sugar combine or a monopoly. The cause for increases was the high world price.

There was a general world shortage of sugar.

PROBLEMS AHEAD

B.C. Premier
Holds Key
To ColumbiaBy ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The federal government is concerned that false hopes for a quick solution to problems in the way of Columbia River development may be building up in the public mind.

Spokesmen here view with some alarm the easy optimism expressed last week by B.C. Premier Bennett when he announced he would be meeting with Prime Minister Pearson on June 3—next Monday—to talk about the Columbia project.

The Liberal administration feels that Mr. Bennett is the key to the achievement of success in clearing away roadblocks confronting the big development. He can lend considerable weight to his own optimism, reliable informants say, but only if he agrees to the federal government's prescription for a cure of Columbia ills.

Preliminary to Later Talks

Monday's Pearson-Bennett meeting is not expected to really solve anything. It will be a preliminary to later and more detailed discussions between engineering and financial experts of the two governments.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Agreement has been reached settling the racial dispute over alleged job discrimination on public school projects, it was learned today.

As the negotiators worked in a downtown hotel, however, police and pickets clashed in the area of a $6,000,000 school construction project. At least 20 persons, including eight policemen, were reported injured.

The fighting started when police escorted some 80 to 100 workers into the school construction project.

Chan Meets
Immigration Officials

VANCOUVER (CP)—Weldon Chan got a smile, hand shake and the promise of a permit for freedom in Canada when he turned himself over to immigration officers here today.

Ray Corbett, district admissions supervisor, told Chan that the permit, granting a 12-month extension on a visitor's visa, would be sent him when it arrives from Ottawa.

It was Chan's first encounter with immigration men since hiding 3½ years ago to escape a deportation order. The meeting took only a minute.

Swiftsure
Not So Sure
To Be Swift

By MONTE ROBERTS

Huddled together in the Inner Harbor tonight, 71 sailboats will present a brilliant picture to the thousands of spectators expected at the traditional Swiftsure Eve ceremonies which preface the ocean yacht racing classic, scheduled for a 9:30 a.m. start Saturday.

And it is highly likely all 71 skippers will huddle together, too, chanting in unison: "Say it ain't so, Bill Mackie."

Not even the skippers of the smallest Swiftsure contenders like the weekend forecast which official weatherman Mackie reluctantly produced today, as part of his special Swiftsure service.

Today's early winds are expected to die tonight, he says. Winds at starting time Saturday will be in the 10-15-mile-per-hour range, from the south-east (not too bad), increasing in the afternoon to 25-mile westerlies (good, good), then falling off Saturday night and most of Sunday to very light (ugh).

"If only once," sighed Mr. Mackie in editorial comment, "we could have a straightforward, easy forecast Swiftsure weekend, with lots and lots of winds."

Off and Running at 9:30

So say all, but, barring a dead calm, 63 AA, A, BB, and B class yachts will be off and (hopefully) running at the 9:30 starting gun, after warnings guns at 9:20 and 9:25.

They'll be followed at 9:45 by eight little C Class boats, ranging in size from 25 to 30 feet, who will conduct their own, shorter race, to Clallam Bay and return—still a test of open ocean racing and a challenge to sailing skill.

All classes will cross a starting line drawn between Brothie Ledge, off the Ogden Point breakwater, and the official starting vessel, to the southeast.

The bigger boats will race 68 miles outward to round the frigate HMCS Beacon Hill, anchored above Swiftsure shoals, then sail 68.2 miles to the finish line, between the CNR docks at Ogden Point and McLoughlin Point.

Time limit is 50 hours. If no boat finishes within that time, first boat to reach the Beacon Hill will be adjudged winner in each class.

'Passing Away'
Vatican Says

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican radio said at 10:30 p.m. Rome time, that the Pope has "entered into agony"—the last throes of death.

"He suffers no more," the Vatican radio said. "He is passing away."

By BENNETT M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A sudden relapse put Pope John XXIII near death today.

Roman Catholic prelates administered the communion viaticum and extreme unction, the sacraments for persons in danger of dying.

Vatican sources said the Pope was suffering pain and was having difficulty with his speech.

A press office announcement at 6:45 p.m. (10:45 a.m., PDT) said there had been a further deterioration in the Pope's condition from that of earlier in the day.

As his condition worsened, a Vatican source said, the Pope prayed to himself.

One of the Pope's doctors, Piero Mazzoni of Rome, was quoted as saying: "It can be a matter of hours—or of days."

That pronouncement was relayed to reporters by Raimondo Manzini, director of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, after an afternoon visit to the sickroom. Manzini was in tears.

"The pope is grave, very grave," the Vatican radio announced. "The new crisis is most grave."

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of the world's 500,000,000 Roman Catholics, who had appeared to be making a strong comeback from a near-fatal crisis Tuesday, was reported falling rapidly.

It was a situation that he has regarded serenely.

"Don't worry too much about me," he told his chief physician Professor Antonio Gasbarrini, on Gasbarrini's departure Thursday for his home in Bologna. "The bags are packed and I am ready, in fact very ready, to go."

Gasbarrini was recalled from Bologna to assist physicians already on the scene when the emergency developed today.

There was an unconfirmed report that an oxygen tent had been set up for the Pope.

Some rumors circulated in Rome that the Pope had died shortly after noon, and then were denied at the Vatican press office. It said he was alive, but "very" bad.

The Vatican press office earlier disclosed that the Pope had actually asked for extreme unction two days ago, saying: "Let us not hide the gravity of the facts."

But he was rallying then and it was not given.

Manzini said the Pope followed the rite today, and then asked Msgr. Cavagna to remain with him.

The editor added that the Pope repeated to Msgr. Cavagna his statement of last Tuesday in which he offered his life for his ecumenical council, the church and peace.

Referring specifically to the council, Manzini said, the Pope spoke of the council fathers and said he was sure the council work would be concluded.

ECM Divided
Over Britain

BRUSSELS (AP)—The European Common Market failed today to agree on how to work together with Britain.

France and the other five members clashed sharply on what kind of discussions should be held between representatives of the Common Market and Britain.

It will be taken up again at the next meeting of top cabinet ministers from the six countries, but no date for that was set.

West Germany and four other nations wanted a system under which Britain and the Common Market could co-ordinate their economic policies, hoping for the day when Britain could become a member. French President de Gaulle's veto.

DOUGLAS QUESTIONS DEFENCE MOVE

He Knew Gun Was Loaded

OTTAWA (CP)—Will nuclear warheads on the Bomarc's be simply the wedge for later establishment of American ICBM bases on Canadian soil?

New Democratic Party Leader T. C. Douglas posed this politically-loaded question in the Commons Thursday night as the House debated Prime Minister Pearson's motion to set up an all-party defence committee.

He quoted the former army chief of staff, Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, as saying that the real reason for Bomarc nuclear warheads is to establish the principle of U.S. nuclear bases in Canada.

Mr. Douglas said he suspects Canada eventually will be asked to station offensive missiles in this country, on the theory that the anti-bomber Bomarc is useless and the continent can be defended only by ICBMs capable of knocking out missile bases in Russia.

Mr. Douglas and other opposition spokesmen were full of questions they said they will want answered in the committee. In fact, the questions flowed so freely that the resolution still had not been passed when the day's debate ended at the 10 p.m. EDT adjournment.

The issue will be sidetracked today as the House digs into a previously-scheduled debate on a government motion seeking an interim money supply for June and July—the spending authority it needs for that period, pending passage of the estimates.

Mr. Pearson said the 24-member committee could look into defence policy—even make recommendations on policy if it

Water Supplied to Beach Camp

The drought at Long Beach will soon be over, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood promised today.

There has been no fresh water for the 90 camp units since they were opened last year. Campers had to drive to the nearby airport for water.

Mr. Westwood said B.C. has been trying to negotiate with the federal government for a joint waterworks project to serve both the park and the airport.

Although this idea hasn't been abandoned, the well will be in operation this summer as a temporary measure, he said.

Mr. Westwood also said the parks branch is trying to work out some way to stop people racing cars along the beach, cause of a number of complaints from campers and other visitors.

The department may post warning signs, but policing may have to be left to local forces in Tofino and Ucluelet.

Diefenbaker in Disfavor?

MONTREAL (CP) — The Gazette says the Progressive Conservative party soon may seek a new national leader to succeed John Diefenbaker.

The newspaper says in a story from Ottawa that it has learned plans have been made to hold the party's annual meeting in January and delegates "will participate in decisions bearing on the future of the party."

"Should the annual meeting endorse the project, this would be followed with a minimum of delay by a full leadership convention."

The story says the big question mark is the intention of Mr. Diefenbaker.

"Influential backers of the plan, convinced that a change in leadership is essential, are mildly hopeful that Mr. Diefenbaker will retire gracefully to the sidelines to make room for a successor."

"Indeed, it is an open secret that many Conservative MPs elected to this Parliament had expected that he would announce his retirement shortly after the close of a valiant campaign which postponed the disintegration of the party and contributed handsomely to the election of 96 Conservatives."

The newspaper says the party is "close to bankruptcy" and "given the present state of confidence in the party's leadership by businessmen large and small there is little chance that the party's war chest can be filled to a respectable level in the foreseeable future."

It adds that supporters of a leadership change have not settled on a successor.

It says Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba is "an obvious possibility" but also mentions former finance minister Donald Fleming; David Fulton, former justice minister who now leads the Conservatives in British Columbia; former transport minister.

$200,000 Grab

LYON, France (AP)—Two gunmen escaped today with a truck assembly plant payroll which a plant spokesman estimated at 1,000,000 francs ($200,000). They shot and wounded a bank messenger who was delivering the money to the Berliet Truck Co.

Argentina Violence Followed by Strike

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—After riotous demonstrations, Peronist labor unions launched a 24-hour general strike today to press for government action to ease unemployment.

The strike, aimed at paralyzing the troubled country, was called by the 2,500,000-member General Confederation of Labor to climax a week of protest. The confederation is dominated by followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now in exile in Spain.

collar workers have agreed to support the strike, which threatened to slow public transportation to a crawl.

Unions promised to keep skeleton crews manning utilities, hospitals, long distance telephones, airport control towers and other essential installations.

The strike began at midnight after a day of violence in which federal police used tear gas and high pressure water on about 12,000 marching workers. Half-a-dozen demonstrators were reported slightly injured.
